

Church History and the Thirty-nine Articles, and have tried to answer the Scripture questions in the G. F. S. Magazine. The head of the School of Domestic Science has kindly given us some valuable cooking lessons, and our President has promised to read us a paper. Hands as well as brains have been busy. Before Christmas we helped several poor women who were ill in our Parish by making clothes for their children. Since then, at our Rector's request, we have made vestments for the choir of a neighbouring church. Now all are busy for the Exhibition of Home Industries to be held under the auspices of the G. F. S., which we hope may by its success warrant its becoming an annual event.

ST. JOHN'S—This Branch now numbers twenty-nine Members, an increase of eleven over last year, and eight Probationers. A weekly Bible Class has been held and five of our girls have been confirmed. The Branch provided a Christmas Tree for twenty very poor children, and since then have been working for a Sale for the Church, which, combined with our entertainment, is to be held on May 20th.

ST. GEORGE'S BRANCH.—Feeling the need of a Society in which our girls might band themselves together for mutual help and sympathy, we decided to form a Branch of the G. F. S. We called a meeting for November 27th, when fifteen girls came, and at Miss Swanzy's suggestion we decided to keep them as Probationers for some months. On March 3rd we had an admission service and we now number over thirty Members. The girls have been regular and worked hard and already we have had a Concert and Sale at which $25 was realized.

An interesting feature of our work has been a monthly lecture on Missions, illustrated by magic lantern views, which our Rector, the Rev. F. E. Howitt, has kindly given us. All this having proved a benefit and pleasure we are looking forward to resuming our meetings after the summer vacation.
