BISHOP'S SHARP REBUKE

deficits caused by unbusinesslike methods.

The criticism was resented by Archdeacon Ingles, who said he would not continue as chairman of the committee if they were repeated. It had been understood that the synod was pledged to raise the funds, and the committee had acted in that belief. The resolution carried unanimously.

The committee, however, was criticized by Rev. J. R. McLean of Cobourg for its choice of lessons. Of 52 lessons, only 5 were from the New Testament. In golden texts, too, only 18 were from the New and 55 from the Old Testament. He also complained that the lessons were too advanced for the children, and he asked for a better grading. The committee will act.

Rev. R. A. Hiltz, general secretary of S. S. work, pleaded for improved organization. He believed that the losing of the boys of the Sunday school as they grew up was due to this lack of organization and to the absence of properly-graded lessons.

Of the diocese of Toronto, the commission this year asks $900. Last year $740 was asked for, and only $600 contributed. Rev. Mr. Hiltz described the Anglican church as "crawling along at a snail's pace" in comparison to other bodies in the most important work of the church.

In moving a resolution of loyalty to King George, Chancellor Worrell complained of the omission of the title "Defender of the Faith." Bishop Reeve said he had copied the titles from a resolution of the Church Missionary Society.

The evening session was almost entirely taken up with a discussion in which Hon. S. H. Blake figured prominently, regarding the non-payment of some $500 that had been deducted from missionaries' salaries during three months of last year, when the fundse were at low ebb. A resolution proposed by Rural Dean Cayley and seconded by Rev. Mr. Vipond was finally carried to pay the amounts due.

The mission board had prepared a schedule of grants for the year 1910-1911, restoring "in a measure" according to the ability o fthe board, the former schedule. On this estimation, the expenditure would amount to $19,766 for the mission fund and $1000 Wilson bequest—a total of $20,766. Hon. Mr. Blake urged that as there was a surplus in the treasury the former schedule should be completely restored. His point was sustained by the synod.

"I find less faith in the church than I do among business men," said Mr. Blake, in referring to the expenditure of church funds. Everything here is peradventure—perhaps, etc., regarding the future."

Condemnation of Hanging.

Canon Davidson has given notice that he will move: "That this synod places on record our disapproval of capital punishment by hanging, and that the proper steps be taken to memoralize the Parliament of Canada to speedily adopt some other means of execution less degrading in character and more in harmony with the instincts and customs of teh present age."

Rev. C. J. Agar has given notice that he will move: "That this synod deplores the frequency of crimes against the persons of women, girls, and even children, as reported from various parts of the country, and requests the executive committe of the synod to urge upon the proper civil authorities the enactment of more stringent laws against such crimes with heavier penalties and moe severe punishments for their infraction with a strict enforcement of such laws and infliction of such penalties and punishments."

The following were elected to the executive: Clergy — Rev. Provost Macklem of Trinity College; Rev. Canon Dixon, Toronto; Ven. Archdeacon Cody, Toronto; Rev. Canon Spragge, Cobourg, and Rev. Canon March of Lindsay. Lay members: Hon. S. H. Blake, K.C., Toronto; L. H. Baldwin, Deer Park; W. H. Hoyle, M.L.A., Cannington; A. R. Boswell, Toronto, and J. S. Barber of Toronto.

The following were elected to represent the synod on the Sunday School Association: Rev. J. S. Broughall, Toronto, and Rev. F. L. Barber, of Bobcaygeon; lay representatives: Messrs. J. S. Barber and H. Mortimer.

INTEREST INCREASES IN WORLD'S TRIP

Low Rate Excursion to New York This Month is Very Popular.

For the last two or three days The World Office has been besieged by those who are interested in the low rate excursion to New York on June 23. It is evident that this trip is going to be a record breaker, both as to the number of people who take advantage of it and the sumptuous way in which the excursionists are to travel. They will go over the Lehigh Valley Railroad, noted for its magnificent equipment and the beautiful scenery thru which it runs.

The boat trip, which is optional to the excursionists, will also be very popular, the sail across the lake and the run up the gorge to Niagara Falls presenting many attractions.

