There is no doubt but that a sufficient amount of iron is consumed in the Dominion to keep these works running steadily. We have always been in favor of protecting a natural industry. Our iron industry is emphatically a natural one—much more so than either the manufacture of sugar or cotton, as we have the raw material at home. If the iron manufactured at Lond Randolph Churchill subsequently held a conference with Lord Randolph Churchill subsequently held a conference with Lord Salisbury, and also the cook house connected with the Amos lobster factory.
