Possible-The Income Tax Bider the WASHINGTON, April 28,-It is learned that Secretary Carlisle has now taken the amended Tariff bill in hand and is endeavoring, in conjunction with Senator Jones of Arkansas, chairman of the sub-committee, to straighten some of the entanglements with which the Senate has surrounded the bill, so as to secure it practically the united support of the Democratic Senators. Secretary Carlisle and Senator Jones began the tary Carlisle and Senator Jones began the consideration of the bill at the Treasury Department this afternoon, taking up the measure by paragraphs. From Secretary Carlisle's intimate kinewiedge of tariff matters much is expected in the way of harmonizing conflicting interests and perfecting the bill.

Numerous conferences held in committee rooms to-day indicate that an effort on the part of the Democrats to get together is being made. One of the most conspicuous of these conterences was held in Mr. Cock-rell's room this evening and was attended by Messrs. Cockrell, Vest, Harris and Jones of Atkansas, who were clossted to-gether for more than an hour. This meeting was for the purpose of ar

It was decided that after Wednesday next, when the unanimous consent under which the Senate is now working shall have expired, another agreement be asked for, which would include a longer session than that which has been held during the past three weeks.

It is said the subject of further concessions was also discussed and some color is given to this report by the fact that subsequently Senator Smith was sent for and remained in close consultation with remained in close consultation with Senators Vest and Jones of the Finance committee. Mr. Gorman also formed a part of this consultation party for quite a long time later in the evening.