Another reason that so many people are going is, that June and July are the best months in which to see New York. The beautiful city is then at its best and all its attractions are at the disposal of the visitors. Eight days spent in New York in June and July will afford as much rest and enjoyment as three weeks spent anywhere else.

High-class accommodation at the hotels Bristol and Arlington has been arranged for World excursionists at reduced rates. These hotels are both conveniently situated as regards the theatres, the shopping district and all lines of transportation.

No matter how many people go on this excursion, there will be no overcrowding and everything will be done for the comfort and safety of the passengers.

The rate secured is a very low one, $14.25 for round trip by rail, and $12.35 for round trip partially by boat. Tickets are good leaving Toronto on June 23, and leaving New York on and up to July 2. This will be the last chance of a low rate to New York until the latter part of August.

Further information may be obtained from the display ad in another column, or at The World office, where tickets are on sale.

EARL GREY CERTAINLY A BOOSTER FOR CANADA

Tells People in Bristol To Come and See and They Will Want To Stay.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

LONDON, June 16.—At Bristol, on his arrival, Earl Grey was immediately surrounded by a band of eager pressmen, but held his own against the fire of questions with frank good huor and ics. "We had a delightful voyage. The subtle avoidance of controversal topdevelopment of Canada is going as strong as it can go. The maritime provinces are as good for immigrations as the Northwest. Prospects were never brighter," he said.

"Why don't you come and see the country? You cannot understand it till you see it and visit it. When you have visited it once you won't be happy until you have seen it a doezn times." Earl Grey added that Canadians were plased with the present class of immigration.

Asked about the imperial spirit in Canada, he said: "Imperial spirit is all right in Canada," he answerèd. "Why they are more imperial than you are. I wish you would come to Toronto to see the Empire Day celebration as I saw it. Then you would know what I mean. The people of Canada believe in themselves and their future as a part of the empire."

SUGGESTION FOR MEMORIAL

Civic Art Guild Proposes Diagonal Street.

Another step in the "city beautiful" movement was taken last night at the meeting of the Guild of Civic Art, when it was decided to organize a representative and influential deputation to wait upon the mayor-in-council in support of the appointment of a committee armed with necessary funds to prepare a comprehensive plan and report.

Home Smith submitted a new plan for a sea wall which he maintained would overcome the objections it met when a bylaw was submitted to the public to raise debentures. By cutting out almost a third of the wall, and at the same time preserving the bathing places, the cost would be cut down one half. The plan was explained to the guild, and will be submitted to the council.

E. Burke introduced a resolution with respect to the proposed memorial to the late King Edward which should take the form of opening up the western diagonal street shown in the guild's general plan.

The guild recommended that the suggestion be submitted to the city council.

The widening of St. Clair-avenue, introduced by Mr. Gregg, who had a plan of his own, was discussed, and it was expressed that the opportunity at this time should not be lost of carrying out a work which is of so much importance to the city. Mr. Gregg's plan gives St. Clair-avenue a width of 86 feet from Yonge to Bathurst-streets. He moved that the guild endorse Ald. May's motion, but the matter was referred to the executive with instructions to use their influence to the best advantage and if possible advocate the city paying 75 per cent. of the cost.

Tattoo and Review Day.

Thursday next is the big night at Niagara Camp, when the tattoo takes place. In order to see the event one must go over on the 5.15 p. m. trip. The rate for the day is $1, good returning on special steamer if desired. Friday will be Review Day, and the special $1 rate, good for the day, will again be in force. ed.

QUEEN'S OWN PAGEANT A BRILLIANT SPECTACLE

Full Dress Rehearsal of the Fourth Epoch in the Series Enthuses All Who Witness It.

Queen Elizabeth didn't have her Raleigh or her Leicster to lean upon as she was escorted up the royal steps at the exhibition grounds last night. She was escorted by a sturdy and not over gallant Oliver Cromwell. Still aside from a few trifling slips of this nature in mating them up, the procession of kings and queen and historic notables was a pretty sight at the first dress rehearsal of the fourth epoch of the Queen's Own pageant to be given next week. In fact, Pageant Master Henderson was not very particular about putting crowned heads thru their facings to the letter on this occasion, his hands were too full with over a thousand other persons.

