Devoted Worker Receives Address.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Sir,—Will you please find space to print the accompanying address? It is the record of a splendid bit of community service carried out in an unostentatious way.

There was a rather sorrowful sort of gathering, to tell the truth, when the members of the Sewing Class of Southern Cove, parish of Heart's Content, met to say farewell to Miss Elizabeth Jones, who for three years has devoted herself wholeheartedly to the cause of the children.

Mrs. George, the President of the Class, asked the Rector to state the purpose of their meeting together. In a very happily worded speech Canon Smart spoke of Miss Jones' work, life and influence among the children, concluding by reading the address. The address was the work of Mr. W. C. Palmer and was a real work of art, black and white pen work. At the top of the beautiful scroll work was etched the lighted lamp shining on the opened Book of Knowledge. The address was accompanied by some pieces of gold. The children's parting gift to Miss Jones was a Bible bound in morocco, the women's gift being a silver-plated butter dish. Miss Jones very suitably replied, thanking those present not only for their gifts and good wishes but for their willing help all along. She urged them for the children's sake to "carry on."

The Rector concluded the proceedings with well known and frequently offered collects for the Children, Absent Friends and Travellers setting forth on a journey.—Com.

THE ADDRESS.

To Miss Elizabeth Jones,
Church of England Teacher.

Dear Miss Jones,—We are all truly sorry that the time has come for you to say good-bye to Southern Cove, Heart's Content. The Board of Education, the parents and the children wish that it were possible to keep you in our midst.

You have given a most willing and devoted service to the school—Sunday and week-day alike. The fact that the people of the community have voluntarily raised over a hundred dollars a year towards your stipend shows their high appreciation of your services.

The children will greatly miss you. School hours have been a pleasure to them, they have loved school-time because they have loved their teacher, even as their teacher has loved them. You have consistently taught your pupils to be God-fearing and patriotic. You have both by example and word encouraged them to pray and to give to our own Orphanage, our own Missionary and our own College. Your influence has always been for good. The years that lie in front will witness to this no less than the present time.

We wish you God-speed. We hope that your life, wherever it is spent, will be as fruitful in loving service for Christ and the children as it has been during your residence at Southern Cove.

Please accept the pieces of gold with all good wishes for your welfare.

Signed on behalf of children and parents,

FRANK SMART,
Rec. & Chairman Bd. of Edu.
JOHN C. GEORGE,
Member Bd. of Edu.
MALCOLM MURPHY,
S. School Teacher.
EMILY SOOLEY,

Odd Weapons of Duelists

CONTROVERSY THAT HAD FATAL ENDING SETTLED WITH BILLIARD BALL.

Billiard players will be interested to know that 80 years ago a duel with a billiard ball took place in which a man was killed. The quarrel was between two men named Lefant and Mellant in the commune of Maisonfort (Seine-et-Oise), France. One September day they quarreled over a game of billiards. Challenges were exchanged, the red billiard ball was selected as the weapon, and lots were drawn to see who should throw it first.

Mellant was favored, and threw with such speed and aim that Lefant, struck on the temple, fell dead.

The duel of the pill is credited to Castiglione. He had called a physician a quack. Possibly the physician thought this was too like the pot calling the kettle black. Anyway, he challenged. Castiglione proposed that two pills, one poisonous, the other harmless, be put in a box and shaken up. Each was to draw a pill and swallow it.

"A medical controversy should be settled in a medical fashion," the magician explained. It is not on record that the duel was carried out.
