He gives an instance of German steel in this particular, saying it is selling cheaper in England than the English manufacturer can possibly produce it for. Mr. Balfour declares that the optimists who advocate a continuance of a free trade policy in spite of the injury worked by protection on Great Britain's interests are foolish and their arguments little short of reckless. The only possible hope of a mitigation the evil is through negotiation, which he says can only apeal to self-inter est in foreign protected countries, and in the case of the colonies to self-interest coupled with sentiment. Mr. concludes:

burning question of the moment. The most striking feature of Mr. Balfour's pamphlet is that from beginning to end it does not refer to Mr. Chamberlain's proposals.

There is not a word about the threatened breaking up of the empire or preferential tariffs, and the colonies are scarcely mentioned. On the contrary, the whole line of Mr. Balfour's reasoning is oposed to tarbellangure of the contrary, the whole line of Mr. Balfour's reasoning is oposed to tarbellangure of ether saloon mentions. Hence Mr. Chamberlain is faced with the alternative of either abandoning preferential tariffs or prosecuting his preferential tariffs or prosecuting his operations. The sum disbursed on the wage roll was $23,to do their worst, stating that his supply of beer for a year in advance has been contracted for, and that he can stand any kind of a slege that may be inaugurated. Jacobs says perhaps the most permanent victory, for free trade was won when rather on national than on economic grounds interstate tariffs were forbidden in the United States."

At present matters are in statu quo, and the issue is being watched with interest by those who visit the saloon occasionally or otherwise for refreshment in the beer line.

IN HYMEN'S BONDS.

Rev. R. F. Stillman, pastor of the Methodist church, celebrated the ceremony. The bride was charmingly attired in pink satin and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Lottle Boyd. The groom was accompanied by Frank L. Boyd, brother of the bride and a member of the fire department. Following the ceremony, the bridal party repaired to the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Edward Maston, Earl street, where supper was served to a party of intimate friends and an hour or so passed in the exchange of felicitations characteristic of the happy occasion. Next week Mr. and Mrs. Graham leave on a visit to Spokane On their return they will reside in the house west of the skating rink formerly occupied by Mr. Griffith, shift boss at the Josie mine.

The participants in the happy event are well known and highly esteemed in Rossland and will have the hearty wishes of many friends for a long and happy wedded life.