People will not be disappointed with the spectacle, provided in the fourth epoch. It promises to be the most brilliant display ever viewed in Toronto. It was witnesed in its nearly finished state by a good thousand people who were interested in one way and another, and who will whisper its magnificence far and wide. There were 1200 brightly costumed and uniformed characters on the platform at one time.

The scene shows the foreground of Buckingham Palace, wherein King Edward lately died, with the beautiful gates, which were presented by Canada at the time of the late sovereign's coronation, represented in full size as a background. The space opposite the grand stand was never more gorgeously staged. The scenery for the spectacle shows both painstaking and art.

Beginning with the entrance of all of England's kings and queens and historic figures, with all the notables that contributed to Canada's history, the scene follows up with 400 singing children, arrayed in red, white and blue, and arranged in lines accordingly. To the martial music of "The Red, White and Blue," the lines were formed like three ribbons, stepping in perfect time. A choral concert with band accompaniment follows.

SHAM FIGHT AND TATTOO AT THE NIAGARA CAMP

Lt.-Col. Merritt's Cavalry Force Successful in Piercing Enemy's Line—Big Crowd at Night.

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, June 16.—(Special.)—Bloodless warfare has been waged around this historic old place all to-day. There were two sham battles. In the morning the infantry fought and in the afternoon the cavalry. The infantry set-to was more of an instructional exercise than a sham-fight and it was called a draw.

The cavalry affair was different tho. It was up to the force commanded by Lieut.-Col. W. B. Merritt to pierce the advance guard of an alleged army and gain information.

Tattoo Last Night.

The tattoo held to-night was the most successful in the history of the camp. Lieut.-Col. J. G. Langton was in charge of the proceedings. Special trains and boats brought in a large number.

Quarter-Master-Sergeant-Trumpeter H. J. Elton, R.C.D., was in charge of the bugle and trumpet bands. After the first post the buglers played Elton's bugle march, "Niagara." Then the 12 military bands marched past playing their regimental marches. The bands, in order, were: 12th Regiment, "Old 95;" 20th Regiment, "The Campbells Are Coming"; 23rd Regiment, "Come Lassies and Lads"; 31st, pretty march written especially for them six years ago; 34th, "John Peel"; 35th, "Cock of the North"; 36th, "Here's to the Maiden"; 37th (the Indian band), "Twin Sisters"; 39th, "The Grand Parade"; 44th, "Lincolnshire Poachers"; 77th, "Lass o' Gowrie"; Army Service Corps, "Officers of the Day." Next came the massed trumpeters playing the trumpet march, "R.C.D."

After that came the "Evening Hymn," played by the massed bands under Bandmaster Sutton. Then "Rule Britannia." The bandsmen, led by Andrew Voss, cornet soloist of the 39th Regiment, sang the chorus. In order named were played: "O Canada," "The Maple Leaf," "The British Grenadiers," and "Abide With Me." While they were playing "Abide With Me" the bandsmen's torches were slowly extinguished. The massed trumpeters then played the "Last Post," which was followed by "God Save the King."

At intervals fireworks were ignited.

Off to Petawawa.

Gen. French leaves here to-morrow morning for the artillery camp at Petawawa.

Brig.-Gen. Cotton will review the troops at 4 p.m. to-morrow afternoon.

Grenadiers' Band will play on Turbinia Moonlight, Saturday, June 18, from Bay Street 8.15 p.m. Tickets 35 cents.

ORGANIZE EARLY AND BRING OUT STRONG MEN

to welcome Mayor McKay to the ranks of the Conservative party.

Proceeding to discuss the commercial outlook, Mr. Borden said the great market of Canada to-day was in the British Islands, and it was a matter of satisfaction to see that the chief market of the dairy products of Canada was found in the mother country, whose flag would always float over this country.

