

STRANGER THAN FICTION

Is the Truth Concerning John Gibbons of East London.

He Was Tortured With the Pains of Sciatic Rheumatism - Tried Doctors, All Sorts of Medicines and Went to the Hospital in Vain - Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured Him When All Else Had Failed.

From The London Advertiser.

There are two things in this world which Mr. John Gibbons, a resident of Queen's-avenue, east, will henceforth place implicit confidence in. One is the judgment of his wife and the other the curative qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In his case the two went hand in hand. Mrs. Gibbons thought of the remedy, the pills did the rest, and to-day Mr. Gibbons is a well man, where last fall he was virtually a cripple.

From The London Advertiser. Mr. Gibbons was met at the door by the object of his visit, and was cordially invited in. The reporter had no sooner got comfortably seated when Mr. Gibbons went into an adjoining room. The sound of clinking bottles was heard through the half-open door and when Mr. Gibbons reappeared he had in his arms a whole basket of bottles. He has to show for many and many a hard earned dollar spent in useless drugs. As Mr. Gibbons was busy showing the bottles and describing upon the impotency of the medicines they had contained, the reporter had abundant opportunity of marking the appearance of the man. His speech betrays his English birth and his face still bears the marks of suffering, but his frame is erect, his step light and elastic and when he tells you that he can work, run or jump with any man you cannot help but believe him. He is 39 years of age, and was born in Bow-road, Stratford, England. He came to Canada in 1882 and located at Galt, where he is well and favorably known. He worked for the Hon. Mr. Young, member of Parliament, for a long time, and seven years ago he married Miss Alice Mann, of Galt. After Mr. Gibbons returned to London he settled down near the car shops and did very well always having the strength to do it. He cared nothing about a wetting until one day a month ago he took an acute attack of sciatic rheumatism following wet feet. "I lay down on this floor," said Mr. Gibbons in telling his story, "and after a few days suffering terrible agony, I could not get up a step and my wife had to help me up from the floor. I felt the pain in my back first. It then apparently left my back and went to my legs. Doctors came here to see me. They gave me prescriptions, but none of them seemed to do me any good. The neighbors could hear me all over Queen's-avenue when I would get an attack of the pain. Last week I was taken out of this place in a hack and taken to the hospital. I remained there about three weeks. The doctors told what they could for me, but could not give me any relief. At the end of three weeks I was discharged, suffering as much as ever. My wife got hold of a pamphlet which told of a number of remarkable cures by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and we determined to try them. I took about three boxes and the sciatic pain was a little easier. I took thirteen boxes altogether, and it is over two months since I have had the least suggestion of pain. "Do you feel that you are entirely cured?" asked the reporter. "Yes, sir, I can do anything I like, my work just as well as ever I could. I feel perfectly strong and have a good appetite. "No, I don't want another attack of sciatic like that," said Mr. Gibbons, as he lighted the reporter to the door.

Mrs. Gibbons was not at home on the occasion of the reporter's first visit. Subsequently he called on her and received entire confirmation of Mr. Gibbons' story. "He was home all last summer," said Mrs. Gibbons, "and last August the pains were so severe as to bring him down his knees, and to save him he could not get up. I had to lift him off the floor many a time. He seemed powerless. The best of his strength had almost all of them been repeatedly filled so that the number of bottles taken before he took the pills," concluded Mrs. Gibbons, "I thought I should never be able to stand upright again. But now," she added in parting, "he is as well as ever." Mrs. Williams' Pink Pills create new blood, build up the nerves, and thus drive disease from the system. In hundreds of cases they have cured after all other medicines had failed, thus establishing the claim that they are a marvel among the triumphs of modern medical science. The genuine Pink Pills are sold only in boxes bearing the red trade mark. "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Protect yourself from impostors by refusing any pill that does not bear the registered trade mark around the box.

The Green and Parade. The Royal Grenadiers held their first full parade Tuesday evening. Col. Mason commanded, and including recruits, there were 412 men in line. The line of march was as follows: University and St. George's, Yonge to Queen, and up University to Bank.

