"Love in the Wilds" For Daisie's Sake

The Romance of a South African Trading Station,

> CHAPTER LXVIII. RETRIBUTION.

> > and then he turned and said aloud:

"Tompkins, and you, Mason, run leaves the house. Mind you; not a liv-

And he shook his finger to em-white-faced and terror-stricken.

young, timid-looking fellow.

Then Hugh came forward.

"I did, sir," said the footman.

eneated his words of command.

has not and will not return."

sir?" asked the inspector, in a whis-

Hugh answered promptly, but in a colness, stationed his men about the louse and set others to lock up the ooms, while he himself prepared to

Suddenly he uttered a low exclama tion and raised his sharp, hawk-like

"Did you know the deceased, sir?"

"Yes-that is, no," said Hugh

"Did you happen to know, sir, if h vas a member of any secret society-

the Carbonari, for instance?"

earch the body.

Why do you ask?"

Hugh nodded.

And he detailed the circumstances

High winced as the man spoke of he secretary; but the inspector eagerast?" he asked, hoa-sely.

y jumped at the name.

"Here sir." replied the new valvet

"When did you see your master last?

phasize his command.

this was purchased with the price of presence of mind and his usual busimy poor father's blood." ness-like air.

"Look here, sir," he exclaimed, nod-So much intensified was his thirst for revenge that he turned, with an ding to the dagger wounds; "one of died. impatient fierceness, upon the un- these would have done it. But the lucky footman, who was timidly party, or parties-for I think there teen or eighteen-gowned very simknocking at a small, green baize door must have been three in this-wanted ply, in white, with lavender ribbons to make sure and certain." that appeared to be let into the wall. All this was in a hurried whisper, "Knock louder, sirrah, or break the

Here the inspector stepped up and, rapping at the door with his knuckles, with the metallic ring police officers seem to acquire with their ing soul!" staves and uniforms, exclaimed: "Open; in the king's name!"

No response came, and, after a few moments of silent waiting, the inspector called to his men and all of them put their backs to the door and endeavored to force it open.

Hugh, meanwhile, stood chafing by, raise the dead body of his prisoner, exclaimed simultaneously: and seeing the non-success of their now beyond all earthly justice. Morts he pushed them aside and brought against the door such enormous strength that the hinges creaked

The inspector and his men immediately dashed past and entered the room. Then they stopped suddenly and whelmed to speak. half stepped back.

"Great Heaven!" exclaimed the intoo late!"

"What," cried Hugh, "gone?" and with something like an imprecation the inspector. stopped and bent down over something beside which the inspector was "Great Heaven!" he exclaimed, lifting his hat and passing his hand across his brow with a shudder of a little courage, my man!" horror. "We are, indeed, too late! He is dead!"

"As a nail, sir," replied the officer

"I Cannot Go"

BILIOUS headache spoils many an expected enjoy-

"Your suspicions are wrong. He wa When the condition of the at Dale last night and is there now." liver is neglected, biliousness At this moment a party of constable seems to become chronic and entered: the officer had met them or recurs every two or three bis way to Bow Street. weeks, with severe sick head-Their leader, with a business-like

Why not get right after this trouble and end it by using Dr. the health and activity of the liver eyes to Hugh.

GERALD S. DOYLE.

"I do know that he was," he said,

"Ah!" breathed t he officer, in a tone of complete satisfaction. "Then the ecret is out, sir. Look here,"

And he uncovered the breast and showed a deep cross cut in the fiesh, evidently made with a long knife or

Hugh stared with horrified aston

(To be continued.)

ROMORSE and

CHAPTER I. RIVALS IN LOVE.

When Dallas Bain and Royall Sher wood, with the dashing young widow. Mrs. Fleming, drove down the village Mrs. Fleming, drove down the village aspirin is the trade mark (New-street in their fine landau that summer afternoon, Daisie Bell stood on the dester of Salicylicacid. steps of her aun't cottage, plucking "The villain!" he murmured. 'All who had by this time regained his the purple wistaria blooms from the vines above her head, and the picture she made in her youth and grace stayed in both the men's hearts till they

Just a slip of a girl-perhaps seven at throat and waist; but her figure was grace and symmetry itself; and her face-well, men have died for faces less fair than hers, with its dusk-viodown to the door and see that no one let eyes, blue in the light, black in the shade, under the fringed curtain of jetty lashes that contrasted so vividly with the living gold of her hair as it swept in loose waves over her shoulders.

"And you, Simpson, run off to Bow Both the young men gazed at this Street and tell them to send the sercharming vision in frank delight, and The men rushed off to obey his dir- as the unknown beauty and the gay ections, and the inspector proceeded to little widow exchanged formal bows.

"Who is that beautiful girl?" Mrs. Fleming frowned jealously, bit Hugh, sick at heart-remember he had known no rest for two days, and her red lips, and answered, with some had, besides, spent the last one in a asperity:

tumult of passion and inward "What geese men are! Always agony-leaned against the wall and saught by theatricals! Couldn't you looked on, for the moment too over- both see that the bold thing was just posing for your benefit?"