Criticizing the administration of the Laurier Government, Mr. Borden said that he was not to be understood to mean that there were no good men in the Liberal party, that the Conservative party had all the virtue in the country. It was the leaders of the party who were at fault, and consequently blameable.

The Conservative party had had reason to hope for success at the last election. The Halifax platform was a continuation of the splendid principles ennunciated in the national policy.

"I do not know that any political party in opposition ever received a more sincere tribute than that which the Conservative party received following the announcement of that platform which was the aodption by the present government of part of that policy, the principle of civil service reform, so that in the future men may be appointed to public office, not from a consideration of their party service or for their political opinions, but upon a consideration of their fitness for the office to which they are to devote themselves in the interests of the people," said Mr. Borden, who then dealt with the acts of maladministration by the Laurier Government. Millions of dollars of public money had been squandered in useless public works, which would cost millions in the future to maintain.

A Strong Condemnation.

Mr. Borden gave an idea of the work done by Conservative members on the public accounts committee at Ottawa. Among other matters investigated was the payment of $73,614.22 to a real estate company which own certain buildings in Ottawa that are renting to the government. In the amount was an item of $9,465.91 which that company received from the government for lighting the two buildings. The City of Ottawa has a municipal electric lighting service and the enquiry revealed the fact that if the government had applied to the City of Ottawa, it could have procured for $5040 the same lighting for which the department of public works was paying $9465.91 to the company.

"The facts were so plain, the condition was so startling, the contract was so outrageous that even the Liberal members of that committee could not uphold them," said Mr. Borden.

"Thus the department of public works has been expressly charged by the public accounts committee, including the government supporters on that committee, with making unjust payments out of the public treasury to this company. From this example of the character of the administration of that department, some other transaction can be fairly judged."

The Sawdust Wharf Scandal.

The "Sawdust wharf" deal at Richibucto, N.B., was also described in detail. Richibucto is a small town in the Province of New Brunswick, having a population of less than 1000 inhabitants. Henry O'Leary, one of the leading business men of that town, having large experience in the value of real estate, owned a wharf built of sawdust and mill refuse and which in the words of the witnesses, "was absolutely of no service as a wharf or for any public purpose." The outer edge had been washed away to low water level. The property had been purchased for $400 in 1902. In 1905, O'Leary sold it for $500 to Frank Ingersoll, who put up a deposit of $50, which he forfeited rather than take the property at that price.

The Kent Northern Railway Co. has its terminus at Richibucto and it was thought desirable that there should be a government wharf connected with the railway. On March 10, 1908, the engineer of the department of public works reported in favor of purchasing a wharf owned by the municipality. George W. Robertson and Thomas Murray were two active Liberals in Richibucto, and Murray was manager of the Liberal campaign in Kent County in 1908.

Mission to Ottafa.

On May 4, 1908, Murray approached O'Leary with regard to the purchase of the wharf, or with regard to the purchase of a right of way for a sewer thru the property. Shortly afterwards Murray and Robertson went to Ottawa and had an interview with Hon. Mr. Pugsley. Murray is unable to state any other business which took him to Ottawa on that occasion. He returned to Richibucto and bought the property from O'Leary for $700, altho the purchase was stated in the deed to be $1000. He sold it to the government for $5000, altho the government agent knew Murray had paid not more than $1000 for it less than three weeks before.

The order-in-council for the purchase of the property was passed on the 11th September, just on the eve of the general elections of 1908, but Murray, not being aware of this, addressed to the department of public works the following telegram on September 18: "Please let me know if wharf matter passed council. This matter important to Mr. Leblanc. Please rush it." Leblanc was the Liberal candidate for the County of Kent, New Brunswick, in that election. Shortly afterwards the deed was executed, but registration was delayed until after the election, for the reason that "there were some people making enquiries about it."

What Were tht Bills For?

"Both Mr. Murray and Mr. Robertson are men actively engaged in business," said Mr. Borden. The purchase money was drawn by Mr. Murray in five and ten dollar bills. Assuming that they were equally divided, that means seven hundred and fifty bills which this active business man received and carried to his house. He failed to give any satisfactory or reasonable explanation as to his disposal of these. He says that he paid a certain sum, the amount of which he cannot remember, to Mr. Robertson on account of a debt, the particulars of which he cannot recall. He declared that he used the balance to pay other debts, but he was unable to name a single person to whom he paid any portion of the same.

