BENCH PAYS TRIBUTE TO DEPARTED BROTHER

Striking Testimony to Worth of Late Judge Hodgins, Whose Funeral Was Yesterday.

Mourning by all who knew him well, the late Judge Thomas Hodgins, who died Friday night, was laid to rest in Mount Pleasant Cemetery yesterday afternoon. The funeral, which was strictly private, proceeded from the late residence, 22 West Bloor street, to the cemetery, after a short service had been conducted by Archdeacon Cody. A number of members of the judiciary attended the obsequies.

In his sermon on Sunday Archdeacon Cody referred to the late judge having been an old and respected member of the congregation, erudite in law, skilled in international law and diplomacy. As a man the late judge was a combination of dignity and courtesy, and, above all, one of the most kindly of men. The archdeacon also referred to the judge as having been interested in the church, and having had a life-long interest in everything connected with his alma mater, the University of Toronto.

Tribute from the Bench to the late Justice Hodgins, master-in-ordinary at Osgoode Hall and admiralty judge of the exchequer court, were paid by a number of judges yesterday morning, and out of respect the courts at Osgoode Hall were adjourned yesterday afternoon, many of the justices attending the funeral.

In the divisional court Chancellor Boyd referred to the late Justice Hodgins as a judge whose industry, patience and dignity were to be commended.

"He was an erudite and painstaking judge," he said, "who always sought to do what he believed to be right. His constant endeavor was to arrive at the truth, in order to give effect to what appealed to him as the very right and justice of the case. His passing is a distinct loss to the public service of the country, and we join in commending the record he has left of a useful, fruitful and honorable life.

In the court of appeal yesterday morning Chief Justice Macdonald paid a glowing tribute to his memory. He said it was with a great deal of sorrow that he and his colleagues learned of the death of Justice Hodgins, who as a man was of a genial and kindly disposition and in the daily intercourse with others, whether in the social circle or in his judicial findings, was courteous and considerate in manner.

His lordship pointed out that the deceased had written several books which were valuable to the profession.

From Chief Justice Falconbridge.

In the non-jury court chief Justice Falconbridge paid the following tribute to the late Justice Hodgins:

"Mr. Hodgins' manners were characterized by that polished urbanity which we always find pleasing, even though we know or suspect that it is a more artificial veneer. But in his case it was the outward manifestation of true benevolence of disposition and kindness of heart."

"As to his intellectual achievements, he was not alone distinguished in the general domain of law, but he had made himself known as a high authority in international questions, in constitutional law, in diplomatic and parliamentary practice. He loved his country, as he loved his alma mater, with a pure and lofty fervor; and he gave of his best to the service of both in his time, his talents, his tongue and pen. He was a fine example of altruism in an age which is generally characterized by selfishness and egoism."

"May God rest his soul in peace."

BIG PROFIT IN 'DRINKS'

Police Stopped Illegal Sale and $10 Was Chopped Off Fine.

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 17.—(Special.)—A woman named Robinson, whose husband left her two years ago because of her conduct, was taken in charge by R. E. Boyle, high constable, on a charge of keeping a house of ill-fame. At the house, Frances West, a young colored girl, was found. She claimed to have been employed as a domestic. On information supplied by this girl, Magistrate Campbell sentenced the woman to two years in the Mercer Reformatory, Toronto. Mike Cooper, colored, will be arrested on a serious charge connected with the case. Norris Stevens was convicted this morning of permitting persons in his barroom on Sunday, Jan. 16, the sale of liquor to James Hayerson, K.C., Toronto. Magistrate Campbell made the fine $40 instead of $50, as the police had just arrived in time to stop the sale of liquor.

FIRE DEPT. ESTIMATES INCREASE BY $10,000

Chief Asks for Auto and 6 Extra Men—Annual Meetings of Presbyterian Churches.

HAMILTON, Jan. 17.—(Special.)—Chief Ten Eyck asked the fire, police and jail committee this evening for $79,496 for the fire department, or over $10,000 more than he had last year. He asked for auto and four extra firemen. Both are provided for in the estimates. The jail estimates call for $8070. The resignation of Fireman Smith was accepted and Charles Simms was appointed. The firemen petitioned for the abolition of the rule that provides that if they report late for duty twice in six months they lose their day off. The committee declined to make any change until the chief made a written recommendation. He has expressed himself in favor of the petition. The board of control will be asked to call for tenders for the new police stations at once. The veterinary work department will be divided amongst Messrs. Groves, Baker, Craig and Blacklock. Efforts will be made to arrange for the east end incline railway to keep the firemen to the top of the mountain in case fire breaks out in the settlement there. Ald. Birrell thought the committee should not pay insurance for the fire station. He figured out that it had cost the city $4000 in the past 25 years for insurance, and it had only got $7 back. The committee decided to retain the insurance.

Work was resumed to-day of the sudden death at Hookick Falls, N.Y., of James Dowling, a molder, who formerly resided here.
