CHURCH POINT, July 31, '08.
Blacking & Mercantile Co.'y, Ltd., Amherst, N.S.
Dear Sirs,—Nearly one year ago I had my first order of "Mathieu's Syrup" from you. It was not known in this country, and I gave samples to several families whom I knew would use it. After a few weeks I began to have a call for it, and trade has increased wonderfully since. I have not the least doubt but that it will soon be the best selling remedy for coughs, colds, etc., on the market. In my store here sales are good and our people ask for it. Several stores in this country now keep it in stock and report sales increasing. I have bought from you since August 16th, 1907, 4 Gross and have only 3 dozen on hand at this date, and which I am holding for retail trade in my store. Yours truly,
LOUIS A. McLANSON.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

If there is one brand of foolishness in a man that is more egregious than any other I think it is the foolishness of the man who doesn't tell the one girl that he loves her because he thinks she must know by intuition.

There is no doubt but that the women have no remarkable intuition, but when it's a question of marriage most women are building their plans for the future on some sounder foundation than intuition.

I have often heard it stated that when a man gets to the point of proposing the woman has long known that he intended to.

Perhaps she does know, but I fancy she also knows he is going to sometimes when he doesn't do it.

Maybe a woman does have an intuition as to a man's feeling for her, but I guess it's apt to be an intuition that shows up better in the recollection after he has told her those feelings than it does at any other time.

The joke mongers are always poking fun at the woman who says, "This is so sudden," but I fancy there are plenty of women who could say it in all seriousness. "This is so sudden; I had a pretty good idea you felt that way, but I had about given up expecting you'd say so."

And, furthermore, I have no sort of use for the man who absorbs a large part of a woman's time, pays her continual attention, gives her every chance and reason to fall in love with him, but doesn't speak because he isn't in a position to marry her yet.

That's all very well. He needn't marry her yet. If she cares for him and is any sort of a woman she will be willing to wait. But surely it will do no harm to anyone for her to know while she is waiting that he cares for her.

There was a girl in our town who grew thin and wan and actually aged just twice as fast as she naturally would have, wondering and questioning herself and having an intuition that he did and then feeling sure he didn't, while the man she loved was serving up one of those silent courtships.

Of course he must have suffered some doubt too, but he always knew that if his doubts became unendurable, or if a rival appeared, he could speak while she had no such consolation.

And, any way, I don't believe men have the doubts women do. To the average man it appears quite probable and natural that the right girl should fall in love with him. To the average woman that the right man should love her appears more in the light of a possibility.

As Ellnor Glynn says, "It does not matter what the size of a man is, his vanity is just the same. A shrimp of five foot is unable to understand why a lovely goddess does not drop like a ripe peach into his mouth."

But to return to the girl who grew thin. One day after the courtship had ended in the proper way to everybody's relief she was telling me about it. "Jim wouldn't say a word about caring for me until he could give me the right kind of a home," she said. "Wasn't he splendid?"

Of course I said he was, but I didn't think so.

At least not in that matter. No any of his ilk that expect women to know by intuition when they are loved.

Quite the contrary.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and a clean, healthy system. The man who is clean in this way will look it and set it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is an unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and cleans, healthy flesh.

It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe. Easy to take as candy.

The Earth.

(The "Morning Post," London.)
What is the probability that our career as a planet should be brought to an end by some collision which would whelm the solar system in unremorseful clouds of rolling fire? Professor T. C. Chamberlain in an address on a "Geologic Forecast of the Future Opportunities of Our Race," attempted some answer to such a question, prefacing it by the observation that the deadliness of these boisterous catastrophes impresses itself unduly on the emotions—the real peril, if peril there be, lies in the deadly unbalancing of agencies of the quiet sort. For example, a small proportion of carbon dioxide is essential to plant life and to animal life, while a large proportion would be fatal to air-breathing animals. If the three or four hundredths of one per cent. now present were lost, all life would go with it; if it were increased to a few per cent. the higher life would be suppressed or radically changed. And yet, on the one hand, the theoretical sources of supply are abundant, while, on the other, the agencies of depletion are efficient and active. There is little escape from the conclusion that ever since the birth of air-breathing life, some 30,000,000 or 40,000,000 years ago, let us say, the interplay of these agencies of supply and depletion has been so balanced that neither fatal excess nor fatal deficiency has been permitted to curtail the history of the higher life. Similarly any conspicuous alteration in the amount of heat received by the sun would have disastrous consequences. But to return to the question of collision with another star or another solar system.

