LOCAL NEWS

SPORT THIS AFTERNOON.

Considerable interest is being manifested in the swimming races to be held at the swimming tank at the foot of Kennedy street this afternoon. A motor boat race in Indian town harbor this afternoon is also attracting more than passing interest.

TRAFFIC MATTER.

John E. Kelly, a teamster, pleaded not guilty in the city court today to driving under the north gate at the Union depot while the south gate was down and the north gate nearly so. Gatekeeper Irvine told of the matter and the case was set over.

THE MOONEY CASE

A visitor to the city at present is Robert E. Blackstone of San Francisco who has been addressing members of the local trades and labor unions on "The Mooney Case." He has been on a very lengthy itinerary since 1917 in a campaign to secure the release of Mooney who was sentenced to life imprisonment on a charge of murder in some labor troubles in the American west. He was first sentenced to death but this was later amended to life imprisonment. It is believed in the states now that a new trial will be ordered and among those said to be in favor of it is President Wilson. Mr. Blackstone is a clever speaker and has been heard with much interest locally.

ANOTHER INSTANCE.

An automobile accident came nearly occurring in Mill street last evening. A street car was stopped near the station and a middle-aged woman got out with a couple of children. She was alighting first and had just reached the roadway when she heard a car swiftly back again and press close to the car steps to keep the children in because an automobile was whizzing past. An effort was made by people who saw the occurrence to get the number of the car as the driver showed no regard whatsoever for the rights of the pedestrians. Street railway men say that accidents of this kind in the city are fairly common but it will probably not be until after an accident or fatality that better steps are taken to safeguard others.

Man In The Street

Berlin says that the Poles have cut the knot. Now it's Berlin's move to cut the Poles.

Interfering with affairs in the Balkans is akin to searching for a leak in a gasoline tank with a match.

Somebody criticizes the Dardanelles operations; somebody else criticizes Currier's policy before Mons, and so on. The first thing we know somebody will be criticizing Foch for winning the war.

"Men struck, others are fired," says headline; just the same as some of the matches you get nowadays.

German commission will inquire into responsibility for the war. If the Germans find themselves guilty will they also act as their own executioners?

The defeat of the Bolshevik fleet was to be expected; Bolsheviks never did take kindly to water.

Castles in the air seem to be the only kind of dwellings which are built under the federal housing act.

And Taxes So High Too!
The arch at the head of King street looks pretty lighted at night, but for whose benefit is the illumination kept up until nearly one o'clock a.m.? We were going home about then—did the lights burn all night?

The pound sterling is down to $4.14 on exchange, but those who know its purchasing power on the other side will agree that that is about $2.14 more than what it will buy.

President Wilson's literary inclinations must have been lessened by the war. In spite of the way American citizens are being treated in Mexico he hasn't written a single note.

But war and post-war prices have led many other people to sign a note of their own now and then.

Overheard In The Street Car
First Citizen: "Are they working at night on that Union street pavement?"
Second Citizen: "I don't know so; I might get the street opened up again too soon."

A Wise Precaution
Men who carried their bottle of boot-legger's whiskey to the infirmary grounds before starting to drink it showed rare foresight. It was merely a chance of fate that they landed in jail instead of in the hospital.

Not the Issue
Toronto Globe: "Doctors in New Brunswick have combined to issue no prescriptions for liquor. The result was prove that liquor never was necessary for medical purposes." But it will not prove why some people still want prescriptions.

Once on a time, in days of thick weather, the Man in the Street suggested that somebody climb Trinity church steeple and shove the weather vane round from the southwest. The appeal was effective then. Will somebody please do it again?

WEST END PLAY GROUNDS

On account of the disagreeable weather yesterday the closing of the west side playgrounds was conducted indoors in City Hall, and of course much of the programme had to be done away with. But it was a most interesting time. There was a clever drill by the children and there was an elaborate display of basketry, the work by their little hands. Quite a large number of the youngsters were there and presented an inviting appearance.

Captain and Mrs. A. J. Mulcahy, who have been much interested throughout the season in the welfare of the children, took an active part in the closing exercises as did Miss Julia Currie, supervisor, and Miss Jean MacDonald, assistant. John Higgins, a returned soldier, who has been in charge of the boys during the season, also assisted. The summer months have been pleasantly passed by the children who used the grounds. Their basket work is said to be exceptionally good and no doubt will find a ready sale when the little ones offer it to the people of Carleton next week.

