Words of the Wise.

If men are so wicked with religion what would they be without it?—Franklin.

I FIND the doing of the will of God leaves me no time for disputing about His plans.—George Macdonald.

FOR my own private satisfaction, I had rather be master of my own time than wear a diadem.—Bishop Berkeley.

A KNOWLEDGE of the world is useful, but it may be sought at too great a price. It may be at the cost of a hardened heart.

RELIGION is never fashionable. The way of peace is not the broad way superintended by Paris, but the narrow way watched by the Redeemer.—Blood.

NOTHING else is to be called the business of life at all. I am extreme, you may think; but this is liberty and life to me—to know Christ.—Geo. Macdonald.

THE distant mountains, that appear Their solid bastions to the skies, Are crossed by pathways, that appear As we to higher levels rise. —Longfellow.

THE kindest saint in heaven cannot make a visit to the congregation of the dead and damned, to comfort or relieve any there who were once their friends.

And the inward voice was saying: "Whatsoever thing thou doest To the least of Mine and lowest, That thou doest unto Me!" —Longfellow.

RESPECT OLD AGE.—An old favourite is the remedy known as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Thirty years reliable for Cholera Morbus, diarrhoea and summer complaints.

LET no passing fashion mislead you. Let God be your guide in the building of the vessel in which you expect to cross the ocean of life, and enter eternity without wreck. Use no timber that will not bear storm. Never sleep while you skirt the reefs.—Joseph Cook.

SOMETIMES "the heaviest wheat of all" may spring up from seeds dropped in an accidental way. What a motive to the maintenance of a personal holiness! The accidental is a shadow of the intentional. Influence is the exhalation of character.—W. M. Taylor.

A CHRISTIAN sailor, when asked why he remained so calm in a fearful storm when the sea seemed ready to devour the ship, and when he was not sure he could swim, said: "Though I sink, I shall only drop into the hollow of my Father's hand, for He holds all those waters there."

NO SUCH WORD AS FAIL.—A failure to relieve or cure summer complaints can never be truthfully applied to Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. All dealers sell it.

I hate the crowded town! I cannot breathe shut up within its gates! Air,—I want air, and sunshine, and blue sky, The feeling of the breeze upon my face, The feeling of the turf beneath my feet, And no walls but the far-off mountain tops. —Longfellow.

CHILDREN have a habit of thinking what they see abroad is very much better than they have at home. Many men and women are but "children of a larger growth" in this particular. Their discontent runs out into all the relations of life. They are the people who indulge, specially in disparaging their pastor and church, and contrasting with their vaunted shortcomings the excellencies attributed to others.—United Presbyterian.

HE walks in the presence of God that converses with Him in frequent prayer and communion; that runs to Him with all his necessities; that asks counsel of Him in all his doubts; that opens all his wants to Him; that weeps before Him for all his sins; and that asks remedy and support for his weakness; that fears Him as a judge, reverences Him as a Lord, and obeys Him as a father.—Jeremy Taylor.

LEARN to despise outward things, and to give thyself to things inward, and thou shalt perceive the kingdom of God to come in thee. "For the kingdom of God is peace and joy in the Holy Spirit," which is not given to the unholy. Christ will come unto thee, and show thee His own consolation, if thou prepare for Him a worthy dwelling-place within thee. All His glory and beauty is from within, and there He takes delight. The inward man he often visiteth, and hath with him sweet discourse, pleasant solace, much peace, familiarity exceeding wonderful. O faithful soul, make ready thy heart for Him, that he may vouchsafe to come unto thee, and to dwell within thee.—Thomas à Kempis.

Hardened Liver.

Five years ago I broke down with kidney and liver complaint and rheumatism. Since then I have been unable to be about at all. My liver became hard like wood; my limbs were puffed up and filled with water.

All the best physicians agreed that nothing could cure me. I resolved to try Hop Bitters; I have used seven bottles; the hardness has all gone from my liver, the swelling from my limbs, and it has worked a miracle in my case; otherwise I would have been long in my grave. J. W. MORSE, Buffalo, Oct. 1, 1881.

Poverty and Suffering.

"I was dragged down with debt, poverty and suffering for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring.

I was completely discouraged, until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor, I commenced using Hop Bitters, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have seen a sick day since, and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost. I know it."—A WORKINGMAN.