Sunday Cars. A suggestion to the City Council and street railways, see by last night's report that the reason assigned by the company for not offering full service on all routes is the fact that Bloor-street especially there are so many churches, that Y. U. C. A. will be the disturbance. As I hope the cars will be long take people as much to church as to the street, it would be to have no disturbance as the result of their running. Whilst patiently waiting for the cars, therefore, more expensive machinery is being used to run the cars. The cars will adopt the British system, which compels all vehicles to go at a walking pace only past every place of worship. Let the cars go slow and stop their clanging bells when passing a sacred edifice, where the service is being conducted, and they will solve the difficulty which has been feeling. At the same time, the driver and conductor can keep a sharp lookout to some of the anti-always live on the side of the good boys and girls, so pathetically suffering of Mark Twain, of suffering of consequences of other sinners' Sabbath-breaking. J. S. says: "I was in a dreadfully weak and nervous condition, unable to rest and utterly unfit for work, and Miller's Compound Iron Pills cured me."

MR. LAURIER SHOULD TAKE CARE

Labour's Loss in the U.S. is Over $300,000,000 Yearly owing to Cleveland's Free Trade Policies.

From The New York Press. No greater public duty has been performed during the present campaign than that of the officers of the Cambria Iron Company in making public the exact figures of the losses to their workmen and themselves consequent upon the election of Mr. Cleveland, with the attendant anticipation and realization of his free trade policy. We know from experience, an ever thoughtful person can conceive without experience, the reluctance of manufacturers on this point. They have been ready to supply their quota of information for a census of industrial loss if their names could go unpublished over their signatures the loss of time in their mills. But absolutely to show their books to the public they have naturally been reluctant. The Cambria Iron Company, doubtless relying upon the historic strength of its credit and fearless of the advantage accruing to rivals from the disclosure of its figures, has now applied the first definite figures of the effect of the Cleveland calamity upon a great industrial concern. The facts furnished by Cyrus Elder, the solicitor of the company, to The Johnstown Tribune:

LOSS TO WORKINGMEN. There were $888,404 less wages paid in 1892 than in 1891. There were $206,410 less wages paid in 1894 than in 1892. The loss in wages in two years amounted to $2,824,814.

LOSS TO COMPANY. The value of the product of the Cambria Iron Company in 1892 was $2,064,000 less than in 1891. The value of the product of 1894 was $429,000 less than in 1892. The shrinkage in two years amounted to $2,493,000.

This is the Valley of the Conemaugh and the company's Lake Superior steel works are in the Valley of the Conemaugh. Add to these losses those of the great works of Braddock, Duquesne and Homestead, and they go for only as far as Pittsburgh, only seventy miles along one great trunk railroad, and a single track on one slope of the Alleghenies, in making up this catalogue of catastrophes. In what of the Valley of the Conemaugh, what is Johnstown to Pittsburgh? Then go on west, through Youngstown, Cleveland, Chicago, Joliet, leaving out all reference to the great eastern plants, such as Sparrow Point, Md.; the steel works of the Valley of the Conemaugh, though not all as high in that class, as the Cambria works. Do not think of the Conemaugh, but of the thought of the calculation of losses in this single branch of trade, which Mr. Elder, who is not merely a lawyer, but an economist of repute, says is "better off than some other branches. Prices were not compared with woollens, he might have said. Twenty-four hundred thousand dollars went to the workingmen of a single one of the thousands of the country's industrial plants! Two and a half millions from this one little town, this city of the "third-class," which would have gone, as Mr. Elder says, "to the local farmers, but all over the country to Southern farmers for fruit and early vegetables; to Western farmers for beef, pork, lard and flour, and for corn in its solid and liquid state, and as much barley as finds its way into beer."

CRIME IN GOTHAM

Thugs Growing More Audacious in Uncle Sam's Chief City—Highway Robberies in the Park.

New York, Sept. 18.—Bolder and bolder become the criminals that infest the city and its environs. The record of crime increases, not only in length, but in the audacity of the offenses.

Charles Palmé, an employe of St. Luke's Hospital, was held up by a burglar in Central Park yesterday afternoon when drives and walks are usually thronged. He resisted, and the burglar, who was well armed, a blow which shattered his jaw and cut his tongue nearly in half.