MURDER CALL

GETS DETECTIVE OUT OF HIS BED

Italian Arrested at Haymarket Square — Liquor Cases in the Police Court

Luigi Brusselini, an Italian, employed at Courtenay Bay, presented a pitiful spectacle when appeared in the police court this morning on a charge of drunkenness. His left eye was nearly closed and badly discolored and his forehead and head were badly cut. Policeman Harry Donahue told of being awakened at 12.15 o'clock this morning by cries of "Police! Murder! Murder!" from the railway track at Haymarket square. He said he went out and found the defendant rushing madly up and down the track. He was remanded to be examined by a doctor.

Thomas Short, arrested last night by Inspector Merryfield on a charge of having liquor in his possession other than in his private dwelling, pleaded not guilty. He was represented by E. S. Ritchie. Inspector Merryfield said he saw automobile No. 2091 turn into Powers' alley last night at 10.45. He followed and saw a man named Giles hand a bottle of whiskey to defendant. He took possession of the bottle and brought Giles and Short to the station. Short was handed over to Deskman Thomas and Giles was warned to come to court this morning.

Robert Johnson testified that he was with Short and saw the inspector, but Merryfield did not take the bottle out of Short, who was sitting in a chair. In reply to Inspector Merryfield the witness said he was in the kitchen of a lunch room at that place and Short was also there. He saw the inspector take the bottle from Giles. The case was not concluded.

PLAN SUNDAY NIGHT CONCERTS

Project Fathomed by Prominent St. John People is Being Taken Up

Some music lovers in this city are endeavoring to organize a Sunday night concert series to be held at the Walker theatre, Winnipeg, and other Canadian western and American cities. The idea is to import high class talent, both vocal and instrumental, from the music centres and to organize among local musicians a stock symphony orchestra to be the basis of each programme. Prominent people here are at the back of the scheme and it is probable something definite will be made known in a short while.

One of the theatres has been asked to house these concerts, which will be conducted on a private subscription plan to the number of not less than 1,000 persons and admission to be paid by subscription tickets only. No thought of making profit out of the enterprise is entertained, merely a private social affair. Several clergymen of various denominations who have been spoken to by the promoters of the scheme think that there shall be no objection to a refined and edifying concert after devotional hours, especially since it is not a business enterprise or instituted for profit of any kind. One clergyman, however, suggested that all music rendered should be of a sacred character and the reply made to this gentleman was that all standard works should be considered sacred by lovers of pure harmony.

REGIMENTAL PLATE OF 104TH BATTALION IS REPORTED MISSING

Nothing in the Box, is Declaration, When Opened Here Some Time After Arrival From England

The mysterious disappearance of the regimental plate of the 104th Battalion is receiving attention from some of the local officers who have been expecting from its distribution valuable souvenirs of association dear to them. The box of association was supposed to have contained it, was opened on Thursday and, it is said, every single article was missing. Just what has become of the various articles, it was said, is not known but an effort is being made to trace them.

The plate was bought in England after the 104th Battalion had arrived here. It decorated the mess table at Witley Camp and was greatly admired, every piece beautifully engraved with the regimental crest. When the order came in the early spring of 1917 that the unit was to be disbanded to furnish drafts for France a meeting was held at which the officers discussed the question of disposal of the silverware. An understanding was reached that it would be sent back to Canada and retained until the return of the officers from overseas.

The silver was packed along with other articles owned by the battalion and was presumed to have arrived here some months ago and left in storage until yesterday, when the case in which the plate was supposed to have been was opened with the result stated. An approximate estimate of the worth of the silver was given yesterday as between $1,500 and $1,800.

FUNERAL TODAY

The funeral of W. A. Ewing, K. C., will be held this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the Mission church, Paradise row, to Fernhill. The funeral service in the church will be conducted by Rev. J. V. Young, assisted by his curate, Rev. Father Bennett. The choir will be present and the hymns to be sung will include "The King of Love My Shepherd Is" and "On the Resurrection Morning." Members of the St. John Law Society will attend in a body. Many beautiful floral tributes have been received at the home of the late Mr. Ewing, 27 Peters street.
