

The beautiful ocean steamer "Olivette" will run between Boston, Bar Harbor and Campobello as last year, leaving Boston Saturday afternoon and Bar Harbor Sunday morning, arriving at Campobello the same afternoon, and returning Monday morning.

It is expected that the New York and Portland Steamship Co. will run from New York to St. John twice a week, touching at Bar Harbor and Campobello.

What is there to do at Campobello?

As Campobello is about ten miles long, from two to three miles wide, and covered with a dense growth of trees, it may readily be supposed that there are beautiful drives and walks in all directions. Those who are fond of horse-back riding will find the roads and bridle-paths at Campobello, delightful. There is plenty of good sailing, boating and fishing, with skillful skippers who may be hired by the hour or day.
