WRITTEN BY CHILDREN.

Some Famous Hymns That Have Out-lived Their Authors.

Some of the best known hymns in the language have been written by children. Everybody knows "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," a hymn with a unique record. It was the first hymn the author, Dr. Ray Palmer, ever wrote. It is by far the most popular of his hymns. It was written when he was a mere lad, and he survived its publication and popularity sixty years. It was set to music in the year of its birth and has always been sung to the same tune.

One of the best known hymns in the world is "There Is a Land of Pure Delight." Yet it was written by Isaac Watts before he reached manhood. It is said that he was staying in the Isle of Wight and looking across to Hampshire when he penned the lines:

Sweet fields beyond the swelling flood Stand dressed in living green.

That fine soldierly hymn, "Oft in Danger, oft in Woe, Onward, Christian, Onward Go," was actually written by a boy and girl who never saw each other. The boy was poor Henry Kirke White, who died before he reached manhood, and the girl was Frances Fuller-Matland.

The fact is that when the boy poet died the little girl was not born. Exactly when Kirke White wrote his verses is not known, for they were found among his papers after his death. He had worked some sums in algebra on the same sheet.

Twenty years later the little Frances, fourteen years old, wrote the verses beginning respectively, "Let your drooping hearts be glad," "Onward, then, to battle more," which made a fine hymn of what was really only a set of verses.

Frances Ridley Havergal wrote one of her best known hymns when she was a girl of fifteen. In fact, it was the first thing of any importance she ever penned. This is the pathetic hymn, "Thy Life Was Given For Me." It was scribbled on the back of a circular in pencil and first read to an old, bedridden woman who liked it so much that the little girl repented of her first intention to burn it, and her father wrote the well known tune, Rosa, to it.—London Tit-Bits.

Careless Driving.

As motorists multiply in numbers it is evident that increasingly careful driving is called for. The driver who "hits her up" endangers not only his own safety, but the safety of other motorists. There are drivers who fail to slacken speed when they come to cross streets. There are drivers who dash around corners or across a boulevard at high speed. It cannot be too strongly emphasized that the really competent driver always has his car under control; that he always drives on the theory that every other driver may be careless or may lose his head. Caution marks the competent driver. Recklessness belongs only to the jay.—Kansas City Times.

FAT AND FORTY.

Some Hints For Stout People Who Wish to Reduce in Weight.

Getting fat means that there is, physically speaking, either an excessive income or a deficient outgo, or both. From this the remedy would appear simple. Theoretically it would be either to limit the income of fat-producing foods or, once they are eaten, burn them up and get rid of them, or both, and presto the change is made! In practice, however, after certain habits of eating and living have been indulged in for from thirty to forty years it is not always the easiest thing in the world to form new habits. Only those with abundance of will power will succeed. Jellyfish, with jellyfish backbones and jellyfish determinations, will usually go on resembling more and more the proverbial jellyfish or sack of meal in figure. There is little hope for them.

For those who mean business, however, there is much hope. Much can be accomplished and much more prevented by observing the following suggestions: Drink three glasses of hot water, to which has been added half a lemon, half an hour before eating breakfast.

For breakfast indulge sparingly in baked apples, stewed prunes or similar fruit, omitting cereals, sugar and cream. Let dinner consist very largely of salads and vegetables, such as lettuce, tomatoes, turnips, cabbage, greens, spinach, celery, etc. Let supper consist largely of the same things, being careful to avoid cakes, sweets, mushes, bread, especially fresh bread, or soggy biscuits. Hard toasted graham wheat bread may be tolerated in small amounts.

For the best results it is highly essential that bulky rather than nourishing foods and inactive rather than consulting foods be eaten.

By all means live, work and sleep in the open air. Burn up all excess avoid idleness by breathing exercises, by walking and by exercising rather severely every day. Get up "a good sweat" every day. Avoid a sluggish, indolent, indifferent life and disposition. Be active mentally and physically. In other words, keep busy.

Franklin's Fate Prefigured.

The fate of Franklin, the famous explorer, was unwittingly prefigured and on the eve of his starting on his last voyage at the hands of his own devoted wife. As he lay dozing on a sofa Lady Franklin threw something over his feet, on which he awoke in consternation, saying: "Why, there's a flag thrown over me! Don't you know that they lay a union jack over a corpse?"

Mr. S. L. Doolittle, of St. Marys, paid Aylmer a business trip on Tuesday, and spent a day with relatives in this district. Mr. Doolittle has a daughter who is a nurse at Shorncliffe, and showed us a piece of fair bag of a German Zeppelin, which was brought down in the River Thames some time ago, sent to him as a souvenir. It is of very tough but light material, and quite a curiosity.

CASTORIA

Among the many peculiar and disconcerting plants and creatures that abound in Madagascar, probably none is more surprising and disconcerting than the aye tree, so called, which is not a tree, but a climbing plant. The following incident, quoted by Mr. James Sibree, F. R. G. S., in "A Naturalist in Madagascar," illustrates the painful result of contact with the aye.

The story is told by a Mr. Montgomery:

Walking under some trees and pushing aside the reeds and grass, I was startled by a sudden tingling and prickling sensation over the backs of my hands and fingers. I stopped in sudden surprise, for the pain was severe, and I had touched nothing except the grass. But in another minute the pain increased, the tingling, burning sensation seemed to be extending rapidly up my wrists, and I could see nothing to cause it. As I lowered my head to look scalding pain shot into my ears and neck and grew worse every instant. Dazed and bewildered, I stood a few seconds in helplessness, for I could neither see nor guess at the cause of the terrible distress. Then I got back to my company with agony written plain enough on every line of my face.

The men started up when they saw me crying. "You have been stung by the aye!" Some of them led me to a seat, others rushed for water from the river, and two or three brought sand heaped up in their hands. Then they chafed me with the sand and water to take out the stinging hairs, which they knew caused the mischief. As they rubbed me I felt the pain abate, and after they had chafed me for about a quarter of an hour I was comparatively free from pain. While the men were rubbing me I was able to discern to some extent the cause of my distress. Countless hairs, like tiny arrows, almost transparent, pointed at either end and from a third to a fourth of an inch long had dropped on me in an invisible shower from the aye tree as I stood under it. Before I came away that afternoon, very cautiously I ventured to examine the tree at a little distance and found that the tiny hairs grew outside a thickish pod or shell not quite so large as a small banana. The pods were fully ripe (luckily for me) just at that time, and the light wind was scattering their coverings.

For Potato Bugs

And all foliage eating insects—We are prepared

is the best. Sticks to the foliage, acts as a fertilizer, used dry, and for potatoes prevents blight, keeps the tops green longer and increases the yield 15 to 25 per cent. In 1 lb. packages 15c; 3 lb. packages 35c.; 12 1-2 lb. packages $1.00.

Lead Arsenate

and lime sulphur spray is especially good too and costs only 2c a gallon to make. It will stick to the foliage through several rains—on this account it should not be used on any foliage or fruit that is to be used soon. Full directions to prepare and use it if you buy here.

Church's Bug Finish

A mixture apparently of Paris Green and plaster in powder form, used dry. Some like it well. We have it in 1 lb and 5 lb. packages.

Paris Green is very high in price this year and is not as good as any of the above preparations.