A crowd of servants came fluttering "How exceedingly kind of her, to be in, some trembling and crying, others sure! We certainly enjoyed the tableau spector, in a shocked tone. "We are simply curious, and most of, them very much," lisped Royall Sherwood, a rich young man of the genus dude, "Where's the captain's man?" asked who was Mrs. Fleming's cousin, and visiting her at her summer home in Dallas Bain, a new friend he had made on the return trip from Europe.

> But, there; better not answer any month ago. questions. Just give me a hand to lift "I don't know a thing about him him onto the table. Come, pluck up except that he's clever and handsome, and seems to have plenty of money Between them they raised the life- but I like him immensely, so I brought less form of the plotter and schemer him here with me, and if you're not pleased you can just ship us both when you get tired," Royall said cool-"Who-who saw this-this man ly to his cousin, who answered gay

> > "I'll never get tired, I assure you; the dear boy is too charming."

f Reginald Dartmouth's return, and That was ten days ago, and as tim went by she found him more charming him a careless insouciance, a cynical indifference to her wiles, that piqued her into deeper earnestness, so that

Used 10 Years

uncertain about Lalley Electric

Thousands of Lalley-Light users are unanimous in praising it.

C. F. BENNETT & COMPANY, Agents.

LALLEY-LIGHT

GENUINE ASPIRIN HAS "BAYER CROSS"

Tablets without "Bayer Cross" are not Aspirin at all pirin" are now made in America by an American Company. No German interest whatever, all rights being purchased from the United States various other containers. The "Bayer Cross" is your only way of knowing that you are getting genuine Aspirin, proved safe by millions for Headache, Colds, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis, and for Pain general-

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets—also larger sized "Bayer" packages can be had at drug stores.

by the end of the first week she was passionately in love, and using every

The Bayer Co., Inc., U.S.A.

feminine art to bring him to her feet. And, never having loved before, de-

At only twenty-five, she was the widow of an old man whom she had only nineteen years old. Three years at its lower edge is 1% yard. later he obligingly died, and left her the mistress of half a million, which she was enjoying in royal fashion. A organdie and lawn are equally attracselfish, careless little beauty, she had tive for this model. never felt the great passion of life till she met Dallas Bain, whose large, to any address on receipt of 15 cents dark, flashing eyes had pierced her in silver or stamps. heart in a moment with love's keen

She set herself to win him without a thought of defeat, for she was very pretty in a doll-like fashion, petite, with turquoise-blue eyes, and crinkly flaxen hair always in the most picturesque disorder. Not a fear of rivalry crossed her mind for although she had several young girls as guests, she had been careful to invite only those who were plain-looking enough to serve as e foil to her own heauty To Daisie till this moment, when, on their drive, the coachman had turned into Temple Street just to vary the route, and her visitors had seen the young girl in her could never be forgotten.

What a careless encounter it seem ed, yet one fraught with fate!

"Couldn't you both see that the bold thing was just posing for your benefit?" she exclaimed, in jealous alarm; and Royall had answered as above recorded, winking significantly at his 8 and 10 years. A 6 year size will friend; but Dallas said not a word, but gazed, with his heart in his eyes, at the beauty till she was out of sight.

Then he drew a long breath that was mingled delight and pain, and cried materials, such as unbleached muslin, eagerly:

"But who is she. Mrs. Fleming?" "Yes, who is she, and why haven't we met her at your receptions, Lutie?" added Royall.

Tossing her head and curling a scornful lip, the lady returned malici-

"Oh, she isn't in our set at all-only poor relation of some people here; a teacher, or shop girl from New York, who comes here every summer to visit her kin and rest from work And they're all poor, as you can see roomed cottage." She thought that this explanation ought to settle the subject forever but Royall persisted: "Lutie, why don't you tell us her name?"

from the back street and the five

"Well, then." snappishly, "it Daisie Bell."

"Well, she is a daisy, and no mis take, and a belle, too the rarest beauty I ever saw; and I'm bound to know her soon. I'm in love at first sight"

"Royall, you shan't turn that simple girl's head with your flatteries." "I tell you, Lutie, I'm in dead earn-

(To be Continued.)

Brick's Tasteless at Stafford's. package. Price $1.20 bottle. Postage 20c. ST. JOHN'S GAS LIGHT CO. extra.—jly19,tf

MINARD'S LINIMENT RELIEVES

Fashion

A PRETTY DRESS IN OVER-BLOUSE STYLE.

Pattern 3287 is shown in this illusspite several pronounced flirtations, tration. It is cut in 7 Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size will require 2% yards of 27 inch material for the married for his money, when she was for the dress. The width of the skirt

Printed voile and batiste are combined in this instance. Taffeta, satin. garbardine, poplin, linen, shantung

A pattern of this illustration mailed

A COOL DRESS FOR WARM DAYS.

