

the young men; at the same time, these meetings are intended for all, young or old, and will be found most helpful. They are made as open as possible, one member opens the meeting and the subject, but all may take some part: it is desired that there be no restraint.

D. TORRANCE FRASER,

President.

A. M. NAIRN,

Secretary.