The motions of the stars lie in diverse directions, and collisions are close approaches between them, or even inevitable. There are also in the heavens nebulae and other forms of scattered matter which may likewise offer possibilities of collision. The appearance of new stars flashing out suddenly and then dying away, suggests the actual occurrence of such events. It has even been conceived that the close approach of the sun to one another is one of the regenerative processes by which old planetary systems are dispersed and a new system brought into being—like the Phoenix from the ashes. However, this may be, it must be conceived that there are possibilities, if not probabilities, of ultimate disaster to the solar system. The vital question is the time element. How imminent is the possibility? Nothing but rough computations based on assumptions can be made, but these make disaster to a given sun or system fall on the average only once in a billion of years. There is no star whose nearness to us, or whose direction of motion is such as to threaten the earth as a planet, and while perhaps previous to that end conditions inhospitable to life may be reached, the forecast of these contingencies places the event in the indeterminate future. The geologic analogies give fair ground for anticipating conditions congenial to life for millions or tens of millions of years to come, not to urge the even larger possibilities.

That Old Winter Cough.

The Cough Syrup You've Taken Have Sickened But Not Cured You.

You'll Never Be Well Till You Heal the Lungs With "Catarrhazone."

Nothing pulls down strength, makes you wretched, miserable and despondent like a chronic cough. The old-fashioned liquid mixtures slip down the throat, enter the stomach and do little else but ruin digestion.

Catarrhazone is the only breathable cold, catarrh and cough medicine. Instead of taking drowsy drugs, chloral, morphine and opium mixtures, you simply inhale the richest pine balsams, breathe into your lungs the healing, soothing vapor of a scientific remedy that commands the admiration of all good physicians.

The extraordinary efficacy of Catarrhazone is without a parallel. A sneezing cold is cured in ten minutes, a harsh cough is eased in an hour, the most offensive catarrh is thoroughly drawn from the system. In case of asthma and bronchitis the relief and certain cure that comes from the healing balsamic extracts in Catarrhazone is simply wonderful.

"For more than twenty years I suffered with a cough, bronchitis, asthma and nasal catarrh," writes J. E. Fenwick, of Staunton, P.O. "Every attack I had seemed to grow worse and I could hardly breathe on account of an accumulation of phlegm in the nose and throat. One day I tried Catarrhazone and in ten minutes was wonderfully relieved. I could breathe freely and naturally through the nose, and blood spitting was stopped—the phlegm was cleared away and my regular breathing restored. No remedy can do more than 'Catarrhazone.'"

There is no remedy so certain and safe as Catarrhazone, but being a good remedy it is imitated. Beware of the substitute! Large Catarrhazone one last two months, price $1.00, smaller sizes 25c. and 50c. All reliable dealers or the Catarrhazone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, at dinner in New York, defended the customs officials of the port.

"These intelligent young men," he said, "in a difficult position conduct themselves admirably. The stories are also that make them out to be brutal and indelicate. If it were Turkey you would see the same thing."

"In the days before Batoum fell to Russia," he resumed, "a sailor in an English ship lying in Batoum harbor went ashore and bought himself a pair of trousers. He put the trousers on. His old ones were quite worn out, and he told the dealer to throw them away. Then he started forth to the street proudly.

"Soon he met a group of customs officials. They stopped him, and their chief said:

"'Those are new trousers you've got on?'"

"'Yes,' said the sailor. 'I just bought them.'"

"'Then,' said the customs chief, 'you must pay duty on them.'"

"'But I've got no money left,' said the sailor. And this was true. His last copper had gone to pay the shopman's bill.

"'No money?' cried the chief. 'That's very bad for you, then. You'll have to leave the trousers with us in that case.'"

"'But I've got nothing in under them,' objected the sailor.

"'Never mind; we don't look,' said the chief, and his men all repeated that there was no fear—they would one of them look.

"'But other people may look,' shouted the desperate sailor.

"The officials shrugged their shoulders.

"'That,' said 'is no concern of ours.'"

"'And so the poor sailor was forced, willy nilly, to leave his purchase behind and to gallop to his ship as best he could, making up in speed what he lacked in drapery.'"

Kidney Suffering

Backaches and tired feelings tell of weak kidney action—Prompt relief by using DR. A. W. CHASE'S KIDNEY AND LIVER PILLS

There is no treatment for kidney disease which will afford you relief so quickly as Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills, and none which will so certainly cure the most complicated forms of this disease.

There is a reason for this. Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills awaken the action of the liver and bowels as well as the kidneys and thereby effect a thorough cleansing and regulating of the excretory system.

Mr. S. J. Arque, Kars, Carleton, Co., Ont., writes:—"I have suffered a great deal with kidney troubles and pains in the small of the back and have tried a good many remedies without obtaining very much benefit. I wish to say, however, that I can heartily recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as a splendid medicine as they have proven of very great value to me."

Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edman, Bates & Co., Toronto. Refuse substitutes.
