

CHAPTER III.

The Purchase of Arizona. — Its Size. — Its Cost. — The Location of the Kingdom of Cibola. — Cortez imperils the Possession of an Empire. — The Viceroy Mendoza's Expedition to Cibola. — Settlements in Arizona at the Time of its Purchase. — Texan "Head Rights." — Santa Rita del Cobre. — A Visit there. — Ojo Caliente. — Remarkable Springs. — Immense Value of the Copper Mines. — Wonderful Sandstone Formations. — Adventure with the Apaches. — Their War-whoop. — Death of Laws. — His Burial by Moonlight. — A Mother's Thanks. — God bless her. - - - - - 46

CHAPTER IV.

The Mesilla Valley. — Its Climate. — Wines. — Its Productions. — The Inhabitants. — Their Manners and Customs. — Los Organos Mountains. — The Salt Lakes. — "A City not made with Hands." — The Elements as an Architect. — The Temples of Crystal. — The Sacramento Mountains. — The Tularosa; its Trout. — Antelope. — A Hunt. — Lost upon the Plains. — The terrified Mule. — The moving Bush. — Suspense. — The fortunate Shot. — "Will Daylight never come?" — The Apache's last Trail. — A Scalp. — The White Man's Smoke. — Camp at last. - - - - - 56

CHAPTER V.

The Valley of the Tularosa. — A Bear Hunt. — The Cinnamon Bear. — An unfortunate Shot. — Bruin "riled." — The Giants of the Forest. — Dr. Parker not a Successful Climber. — Bear Meat in Camp. — Fort Stanton. — The Ruins of "Le Gran Quivera." — Miles of Ruins. — A Stone Aqueduct fourteen Miles long. — Cathedrals. — Mines. — One of the seven Cities of Cibola. — Fifty Millions of Treasure buried.