

The splendid holiday bill at the Savoy, which has been attracting record business all week, played to capacity at both performances yesterday. Bob Fitzsimmons, who is the chief attraction, appearing with his wife, Julia May Gifford, in an exceptionally pleasing little sketch, was greeted with a storm of applause that testified better than anything else to the place the ex-champion still holds on public affection. The enthusiasm that some of the other big stars of vaudeville might arouse is equalled when Lanky Bob dons the gloves, to give a bag punching exhibition. When at the close he breaks the cord with one terrific smash and sends the bag flying into the gallery, the feat is greeted with another enthusiastic outburst, that only subsides when Fitz appears before the footlights and makes a speech. His wife is a charming singer, and her numbers yesterday were repeatedly encored. The seventy-five pound midget, who is the feature of the Georgetty's acrobatic act, does quite the most remarkable routine of hand-to-hand work that has ever been seen here. One of the best feats is a throw from the basket hold into a hand-to-hand stand, after a "one-and-a-half" forward somersault. A series of spectacular leaps into handstands, and the eight-foot leap at the finish, assisted in a single hand-to-hand stand, aroused the audiences yesterday to an unusual demonstration of approval. John Birch scored a sound laughing hit with his "hat" melodrama. Mr. Birch is always funny. He does not polish his comedy up, but gives it as it is, and the pleasing effect is the greater for that reason. Edward McWade and Margaret May have a bright and amusing sketch, and the rest of the bill will compare favorably with the best the Savoy has shown yet. For next week the management announces the appearance of the Quaker City Quartette, one of the best known and most popular singing organizations in vaudeville.

"The Fatal Flower" To-night.

"The Fatal Flower," by Howard Hall, will be presented for the first time in this city at the Grand to-night and to-morrow night, with a particularly strong cast, headed by the two well-known stars, William Walcott and Florence Rossland. Mr. Hall has provided a plot of unusual brilliance, the theme being the charm of novelty; in addition to which a counter theme is masterfully interwoven, all the characters being guided through an atmosphere of absolute naturalness, acting as everyday sort of people, no character being overdrawn. The scenery equipment is elaborate and appropriate, while the character of the play dress in a manner quite in keeping with the richness and brilliancy of the surroundings. Refinement is manifested everywhere, and each character of the play partakes largely of this environment.

To Preserve Records.

Paris, Dec. 25.—There was an unique ceremony this afternoon in the subterranean passages of the opera house. It consisted of depositing in a specially prepared vault a talking machine and a number of discs bearing records of the voices of the greatest singers of the twentieth century. C. Tamagno, Caruso, Scotti, Plancon, Delucia, Patti, Melba, Calve and others are reported in the selections. The discs are in double boxes, each separate from the other. Neither light nor air can penetrate the coverings, and it is believed that the voice can thus be preserved for a century. At the end of a hundred years they will be opened, and the people of that age will have the opportunity of hearing voices of this age and of seeing machines as manufactured yesterday.

Pittsburg Orchestra's Trouble.

Pittsburg, Dec. 25.—So badly has Pittsburg society snubbed Wladislaw Wyganowski, recently appointed by Emil Paur concert master of the Pittsburg Orchestra, that he will be forced to resign. The snubbing is due to the fact that Wyganowski was, up to a short time ago, merely the leader of the orchestra at a local hotel which the real upper crust of the Smoky City does not patronize, or at least is not supposed to patronize.

There was a great blare of trumpets when Wyganowski came here at the beginning of the season. It was announced that he had just been brought from Vienna by Paur, where the conductor "discovered" him.

Society went wild over him until some one recognized in the new concertmaster the former leader of an orchestra in a downtown hotel.

From that moment the troubles of Wyganowski began.

At Bennett's Theatre.

The sight of the crowded houses at Bennett's at both performances yesterday was enough to gladden the hearts of manager and actresses. There was an air of gaiety around, while the reception of each act was very warm. The bill this week contains a merry bunch of assorted acts, such as will please the most particular tastes for vaudeville. The headliner, Patrice, has proved herself a splendid drawing card. Her act apart from being appropriate to the season of the year, is well conceived and embellished with some fine scenic effects. The comedy powers of Patrice find plenty of scope in her role of the picture of the seventeenth century grand dame which comes to life to effect the reformation of an erring modern young man. The actress' vivacity, grace of pose, and soft and melodious voice have won her a reputation here which has never been surpassed. Mack and Worthley are a lively couple and their act, to use a slang term, "gets the audience going." Dixon Brothers musical act is a clever exhibition of accordion, xylophone, Japanese flutes and guitar playing and is a deservedly popular number in the show. The Five Madcaps are a sprightly bunch and show an unusual amount of enthusiasm in their work. Joe Flynn has added new feathers to his cap and has repeated his former success here. He has about the best time of monologue talk that has been heard here, while his songs are new and amusing. The Country Choir is now singing in excellent voice and has made a rare hit, old-time songs being always encored. Burns and Burns' grotesqueness is the right sort to make the people laugh and the wire rope walk extraordinary at the end of the act is as sensational as the fat man's entrance in a tub from the wings. The three films shown on the Bennettograph are tingling with excitement.

