Words of Appreciation.

The amount of money remitted for the cost of the two Aeroplanes was $21,706.20. The amount sent for the Royal Nfld. Aeroplane was over $7,000. The balance of cash in the hands of Mr. J. A. Cliff, the Treasurer of the Fund is over $21,000. In all over Fifty Thousand Dollars has been subscribed and received by the Treasurer for Aeroplanes and Machine Guns. This response has exceeded all expectations. Particularly is this so in regard to the appeal for Machine Guns. The force of the latter appeal has been so intrinsically great that the people have responded to it without any special stimulus being used by the committee in charge. Notable among these responses have been those from Grand Falls, Badger and Millerton. Grand Falls has sent in $2,575.20; Badger, $924.10; and Millerton, $1,100. All told the workmen of these towns, employed by the Anglo-Nfld. Company have subscribed within a few cents of $4,600, and this is a remarkable showing considering the population of these places. The response in men and money goes far to merit the tribute paid to Newfoundlanders by the Montreal Herald of August 6th. Among these words of eulogium are the following:—

"Newfoundlanders who had left home before the war broke out will be found on the roll of almost every Canadian regiment. But they have come out of the front directly from home ten out of every thousand of their population."

"Those who cannot go are doing their share, too. The colony is wealthy in natural resources, but individual fortunes are not large. Yet they started in to raise funds by popular subscription to purchase two fully-armed and equipped airships and twenty machine guns. They have already raised enough for three airships and are still going. They have staked their all on the issue of the war. They could not have accomplished what they have without immense personal sacrifice of men and means. Had all of the Empire done proportionately as well the enemy would be absolutely overwhelmed."

Bankers Arrive.

Subjoined is a list of the banking vessels and their catches of codfish which arrived at Belleoram this morning from the Grand Banks:—

When You Spend Good Money You Ought Get Good Coal!

I have a schooner to arrive within a few days with North Sydney Coal. Coal taken away as it is landed is usually better than coal out of store. You see it gets more "broken up" when put in store and shovelled out again.

GET YOUR WINTER'S COAL NOW, IT MAY GO HIGHER IN PRICE.

Grenfell Mission Work

SPLendid EXHIBITS.

Dr. MacAusland, Orthopaedic Surgeon, as already referred to, will view cases at the Grenfell Hall to-morrow from 12.30 to 1.30, and will be leaving here for the North on Sunday, accompanied by his other associates who are here. Dr. MacAusland is the same kind of specialist as Dr. Adams, who visited Newfoundland last year in connection with the Grenfell Mission work.

Manager Jones of the King George Institute has now on exhibition in the Grenfell Hall a splendid collection of mats, and a lot of beautiful vari-colored artificial flowers and other handwork. The exhibits are the work of the livers of St. Anthony and indeed are a credit to them. They are commented on favorably by the visiting directors of the mission.

Congratulations to Winner

Of Distinguished Service Medal.

To Leander Green, a Naval Reservist from St. Jones Without, Trinity Bay, came the honor of winning the first distinction to be conferred on our lads engaged on active service. According to a cable from London to the Montreal Daily Star, a copy of which appears elsewhere in this issue, Leander Green has been awarded the highest honor next to the Victoria Cross that a British sailor can win, and to-day wears the Distinguished Service Medal. No particulars as to what particular action has led to the conferring of this honor, are at hand at present, but whatever the action was, Newfoundland rejoices in the honor conferred upon one of her brave sons. Leander Green is a son of Mr. Mark Green and Mrs. Caroline Green, of St. Jones Without, T. B. and was one of the first to respond to the call to the colors. He sailed from here on the Franconia in November last, and since arriving on the other side, was, we understand, engaged at patrol work in the North Sea, where duties are arduous, exacting and dangerous. We extend congratulations to our brave sailor lad, and to his parents at St. Jones Without, and express the hope that the day is not far distant when Leander Green who has been so highly honored by his King, will return to Newfoundland and be acclaimed by his fellow countrymen.

A Story of Princess Mary.

Travelling Incognito Being Arrested as a German Spy in France, She Had Forgotten Passports, and were Held for Four Hours.

New York, Aug. 9.—A London cable to the Tribune says: A member of the British Royal Family, thanks to the efficient espionage net of the Allies at the front, has been arrested charged with being a German spy. For four hours Princess Mary was held under guard, while officers, sympathetic but skeptical, investigated her claims to royal privileges. Having gone on an income visit to the hospitals at the front, Princess Mary, accompanied by Miss Dussau, started to meet her brother, the Prince of Wales, at the British headquarters. When about 6 miles from the village where the staff was located her car was stopped by a French patrol. Unluckily the occupants had forgotten their passports and permission papers, nor did the patrol recognize Royalty in the name of Lady Chester, which Princess Mary gave.

Leaving the car with its occupants under the guard of two French soldiers, and with the assurance they would be shot at six o'clock in the evening, the corporal went in search of the prisoners. The identity of the prisoners was then established by messages to the British Headquarters which was on the point of issuing a general alarm for the missing Princess.

Feels 90 per cent Better SINCE HE ENLISTED.

The following extract of a letter just received from a young man who left with the third contingent and who was not particularly strong, will speak for itself:—

"I am not sorry I came on this outfit. I have gained flesh and feel 90 per cent. better since I left home. I suppose it is the effect of the training; besides the climate is fairly good and healthy and something like our own."

Missing Children

FOUND BY POLICE.

Two little girls named Olive Tilley and Nellie Marshall, aged 3 and 4 years, respectively, strayed away from their homes on Plymouth Road yesterday. When they did not return up to ten hours their parents became anxious and along with friends made search for them. Bennett's Grove and other neighbouring places were scoured without avail. Enquiries at the different Fire Halls also failed to discover the whereabouts of the two youngsters. At last the police started to make search and with success, as inside of an hour they located the youthful wanderers who were at once taken home to their parents.

PERSONAL.—Capt. Edwin J. Giles, formerly of the Red Cross Service, is now visiting his native town, Carbonar. He is accompanied by his mother, wife and her sister, Dr. Lilla Ridout. They will arrive in the city on Monday night's train and, after spending a few days with friends in the city, will return to New York by the Stepanco on Saturday, the 21st inst.
