

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

The only change is the addition of the words "not exceeding twelve per cent per annum" underlined on the opposite page. The section as at present provides that there is no restriction as to the rate of interest except as provided by statute. The amendment limits the rate to twelve per cent.