"The government engineer, Mr. Stead, did not disclose to the department the important circumstance that the property had been purchased for not more than $1000 less than three weeks before his recommendation. Mr. Pugsley considered this a very serious omission and punished him by increasing his salary $100, and giving him a bonus of $200 in addition.

Abstracted From Treasury.

"The transaction is so glaring and so flagrant that it requires little comment. More than $4000 was abstracted from the public treasury for purposes which may be imagined and up to the present time the government have not attempted to put the property to any use whatever."

Continuing, Mr. Borden contrasted the splendid results obtained by the businesslike policy of the Whitney government, and claimed that the ultimate responsibility rested upon every man and woman to re-establish high and efficient standards of public life if Canada were to maintain her good name at home and abroad. In this laudable effort the women of the country had an important part awaiting them in their own sphere. This, he hoped, would be learned in the home, in the school and from the pulpit.

Out for a Good Cause.

In a witty speech of some length, Hon. C. J. Doherty again took up the cudgels in an appeal for an honest and businesslike administration. He wanted Canada recognized in the count of nations as a self-respecting nation, careful and thoughtful for its prosperity and jealous or its honor both public and private, before every other consideration. Taking his text from the inscription of the picnic badge, "Hurrah for Borden; we are out for a good time," he said the good time they were after would mean a good time for the people of Canada. The charges of corruption after the last general election should make every Canadian hold his head in shame.

Hon. J. O. Reaume, Ontario Minister of Public Works, was given a cordial reception. He became reminiscent about political picnics. He endorsed the policy promulgated by Mr. Borden, and said Mr. Borden was now ready to graduate to the premiership.

Recently, in his own department, in connection with Ontario County road system, Dr. Reaume said there was a charge of graft involving some $150. If the electors and councillors were quick to object to that small amount, how could they stand for the sawdust wharf, the "Arctic," the Quebec bridge and the Ottawa lighting contract?

Presentation of Prizes.

The festivities of the day concluded with a large garden party on the grounds of J. A. Coulter. Prizes were distributed to the oldest Conservative and the oldest Liberal at the picnic in the afternoon; to the person driving into the grounds with the largest family; to the most popular woman in the crowd. The first prize went to John Sobben and the second to D. S. Burdeck, aged 90. Grasping the hand of the Liberal stalwart, Mr. Borden presented the silk umbrella, and wished him "many happy years of life to vote against the Conservative party." The crowd applauded loudly. Auntie Wright, colored, aged 67, received the highest number of votes as the handsomest woman at the fete, and E. J. Thomas, Holden's Corners, brought a family of five to the grounds that the principles of Conservatism might be early inculcated.

NEWSBOYS WILL PROTEST

Indignation Caused by Order to Remove Newstands From Streets.

A deputation representing the Newsboys' Union will lodge a protest at the city hall this morning against the action of the council in ordering small newstands to removed from the streets.

At the works committee a week ago, a Yonge-street stationer asked that the sale of magazines from the stands be stopped, but did not suggest that the sale of newspapers from these stands be prohibited. The committee, however, on Ald. Hilton's initiative, voted to wipe out the stands entirely, and this action council confirmed.

During the newboys' strike against The Star some weeks ago, that newspaper took the stands away from the boys, who replaced them with others. Subsequently the evening paper restored its stands, thus doubling the number. But for this action, it is improbable that the decree banishing the stands would have been issued.

Personal.

Mr. C. C. Trow of The Buffalo Sight Seeing Co. of Buffalo, N.Y., was in Toronto yesterday, making arrangements for entertaining Toronto people visiting Buffalo. The Buffalo Sight Seeing Company operate large red cars and charge only 50 cents for the entire trip around the city. Many of The World's excursionists will take in this trip on their way to New York on the 23rd. Mr. George C. Keller of Carnival Court, another Buffalo attraction, was also here in the interests of his company.