Tragedy Next Week.

Henry Ludlowe, a distinguished tragedian, supported by a very capable company of players, and using all the elaborate scenic effects, costumes, properties and accessories of the late Richard Mansfield, will appear at the Grand Opera House next Monday and Tuesday evening in "Richard III," and "The Merchant of Venice." Mr. Ludlowe has had the hard practical training of the Booth, Barrett, McCullough and Keene Companies, and his portrayal of this role is said to be scholarly in study and conception and technically masterful to such an extent as to challenge the highest admiration. He is a man of powerful physique, with a clear, well modulated voice and well ordered gestures combined with the virtues of earnestness, the fruits of years of careful study and an intelligent conception of Shakespearian characters. The players selected have gained distinction in the Shakespearian School of well-known tragedians. The sale of seats commences to-morrow morning.

Between the Acts.

The attraction at the Grand on Saturday afternoon and evening will be Al. Martin's celebrated production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." This has been seen here several times and is known to be the best "Uncle Tom's Cabin" shown on the road. Seats are now on sale.

The famous Elinore sisters will be one of the New Year's offerings at Bennett's. The act is a combination of fine singing and dancing and is considered the finest in its line in vaudeville.

That pretty romance, "His Last Day," will be the attraction at the Grand New Year's matinee and night. The piece concerns Joe Braxton, who has followed life as a jockey, cowboy and ranch owner, and finally enters the Mecca of Wall street.

The Grand played to capacity at both performances yesterday. The bill was the pleasing comedy, "Mrs. Temple's Telegram."

The west is experiencing the coldest weather of the winter the temperature having taken a sudden drop on Tuesday night.

WORTH SAVING.

VALUABLE PRESCRIPTION AND HOW TO PREPARE IT AT HOME.

This is a message that will bring happiness again to many families and sunshine into the lives of hundreds of disheartened and discouraged men and women here. It requires just a little inconvenience, for it can't be bought already prepared. It is a simple home recipe now being made known in all the larger cities through the newspapers. It is intended to check the many cases of rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble which have made so many cripples and invalids and weaklings of some of our brightest and strongest people.

The druggists have been notified to supply themselves with the ingredients and the sufferer will have no trouble to obtain them. The prescription is as follows: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce and Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle. The dose is one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Recent experiments, even in severe hospital cases, prove this simple mixture the remedy for Rheumatism, the cure of its positive action upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys. It compels these most vital organs to filter from the blood and system the waste impurities and uric acid which are the cause of rheumatism. It cleans the kidneys, strengthens them and removes quickly such symptoms as backache, blood disorders, bladder weakness, frequent urination, painful, scalding and discolored urine. It acts as a powerful stimulant to the entire kidney and bladder structure, puts new life into them and invigorates the entire tract. It makes the kidneys clean the blood. The Dandelion will take care of liver trouble and constipation, and is fine for the stomach.

All the ingredients, states a well-known local druggist, are of vegetable extraction, making it a safe and harmless prescription for all ages.

Those who suffer and are accustomed to purchase a bottle of patent medicine should not let a little inconvenience interfere with making up this prescription. Wherever this becomes generally known, states a large eastern publisher, it ruins the sale of the patent medicines and so-called rheumatism and kidney cures, which is its best endorsement of virtue.

ASHOKAN DAM FRAUDS.

New York's Water Commissioners Will Be Removed.

New York, Dec. 25.—As a result of the investigation made by the commissioners of accounts into the award of the contract for the construction of the Ashokan dam, a part of the city's new water supply system, the Board of Water Commissioners will be removed by Mayor McEllan unless his action is forestalled by their resignations. The water commissioners, Edward Simmons, Chas. N. Chadwick and Charles N. Shaw, awarded the Ashokan contract to MacArthur Brothers Company, whose bid was $12,669,755 against $10,315,530 bid for the work by the John Pierce Company.

WHAT "LID" DID IN ST. LOUIS.

Sunday Law Enforcement Causes 700 Saloons to Quit Business.

St. Louis, Dec. 25.—Thomas E. Mulvihill, State Excise Commissioner, gives out a statement showing the effect of the enforcement of the Sunday closing statute in this city. Commissioner Mulvihill says that 300 more St. Louis saloons will close when their licenses expire Jan. 1, making 700 saloons driven out of business here in three years by the enforcement of the Sunday closing law. He says that 250 bid lifting clubs, which sprang up to replace Sunday closed saloons have also been closed, only twenty-five now remaining.

