taining himself in the air, and even travelling with great rapidity through it. Probably, he adds, it will be much easier for him to sustain himself while traveling rapidly onward than while hovering over the same spot. :

There is apparently some mistake in the despatch from Sydney, N. S. W., published in the papers last week stating that Champion Hanlan had sailed for New York. Mrs. Hanlan stated Tuesday that a week before the despatch was printed she received a letter from her husband stating that he had three engagements in the shape of matches still. on, and it would be late in the year before he would sail for England, not for New York direct. There is either a mistake or the champion has suddenly can-celled all his antipodean engagements.