Pattern 3289 is shown in this illustration. It is cut in 5 Sizes: 2, 4, 6. require 2% vards of 36 inch material The dress may be finished to slip over the head, but shoulder closing is arranged for in the pattern.

This is a good style for inexpensive calico, repp, poplin, cambric and voile. Embroidery or a simple finish in outline stitches is pretty for decoration. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address in receipt of 15 cents in silver or stamps.

vance in price of paper, wages, etc., we are compelled to advance the price of patterns to 15c. each.

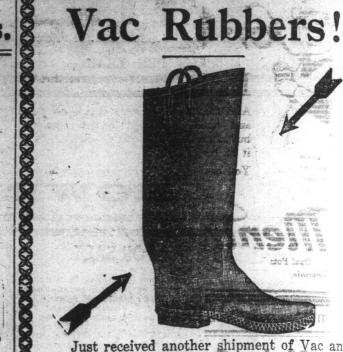

THE "GRUB" PEST.

To prevent damage to plants and shrubs a simple remedy is a weak solution of Sulphate of Ammonia. Use 1/4 oz. of Sulphate to one gallon of water. On no account use a stronger solution or you may "burn" the

We have a limited quantity of Sulphate of Ammonia at our Showroom, Oke Building. Full instructions given with each

LINIMENT CURES

Plates.

Just received another shipment of Vac and Red Ball Long Rubber Boots. Fishermen! Double wear in each pair.

F. Smallwood,

THE HOME OF GOOD SHOES.

An Act to Provide for the Better Obtaining of Information Respecting the Codfishery. Be it enacted by the Governor, the Legislative Council and House of Assembly, in Legislative Session convened, as follows:-The Master or owner of every ship, vessel, schooner, craft beat which shall arrive at any port in Newfoundland from fishing in any of the places following, that is to say, on the Banks, on the Coast of Labrador, in the Straits of Belle Is e. or ere out of Newfoundland, and on the coast of Newfound land in the District of St. Barbe, shall within 48 hours after arrival at his destination report by telegraph at the expense of the Department from the nearest telegraph station to the Department of Marine and Fisheries at St. John's and the nearest Customs Officer, stating the quantity in quintals of fish on board

2. As a part of said report the said Master or owner shall state whether the number of quintals reported is reckoned as of dry fish, Labrador fish, salt bulk or green fish, or otherwise as the case may be; and shall state whether it is the intention of such master or owner to cure such fish (if the same be not cured) as soft Labrador, dry Labrador, or dry Shore.

3. If any such Master or owner shall fail to report as aforesaid or shall wilfully report incorrectly, he shall be liable to a penalty of not less than $10.00 or more than $100.00, to be recovered in a summary manner before any Stipendiary Magistrate; or in default of payment, to imprisonment not exceeding

4. In publishing information or statistics of the fisheries, the Minister of Marine and Fisheries shall not be bound to make public the name or catch of any specific ship, vessel, craft or

5. Every licensed exporter of codfish shall report to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries on the last day of every month or within 48 hours thereafter, stating the quantity and quality of all fish then held in store by such exporter. The said report shall be verified by affidavit, and the said Minister shall not publish or allow any person whatsoever (except in pursu legal process) to have access to any such report total of the quantities and qualities so reported shall be inti-mated by the Minister of Marine and Fisheries to the President of the Newfoundland Board of Trade for the information and use of the Trade generally.

6. If any such exporter shall fail to report as hereinbefore provided, or shall knowingly make any false or incorrect report, he shall be liable to a penalty of not exceeding $1,000.00, which may be recovered in a summary manner before any Stipendiary Magistrate, or, indefault of payment, to imprisonment for a period not exceeding three months.

7. If any person publishes, writes or disseminates any false information or statistics respecting the quantity of codfish caught or held in store, or otherwise in Newfoundland or exported, he shall upon conviction be liable to a penalty not exceeding One Hundred Dollars or imprisonment for a period not exceeding one month for each offence.

All penalties recovered under this Chapter shall be paid a Minister of Finance and Customs for the use of the Colony. 9. Any person aggrieved by any conviction under this Act may appeal to the next Session of the Supreme Court in St. John's or on Circuit upon giving notice within fourteen days of his intention so to appeal. 10. This Act may be cited for all purposes as "The Codnish Report Act, 1920." aug16,19,23,26,30,sep2,6.9

Your Summer Suit

Should be ordered where you are sure you will get satisfaction. Our reputation for First Class work gives you that assurance, and together with the Well Selected Stock of Fashioned Goods always on hand, will make your visit to our store

CHARLES J. ELLIS,

feb28,tu,th,s,tf

High Class Tailor, 302 Water Street.

1 Mins 11 = 1 P

J. B.

last n succee back of fift despat from gorod

Poles

ter op

Thorn

Danzi

cordin

he pol

n the rease