

THE CANADIAN POULTRY REVIEW

DEVOTED TO POULTRY, IN ALL ITS BRANCHES

VOL. XVII.

124 VICTORIA STREET, TORONTO, OCT., 1894.

No. 10.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The Pigeon Fancier.

WE have disposed of a certain number of pages in the REVIEW each month to the Fanciers Publishing Co., publishers of the Pigeon Fancier, and this journal will for some time at any rate be combined with the REVIEW. The pages devoted to poultry will not in any way be cut down but rather increased as necessity requires, and readers will have practically two papers for the price of one. This is purely a business matter on our part, we dispose of a number of pages over which we have no control. The Fancier Co. assures us that if sufficient support is accorded them the paper will be continued permanently. We bespeak for them a liberal share of advertising.

JUDGING AT THE INDUSTRIAL.

We agree with Mr. Jno. Gray, that the judging this year at any rate was spun out entirely too long, and there is no use in disguising the fact that great dissatisfaction was caused thereby. Without saying so in any fault finding spirit, we certainly think that Mr. Butterfield should finish the poultry classes before turning on to the pigs; he "scattered" himself entirely too much this year to please exhibitors as a whole. We see no reason why three judges could not get through by at any rate noon of Wednesday, but if more are wanted let us have them by all means.

"DRUM MAJOR" AND "HER GRACE"

WHITE-CRESTED AND BEARDED POLISH BANTAMS, BRED AND OWNED BY F. B. ZIMMER, GLOVERSVILLE, N.Y.

Each won First at Gloversville Show in 1893, and the same at Philadelphia same season. At Philadelphia there was no class for "Bearded," so they had to compete in "Non-Bearded" class against "all comers."

DISSATISFACTION

may have been openly expressed but we were congratulating the officials on having the show pass off with less grumbling as to the judging than ever we previously experienced. We can only account for it that the "grumblers" did not come our way. Mr. Gray introduces some names and personal matters into his communication which we think it better to omit. The place to ventilate these proposed additions and changes is at the committee meeting where the judges are appointed, of which committee, we think Mr. Gray is a member. For the success of the show, the committee should outside at any rate, stand as one man.
