DAVITT'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Operation Saves Him From Death by Lockjaw.

Dublin, May 18.—Michael Davitt, who is now improving, had a most narrow escape from death as the result of a complication of blood-poisoning and a mild form of lockjaw. The trouble commenced with a bad tooth. The inflammation extended to the cheek, necessitating an operation. Blood-poisoning, accompanied by a form of lockjaw, followed. For 48 hours his life was despaired of, when another operation was decided upon, and this time it is believed it was successfully performed.

Simplified Spelling Board.

At a meeting in New York on May 9, of the executive of the simplified spelling board, two Canadian names were adopted, that of W. F. Maclean, M. P., of The Toronto World, and Dr. A. H. Mackay of Halifax, superintendent of education for Nova Scotia. The names of four eminent British scholars elected to the board will be announced when their acceptances are received. The list of those who have signed adherence to the use and promotion of the simplified spellings recommended by the board is very large and influential, made up of many of the most enlightened educationists and literary men in America.

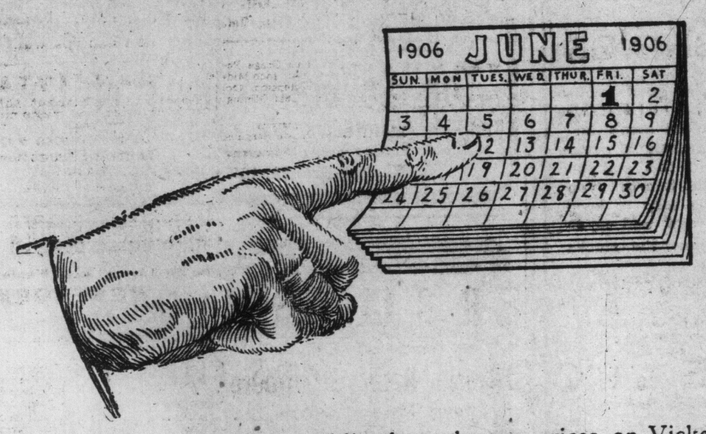
Oakland, Cal., May 18.—A slight shock o fearthquake was felt at Oakland last night and at San Jose and other points.

No damage is reported.

New Vickerman Price List



As already announced, we are obliged to advance prices on Vickerman goods June 1st, and in view of the persistent tendency of the market it comes none too soon. The Vickerman firm and ourselves have been persistent in holding back any increase, even at the sacrifice of profits, but conditions in the woollen trade are worse than arbitrary, and some things are necessary as a matter of self-protection. The new schedule will still be below the average for goods of equal quality, but sufficiently advanced to make it well worth while ordering now.

The trade must anticipate requirements before June 1st in order to get the advantage of the present exceptional values.

Chicago Gossip.

Marshall, Spader & Co. wired J. G. Beaty, King Edward Hotel, at the close of the market:

Trade has been of smaller volume to-day. Trade counted it time for a reaction, and was more inclined to favor bearish rather than bullish news. Weather was the chief consideration. The peculiar conditions in the southwest brought out some controversy. Local thunderstorms appear to have been distributed over eastern to southeastern part of the state; cooler west, but drought not materially relieved; nevertheless, long wheat has been coming on sale on all bulges to-day, altho it has been equally true that buying has increased and market has dried up on soft spots. Little demand for cash wheat here. Foreign markets were easier, despite the advance here yesterday, the Argentine offerings and arrivals being the depressing influence.

Ennis & Stoppani wired to J. L. Mitchell, McKinnon Building:

Wheat—The action of foreign markets this morning, in view of the advances in yesterday's market, was very aggravating to the bulls, and with reports of rains in the southwest, caused considerable selling around the opening. The offerings, however, were well taken, and when early sellers wanted the wheat back they had to pay higher prices for it. The market was quite vacillating most of the session, due probably to the contradictory reports regarding the rains, some claiming that they were quite general, and others that only scattered showers had fallen, with none at all in Western Kansas. Messages from the northwest told of perfect conditions, with prospects for a record crop, providing the weather between now and harvest is favorable. Market closed steady, with indications that long wheat will come out on any further advance, unless much stronger news is received.

Coarse grains were offered very freely during the early session, on reports of an increased movement of corn and primary markets. The easier tone prevailed all day.

Provisions—Provisions are steady, with fair selling by packers, and prices a shade lower.

Melady & Co. had the following at the close of the market:

Wheat—Altho confined to narrow limits to-day, outside trade being light, the market was extremely nervous, owing to crop damage reports, and closed about ½ cent lower than last night. It will more than likely be a weather market for a few days. If the southwest receives beneficial rains we should have a setback. Then will be the opportunity for a man to get some wheat. Be careful on the bulges, when the calamity howler is talking, because it is more than likely that we will have a fair crop of wheat, but we need it, and the millers are waiting for it. The cash article still remains in good demand at good premiums over the futures. Buy wheat on what it is truly worth for consumptive purposes. As we have been telling you, do not buy it on the bulges, but get yourself some on any fair decline.

Corn—Corn was weaker to-day on fine weather and increasing receipts. In our opinion, shorts have covered freely, leaving the market without any material support. As we have been telling you, this bulge should produce increased receipts, and we still advise the sale of September corn on all good bulges for fair profit.

Oats—Profit-taking to-day was the feature of the oats market, and the reports of more favorable weather in the oats belt. Favorable weather or unfavorable weather, in our opinion, oats are worth about the present price. The demand for cash oats is very large for this time of the year, and looks like a continuation of same. Buy these July and September oats every time you get a chance to do so, when they decline moderately.