Another assault by a thug occurred just within the park gate at Fifty-ninth-street, shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday.

George Wisner, an infirm old man, was brutally beaten by a highway robber who tried to rob him in First-avenue, near Twenty-third-street.

Another assault by a thug occurred in the cellar of a King-street stable. He was held up by a thug who tried to rob him in First-avenue, near Twenty-third-street.

Jersey furnished its usual story of an assault on a woman upon the highway, with the variation that the alleged assailant was caught. It was at Calton, and the farmer of the whole section turned out, and after an all-night hunt, captured their man, a stranger in the neighborhood.

Ten-Year-Old Men Want Pensions. The provisions of the present pension warrant now limit the grant of pensions to men who have seen 14 years' active service. Many of the veterans consider this limitation somewhat unjust, and a meeting of the ten-year-service members of the Army and Navy Veterans was held in Temperance Hall last evening for the purpose of taking steps to have the pension extended to them. There were 19 present, Mr. J. Nunn occupying the chair. Messrs. George Blagg, the secretary, P. Cunningham, J. Lillie, and the other members were appointed a committee to draw up a petition and forward it to the British Government for the end desired. The petition was taken to obtain through Lord Aberdeen, Her Majesty's influence in their behalf. The meeting adjourned to meet again on Oct. 8 next, and in the meantime as the local lodge would like to make the movement a general one, the secretary would be desirous to communicate with other discharged veterans throughout the country who are interested.

West End Y.M.C.A. The opening reception of the season of the West End Y.M.C.A. will be held on Tuesday evening, Sept. 22nd, at the building, 407 Queen-st. East, and will be a special musical program by Mr. Kirby, musical director.

TYPHOID COSTS MONEY.

Unbearable Always to Drinking Infected Water or Eating Infected Food—The Health Officers at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 17.—At to-day's session of the American Public Health Association, Dr. Peter H. Brown of Toronto, Canada, chairman of the Committee on River Conservancy Boards of Supervision, presented the report of the committee. Dr. Wyatt Johnson of Montreal, bacteriologist to the Provincial Board of Health of Quebec, presented a paper on "The Serum Diagnosis Test for Typhoid Fever." Dr. Johnson gave the practical results of his personal work in diagnosing typhoid fever cases from drops of blood. His address was exceedingly interesting.

Dr. J. Elliot Woodbridge, of Cleveland, Ohio, presented an interesting paper on "Prophylaxis of Typhoid Fever." He stated in opening his paper, that the cost of typhoid fever in actual money was $8,125,000 per annum in this country alone. Every fact of typhoid fever, he said, was traceable to either the drinking of infected water, or the eating of infected food. He said it was a subject that called for Government attention and to prevent the dumping of refuse into the water upon which the people are depending for drinking.

He spoke of the rivers in the United States and Canada and of the means by which the water supply was contaminated through the interference of some cities to the water of other cities and towns farther down the rivers, which caught the result of the refuse dumped in upper portions of the rivers, which was carried by the current to places farther down.

This municipal selfishness, said he, should be checked by Government action. It was the only preventive of typhoid, said he, "is a water-born disease, and to the purity of the water supply is the only preventive of typhoid." Amongst the papers presented at the afternoon session, was one on bacteriological diagnosis as governing the admission and discharge of patients in public hospitals, by Professor E. B. Shuttleworth of Trinity Medical College, Toronto, Canada.

Partridge Shooting in Muskoka. A letter received from Muskoka, Muskoka, says that partridge are very plentiful in the Muskoka region. It is now in use as a reading room and social resort for the winter. There are three under canvas. The association has provided writing materials, pens, and each night special gospel services for men are held by Mr. Thomas A. Hodges, the association's evangelist.

Mr. E. J. Colville, the West end branch secretary, will conduct the young men's meeting at the central hall this evening. This last week has been one of organization, most of the committees have met and completed their plans for the winter. It is the intention of one and all to make this season the best and most successful one ever known. Secretary Pratt was at Lindsay last evening addressing the session of the Christian Endeavor Society.