One thousand five hundred of the 2,300 saloons here, he says, are not paying investments in the removal of card tables, betting rings and wine rooms as the result of the rigid enforcement of the statutes.

Berlin, Dec. 25.—Prince Leopold, the aged Prince Regent of Bavaria, yesterday sprained his arm while feeding ducks in Nymphenburg Park, near Munich. According to despatches from the Bavarian Castle the accident was due to the farthest duck away from him.

The pain of the sprain was so severe that his Royal Highness passed a sleepless night and had several fainting fits. On account of his great age—eighty-six—the accident inspires a certain amount of anxiety. His condition is now declared to be fully satisfactory.

MORGAN WILL CASE.

A Remarkable Action Settled by Chancellor Boyd at Cobourg.

Cobourg, Dec. 25.—A case that was the first of its kind ever tried in a Canadian court came before Chancellor Sir John Boyd. It arose out of the will of the late Matthew Morgan, of Cramahe township, by the provisions of which his whole estate was given to Mr. Thomas Webb, of Brighton village, with the exception of a small legacy to a niece, Mrs. Arnott, and another small legacy to the Catholic church in Brighton.

After Mr. Morgan's death the will was attacked in the Surrogate Court by Mr. J. B. McColl, the executor of a former will, on the grounds of undue influence, mental incapacity, etc., but the decision in the Surrogate Court upheld Mr. Webb. Mr. George Arnott, a niece of deceased, then claimed the whole estate from Mr. Webb under a secret trust in her favor, which Mr. Webb denied.

At the conclusion of the trial his Lordship suggested a settlement between the parties dividing the estate, which was finally agreed upon. The evidence offered was very contradictory.

Yellow Fever Gone.

St. Thomas, D. W. I., Dec. 25.—The health authorities at Bridgetown, Barbadoes, where a number of deaths from yellow fever occurred in November, have resumed the issuance of clean bills of health to vessels departing from that port.

UNEMPLOYED WAITER'S CRIME.

Shot Manager and Head Waiter When Refused a Job.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 24.—William Patena, a waiter, formerly employed in Horn & Hardart's restaurant at Ninth and Filbert streets, entered the place to-day, and after being refused a position shot John C. Wilcher, the manager, and Frank Rossman, the head waiter. Both were taken to a hospital, where they were said to be in a serious condition. Patena also aimed two shots at the cashier, but both went wild. He then placed the revolver to his head in an effort at suicide, but the weapon failed to explode. Fifty persons were in the restaurant at the time. Patena was overpowered and turned over to a policeman.

The estimated cost of the hotel is $2,300,000, and with the furnishings it will represent $2,500,000, on land worth $2,500,000.

The hotel will have 1,170 rooms.

DUTCH CABINET RESIGNS.

Its Army Estimates Defeated in Second Chamber.

The Hague, Dec. 25.—The Dutch Cabinet, the Council of Ministers comprising nine members, by whom the executive authority of the Government is administered, today presented its resignation. It is thought that the dissolution of Parliament is likely to follow.

The resignation of the Cabinet is due to the defeat of the army estimates in the second Chamber of Parliament. The Opposition in the discussion of these estimates contended that the efficiency of the Dutch army was not proportionate to its cost. The Clericals, who are opposed to the Government's plans for universal suffrage, are pleased over the situation created by the Cabinet's resignation, as they prefer that the expected general election which is to follow should be fought out on the military issue rather than on universal suffrage.

FIRST SHAVE IN 53 YEARS.

And When He Went Home Wife and Children Didn't Know Him.

Lodi, O., Dec. 25.—A Christmas gift of a peek at his face, enshrouded by whiskers for 53 years, was the donation of Martin Overs, aged 70, of this village, to his wife and seven children. He had a three foot and a half growth of whiskers, about which he had displayed great pride for years, shaved off to-day, and went home with a great muffer wrapped about his countenance, fearing the cold.

Mrs. Overs almost collapsed from fright as he strode into the house. She did not recognize him till he spoke. Overs shaved for two years as a youth, but no razor had touched his cheek since he was 17 years old.

WANT UNION DISSOLVED.

Mine Owners Claim It is Promoting Anarchy and Murder.

Goldfield, Nev., Dec. 25.—To carry the fight into the Federal court will be the next move of the Goldfield Mine Owners' Association. To-morrow a suit will be filed here asking not only for an injunction against picketing and interfering with, but for the final dissolution of the Goldfield Miners' Union. The suit is to be filed by the Goldfield Consolidated Mine Company.

The Goldfield Union is charged in the bill with "intimidation," and of being guilty of "wanton destruction of property, murder of innocent citizens, lawlessness and anarchy to such an extent that it has instituted a reign of terror in the Goldfield district."
