LIVE STOCK MARKET

Trading at the Union Stock Yards yeserday was about on a par with Wedesday, slow and extremely dull. It was as much as a bargain to hold the prices for all kinds of cattle steady with Tuesday and Wednesday. There was practically no demand for the stuff, and under normal the light receipts, 12 cars in all of fresh stuff, added to the 400 or 500 left over from Wednesday and Tues-500 left over from Wednesday and Tuesday's trading would have been cleaned up long before noon. There was little demand and wholesale men affirm that the extremely hot weather has caused a great falling off in consumption. With the big packing houses reported to be well supplied the reason for the weakness of the market is very apparent. The yards were not cleared up yet, late in the atternoon, even at the concessions offered and made. Trading on the whole for the week must be regarded as unsatisfactory, and if another heavy runlike last Monday should eventuate, it is hard to forecast what the market might do. Time alone can tell.

is hard to forecast what the market might do. Time alone can tell.

Sheep. Lambs and Calves.

The market for sheep and lambs was weak, but the calf trade is feeling the torrid weather conditions more than anything else, and the market is off anywhere from $1.50 to $2 per cwt. for the better class of veal calves, and for the rougher grades even more than that.

Hogs. as stated in Thursday's World, have firmed up perceptibly, as reflected in the price, $16 fed and watered and $16.25 off cars.