To Put in the Winter. Court Hope, A.O.F., held their quarterly meeting in the Temperance Hall last evening. Seven candidates were initiated and 40 new members were received throughout the winter. These will take the form of a grand banquet on the 15th and will be enjoyed by both members and friends.

THE JULIET GOLD MINE.

THE BEST OPPORTUNITY YET OFFERED IN

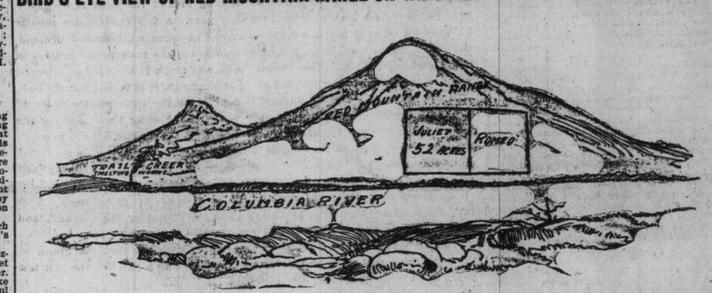

BRITISH COLUMBIA GOLD MINES

The Stock of the English-Canadian Gold Mining Company is Now for the first time offered to investors—Investors participate in all the profits of the Company, including the Juliet Mine, now owned by them—One of the Best Mining Sites in the Rossland and Trail Creek Districts—The Management in the Hands of Well-known Business Men.

This Company has been incorporated with a capital of One Million Dollars, divided into one million shares of $1 each. The shares are now placed on the market at 8 cents per share of $1, fully paid stock and non-assessable. The objects of the Company are to buy, sell and deal in mines and develop and work such mines as they may procure and consider worth operating. Shareholders participate in all profits resulting from the same. This Company has already procured the Juliet Mine, which is considered one of the best mining claims in British Columbia. The Juliet consists of a full claim of about 52 acres, and is situated in the now celebrated Rossland and Trail Creek mining district, within a stone's throw of the Columbia River on the one side, with a railway on the other with a first-class tunnel site, and convenient to Trail Creek smelter. The Company hold a clear title to this property.

This property is mineralized throughout, having a heavy iron capping with red stain, which is considered by experts to be a sure indication of gold in paying quantities. The Juliet now shows large deposits of the precious metal, and from all reports obtainable the Company believe this property alone will yield to its shareholders a return equal to or greater than that of any other mining property in the Rossland district. The affairs of the Company will be amply and personally looked after by a superintendent resident at Rossland, and by officers and trustees in Toronto and Spokane. These officers are under no salary or remuneration of any kind, but are each shareholders in the Company, and depending upon future returns from the mines as a reward for their services.

BIRD'S EYE VIEW OF RED MOUNTAIN RANGE ON WHICH THE JULIET MINE IS SITUATED

The above gives a bird's eye view of the now famous Red Mountain range, on which are situated the Juliet Mine and many others. Among them and adjoining this property is the Romeo, recently bonded to an English syndicate. The Romeo is now shipping paying ore. The same vein of ore can be traced through the Juliet, running north and south. There is also another distinct vein which can be traced for a distance of 500 feet, and the ore exposed averages in value $26.20 per ton.

Six miners are at work under the direct supervision of MR. THOMAS R. MORROW of Rossland, B.C., and work will be continued without interruption all winter. The facilities for shipping ore from the Juliet are much better than any other working mine in Trail Creek camp, as the main tunnel opens up into the Columbia River, where the ore can be dumped on a barge and floated to Trail Creek smelter, a distance of 3 1/2 miles. A railway runs directly back of the Juliet; there is also water and wood in abundance. This effects a great saving in the cost of handling ore. The Juliet ore, it is believed, can be mined and smelted for about $13 per ton when further developed.

The promoters and largest shareholders in the company have by resolution agreed not to place any portion of their stock upon the market until sufficient treasury stock has been disposed of to properly develop the mine.

300,000 shares of the capital stock, fully paid up and non-assessable, have by-by-law of the Company been set apart for development purposes. These shares are now, until further notice, offered for sale at 8 cents per share of $1, fully paid up and not further assessable. As these prices are likely to last but a few days intending purchasers are advised to act promptly.

The following are a few of the shareholders from whom the officers and trustees will be selected:
