THE UNIVERSITY LAND GRANT.

The public will not be disposed to adversely criticize the proposal of the Ontario Government to grant the University of Toronto a block of agricultural lands in the Rainy River district. It intends to keep the land with a view to its use as a source of income for the university. The university will have to extend its facilities in various departments, and to do this a considerable increase in its endowment is necessary. Especially can the university afford to carry more than the present number of students. As we pointed out the other day the university has been without a professor of mineralogy and geology for a year or two. The want of funds to maintain this department is no doubt the reason why the university has not been able to engage a professor in this line. By the Government the grant of this land by the Government is based upon a long-standing claim for 157,433 acres of land originally reserved for grammar schools and the university. Whether the claim would stand scrutiny before a bare of Chancery judges or not we are not prepared to say, but the claim is a fair one as far as the present necessities of the university are concerned. The friends of the university owe a vote of thanks to Mr. Thomas Hodgins, Q.C., for the personal services he has rendered to this institution in the presentation of its claims to the land grant. To the same gentleman is also largely due the credit of securing the affiliation of the University of Toronto to the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge. Toronto University now enjoys the privileges conceded by these two seats of learning to colonial universities. Its students who have completed two or three years of study and have passed the first and second examinations for the degrees of arts or medicine are entitled to be admitted to the same standing and the privileges of attendance in the British universities above mentioned.

A CULPABLE SCHOOL BOARD.

There are others connected with our Public schools besides the pupils who require a few simple lessons in hygiene. Events that have recently occurred in Winton convict the Public School Board of that town of an almost criminal ignorance of the principles of public sanitation. The brothers and sisters of pupils affected with diphtheria were allowed to attend school while the disease was running its course at the homes of these pupils. Furthermore, the pupils of the school attended the funeral of a member of the Mayor, which had died of diphtheria. This was a member of the School Board, and the physician who attended the Mayor's child was also a member of the Board. As a result of this shameful neglect, or ignorance, on the part of the School Board and of this medical practitioner, twenty-two cases of diphtheria occurred in the school, and four deaths have already taken place. It has been found necessary to close the schools and churches to prevent the disease from making further headway. All this trouble and this loss of life might have been avoided if the ordinary rules regarding contagious diseases had been applied when the outbreak first occurred. This neglect of duty, or rather perhaps ignorance of it, should be brought home to the culpable parties in such a way as to impart a valuable lesson not only to themselves, but to all who have similar responsibilities resting on their shoulders.

OUR TRADE WITH GREAT BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES.

In estimating the probable effect that an increase in the United States tariff will have on this country, we should bear in mind that the United States took only 33 per cent of our exports last year, as against 55 per cent, consumed by the United Kingdom. On the other hand, while we purchased only 25 per cent of our imports from the United Kingdom we bought 50 per cent of them in the United States. If the United States raises its tariff so as to reduce our exports to that country, which are 33 per cent of our total, it would not be a matter of indifference to our tariff so that the percentage of imports from the United States and Great Britain would be reversed. This can be effected by means of a preferential duty on English goods or rather a maximum duty on United States goods. Such a duty, properly arranged, would not increase the cost of our imports while it would increase our exports to Great Britain, especially if the latter country adopted a preferential duty on Canadian products as an equivalent for our imposing a maximum duty on American goods. It is only a proposal of this kind that will induce the Americans to deal reasonably with this country. We will never get fair play from the Americans by conciliation. We must retaliate.

THE AUTO CAR.

The horseless carriage, or auto-car, is slow in making its appearance here, but it is not on its way. Its arrival in Canada cannot be delayed long this summer. The large omnibus companies of London have begun to supplement those vehicles with auto-cars. There is no doubt the new vehicle will be a success as far as the streets of London at least are concerned. Whether it will prove practicable in the ordinary country highway has not yet been satisfactorily determined. The race between London and Brighton on Saturday was contested by fifty participants. An American machine came in ahead, having covered the ground at the rate of 12 miles an hour. This exhibition appears to have been a greater success than any previously held. Hundreds of inventors and mechanics in England, France, the United States and other countries are hard at work in perfecting the auto-car. It is a practical, economical machine as it exists to-day, but further simplification is necessary before it will be generally adopted. When the auto-car is perfected it will effect a great change in our business and social relations. It will create much of a revolution as the trolley did ten years ago.

ONE WAY TO CRAWL OUT.

NO WATER FOR U.C.C.

Ald. Gowanlock moved to strike out and amend the resolution to grant free water to Upper Canada College. Ald. Spence made an extended speech against the proposal, on the ground that the city should not be asked to pay for a certain class of citizens, who do not care to pay for their education. The Government has recognized the fact that the education of the children of the city is a burden to be shouldered by the city. The Mayor declared that he had never been so much surprised at anything as he was at the position taken by Ald. Spence. He was a worthy proposition brought before the council this was one of the strongest arguments of the city was directly interested in retaining the college as a source of revenue. Ald. Lamb was of the opinion that every citizen ought to be proud of the college which the city of Toronto was inseparably connected. He was in favour of the college as a source of revenue. The Mayor declared that he had never been so much surprised at anything as he was at the position taken by Ald. Spence. He was a worthy proposition brought before the council this was one of the strongest arguments of the city was directly interested in retaining the college as a source of revenue.

A QUESTION OF LEGALITY.

Ald. Crane proposed that the recommendation of the Mayor and the Board of Control to take for bringing before the council a proposition which was illegal. Ald. Halton complained that the Mayor had not brought down a general policy which would apply to all similar institutions. Ald. Spence and Ald. Lamb strongly supported the grant, the latter declaring that it was a mere question of whether the college was worth to the city the small amount asked for. Ald. R. H. Greenhalgh asserted that it would be a calamity if the city of Toronto did not hold out a helping hand to the college to close its doors, or be removed for the sake of $500 per year. Ald. Spence moved to refer the report back, with instructions to the Board of Control to provide funds necessary to carry out their recommendation. Ald. Gowanlock moved to amend the resolution so that the Corporation should be authorized to purchase the land on which the college was situated. The resolution gave rise to discussion, in which several members of the council appeared. The Mayor declared that the council should not pursue the case any further. Ald. Spence, however, proposed any further risk in going to the Privy Council. Ald. Sheppard thought care should be exercised and the best advice taken before going on with the case. He was not certain that the advice proposed was the best to pursue. Ald. Davies strongly supported the report. After a number of amendments had been voted upon, the motion of the Corporation Council was also inserted in the report so that the opinion of both gentlemen would be a SUSPICIOUS CASE.

UPON REACHING THE CLAUSE IN THE REPORT.

Upon reaching the clause in the report recommending the acceptance of the tender of F. Jackson to deliver material for filling in at the south end of the Harbour, the Mayor declared that the tender was a successful one, stating that, owing to his inability to secure the necessary plant, he was compelled to withdraw his tender. Enquiry elicited the fact that no deposit had been made with the tender, which brought the City Engineer and Board of Control into a dispute for neglect to observe the rules respecting tenders. Ald. Lamb was ready with a resolution to accept the next lowest tender, that of Coghill & Co. at 8 cents per cubic yard, one cent above the price of F. Jackson. Ald. Gowanlock insisted upon the report going back. WORKS COMMITTEE IGNORED. During the discussion it was learned that, although the Engineer's letter to the Board of Control recommending that the work be done was dated Nov. 5, and during the interim the Board of Works had held a meeting, that committee had been in ignorance of the fact that the work was to be done. This caused a storm of protests from indignant members of the committee. Ald. Boustead intimated that if the Board of Control was going to usurp the functions of all the committees, the other members had better shut up shop and go home.

Ald. Leslie enquired whether Ald. Lamb thought he could run the City Engineer, Board of Works and Council as well as the Board of Control. He was surprised at Ald. Lamb's assertion in the business of the Works Department as though he still occupied the position of chairman. Ald. Gowanlock asserted that this playing with contracts by the Engineer's Department had been going on for years. It had only been sent on to Council, he declared, by mistake and had it not the next tender would have obtained the contract and nobody would have been the wiser. Jackson was depending on Coghill for the use of a portion of the plant necessary to do the work. At 6 o'clock Council adjourned until 8 o'clock.

IRREGULARITY NOT TOLERATED.

Upon resuming, Ald. Lamb entered a protest against what he claimed was an irregularity on the part of the Board of Control. He pointed out that the John street bridge would not be completed until the next tender was received. The matter was delayed until next spring the city could get a much better price, as the contractor for dredging Queen's wharf channel would be only too glad to get a dumping place so close to these works. The recommendation was struck out, and the matter came up in the council it will be through the proper channels. Ald. Boustead, in connection with the accounts of Blake, Lamb & Cassels and Sir Oliver Mowat, amounting to $200 each for their opinions on the Sunday car case, enquired why it was that the Sunday Car Committee had not been called together to consider the opinions, recommend the accounts for payment, and to finish up their business. The Mayor declared any intention of ignoring the committee was to summon a meeting at once if thought necessary. The report of the Board of Control, striking out the recommendation of the Committee on Property, to allow the Mayor to purchase the lease of St. Lawrence Market, fees for 1896, a rebate of $150 in full settlement of all claims against the city, was not carried.

COURT HOUSE CONTRACT.

The recommendation of the Board of Control accepting the tender of Ben. A. Wright for work at the city buildings at a cost of $151,985 gave rise to considerable discussion. Ald. Spence enquired whether this was going to be the last demand for more money. Architect Lennox assured the Council that it would be unless the council agreed to purchase the building. A number of the members spoke and appeared pretty unanimous in the opinion that the two millions of dollars and upwards of expenditure now in sight was quite sufficient embellishment. The recommendation accepting the tender was adopted.

MORE INFORMATION WANTED.

There was considerable opposition to some of the items in the estimate of money required to finish the building and the clause recommending that a by-law be submitted to the people for $75,000 was referred to a committee. In this connection, City Solicitor-Cassels has given an official opinion that the city can enter into a contract for the steam heating, plumbing, galvanizing, iron work and electric wiring. The contract, however, will contain a clause providing that, unless the delivery of the work is either by vote of the taxpayers or in the estimates for 1897, the contract for all work in excess of $10,000 be cancelled. A number of notices of motion in anticipation of the municipal elections were given and the order paper was partially cleared off before adjournment.

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS.

The Mayor brought down a message stating that he had interviewed a number of the leading business men of the city, who have agreed to close their stores on Saturday, Dec. 26, thus giving the city a holiday on Thursday evening until the following morning. He then asked the council to give him permission to correspond with or have interviewed a large number of other business houses and if they agree to accept the proposition, that he be authorized to issue a proclamation accordingly. Sam. S. Martin of 157 Sherbourne street, on behalf of himself and his father, both address of His Worship the Mayor, wrote asking that a connection in the bicycle route across the north portion of the city be made by gravelling a portion of Roxboro-avenue, and Crescent-road, Rosedale, or else that wheelmen be permitted to use the sidewalks on those portions of the streets named, where the mud road-way is impassable. E. A. Foster wrote protesting on behalf of the ratepayers in the East End of the city against the erection of the East End stables on the Don Plaza, south Gerrard-street bridge, as it will injure the adjoining property.

WATERBORN'S DEATH.

Coroner Freeland has asked Acting Crown Attorney Lees to investigate into the death of James Waterborn at Limebank, who was found dead in his bed on Friday last with his throat cut from ear to ear. The theory that Waterborn suicided is not accepted, as no knife or other sharp instrument was found near the body, such as would be used in ending his life. TRADE AND COMMERCE.
