Hollywood En Fete

FOR EARL HAIG AND GOVERNOR ALLARDICE.

On Friday evening last when it became known that Field Marshal Earl Haig and his Excellency Governor Allardice and party were passing through to Salmonier, quite a display of hunting flew to the breeze in their honor. A delegation of twenty prominent townsmen led by Rev. Father Finn, P.P. Capt. Kennedy, A.M.R. R. Pwyer, J.P., Constable Grouchy and W. P. Walsh proceeded at 5.30 p.m. in six motor cars to the Power House at Seal Cove to meet the distinguished visitors. Upon their arrival here Gov. Nangle introduced the Earl and Governor to Father Finn and also the several members of the delegation to the Field Marshal and his Excellency in turn. After a short interview they left for Salmonier followed by a train of motor cars to Holyrood, and when passing Wall's Hill they were greeted by volleys of musketry and cheering from the assembled crowd there.

A Letter From the Author

"I am truly enraptured at the magnificent and artistic way in which you have interpreted my romance.

"I consider it superior to any of the films I have seen for its magnificence, its artistic production, and for the excellence of the actors, from the most important to the smallest.

"I know you have taken the greatest care in making this work without regard to the expense.

"For a whole week I abandoned my literary work to live the life of a film actor. I got up at 5 o'clock each morning and at 6 o'clock was at Monte Carlo, where I stayed with the company until night, always beside Mr. Croeland to smooth out difficulties and help along with the work. I put him in touch with people who have lived more than thirty years on the Blue Coast and who knew all the pleasure spots, even those which are most mysterious and unknown by outsiders. I also arranged matters with Miss Mary Garden so that the Casino at Monte Carlo gave us the permission to film scenes in the Casino and on the terraces of the garden.

"After this I talked with the Ministers who constitute the government of Monaco and they gave me permission to take pictures of the Prince's palace, and also in the Prince's garden, from which there is a magnificent panorama of the sea.

"This is the first time that the government of Monaco has given such permission.

"This film will be one of the most extraordinary that the screen has produced.

"As the author of 'Enemies of Women' I congratulate you and I thank you."

VICENTE BLASCO IBANEZ.

Report of Successful Service UNITED BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Valuable service has been rendered by the commercial day and evening classes of the United Business College of Newfoundland held in the Victoria Hall and the Grand Building during the year. The report presented at the closing on Friday last was encouraging. "The International Business College Reporter" recorded the names of the following students from the institution who passed the tests recently held and won their certificates:—Jean Thomas, Flora Green, Mary Fisher, Helen Clarke, Lillian Dyer, Muriel Garsner, Robert Bishop, Cecil Whitten, Bertram Quinton, Harold Pippy, Fred Rowe, Gerald Hennebury, Maxwell Fuddister, Samuel Christopher, James Dove, Allen Richards, Douglas Scott, Ross Gullford, Harold Dwyer, Alexander Duffett, Albert Christopher, Gordon Squires, Kay Clouston, (Evening Class), Donald Andrews, Edwin Swyers, Chas. Whithers, James Wiseman and Jack Thorpe.

The first prize, a gold medal, for Mathematics, Bookkeeping and Accounting, was won by Miss Jean Thomas; the second by Mr. R. Bishop.

The examination results in the Stenographic Department in Sloan and Grog Shorthand were:—Sloan Speed, 100 words per minute, Stella Peckford; 90, Ethel Down, Emmie Morgan, Lillian Dyer, Doris Stick; 80, Florence Conway, Hilda Milley, Harold Pippy; 70, Gerald Hennebury, Ole Saunders, Doris Muford, Clarence Whitten; Sloan Theory: Vera Miller, Roy Phillips, Nora Ryan, M. Pickford, G. Perry, Kay Clouston, W. Tifford, Cecil Whitten, Blis Barbour, Helen Clarke, Donald Andrews, Jean Thomas, Mary Howe, Flora Green, Harold Dwyer, Anora Cummings, Alex Duffett, Allan Richards, James Wiseman, Catherine Campbell, Mary Fisher, Gregg Speed, 100 words per minute; Dorothy White; 80, Fern Mann; 70, Mary Howe, Blis Barbour, Flora Green, Anora Cummings; Gregg Theory: Bertram Quinton, Edwin Swyers, Douglas Scott, Jack Roseworthy, Valda Bursell, Jean Mew, Eugenie Mews. The prize for 1st place in this Department, a medal presented by an old pupil, was won by Miss Dorothy White. Teachers and students who could not attend during the year owing to other duties will be able to participate in the advantages afforded in a Summer School opening this week. This is the first Business College Summer School in the country. The Business College has been fortunate during the year in affording the advantage of lectures by business men, salesmen and by the Principal of the institution, and this will be continued during Summer School. Those who cannot attend are permitted to study the course at home and to send in their work for correction at a small charge.

A gold medal was donated by an old student, Mr. C. H. Synyard, Civil Engineer, 85 Ten Broeck St., Albany, N.Y., who recognized the good work that the school is accomplishing and sent this valuable gift as a token of appreciation of what the institution had done for him. Several students have been placed in good positions in the city and elsewhere recently.

Costly Urban Settings in "Enemies of Women"

FAMOUS ARTIST AT HIS BEST IN DESIGNS FOR LAVISH SETS FOR PRINCE'S PALACE AND VILLA.

"Enemies of Women," Cosmopolitan Corporation's gigantic production of the latest story, which will be screened at the Nickel Theatre on Monday next, proved a happy hunting ground for the scenic artist, Joseph Urban. It is full to the brim with atmosphere. Mr. Urban reveals in stories that hold atmosphere, for it is his task at the Cosmopolitan's studios to recreate for the camera's devouring eye the particular scenic atmosphere of the story being prepared. Coming to the screen with his rare gifts, Mr. Urban has set up a higher, truer, more imaginary type of picture setting than the films had ever known before.

The artist's favorite setting of his many in "Enemies of Women" is the boudoir of Alicia, Duchess De Delille, the role played by Alma Rubens. It is done in grey, striped in silver, for colors photograph, of course. The walls hold intriguing niches for bits of rare statuary, a dressing table set in a half-circled enclosure, raised two steps from the remainder of the room, is exquisitely done in silver and silk, crystal bottles and the myriad of exquisite details of an exotic woman.

The seats are soft masses of cushions, and a triple chifon curtain, hanging from ceiling to floor, swings half way across the room to insure absolute privacy to the dressing table. In the center of the room is a bright blue fountain, a figure in blue Ceramic rearing itself from the center of the water; goldfish slither around in the fountain. It is a room exuding the personality of an utterly exotic and extravagant woman.
