RICH MUSICAL OFFERINGS TONIGHT AND THIS WEEK

As a pleasant surprise to the music-loving public comes the announcement of a genuine treat which awaits them this evening in the brilliant array of vocal talent whose presentations of the season's most popular hits and of gems from grand opera in Columbia recordings will be heard at the music rooms of Amherst Pianos, Limited, 7 Market square. These splendid new recordings, which are being received with tremendous enthusiasm, are the November offerings which arrived in advance. They include an exquisite tenor duet by Campbell and Burr, whose rendering of the universal favorite "Smiles" is the latest sensation among those who recognize and appreciate the best in popular music. With an accompaniment of violin and orchestra bells, these well known artists weave a harmony that will never grow old. The words express the most delicate sentiment, put into the lines of a ballad of the day, in many a long month.

Other numbers are "The Land of the Sky-Blue Water," beautifully rendered by Barbara Maurer, mezzo-soprano, with orchestra accompaniment, put into the hands of a ballad of the day, in many a long month. "We Don't Want the Bacon (What We Want is a Piece of the Rhine)" by the Peerless Male Quartette, with orchestra accompaniment.

The rollicking military camp song, "How I Hate to Get Up Early in the Morning," by Arthur Fields, baritone, with orchestra accompaniment. A remarkable fine rendition of "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes," by Oscar Seagle, baritone.

Rage and tenderness are wonderfully expressed in the magnificent baritone solo "Pari Siano," Rigolotto (Verdi), (Act I, Scene II), by Riccardo Stracciari, with orchestra accompaniment.

These are but a few of the latest Columbia records to be heard tonight and this week at the music rooms of Amherst Pianos, Limited, 7 Market square. And they're well worth hearing.

ESCAPED OFFICERS HAD MANY ADVENTURES

London, Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press Despatch from Reuters' Limited).—Eight British officers captured at Kut-el-Amara reached England today after thrilling adventures. The party escaped from the Turkish prison camp in the interior of Asia Minor. They journeyed seaward across the Taurus Mountains. Food supplies were short but the party deemed it wiser mostly to travel by night. The sea was reached after a fortnight. A Turkish patrol boat was discovered in a creek and the party took possession of it during the crew's absence. Sailing under the Turkish flag, they reached the island when on the verge of starvation, having crossed 180 miles of open sea.

INFLUENZA CAUSES EARLY CLOSING OF RAFTING SEASON

Three Million Feet to be Held in Douglas Boom For Winter

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 22.—J. Fraser Gregory, of St. John, is here today in connection with the closing of operations of the St. John River Log Driving Company for the season. The early closing with logs still in the booms is made necessary by the outbreak of Spanish influenza, which has struck the rafting crews. Walter Jackson, boom manager, is ill.

The Douglas boom will close today. It will be necessary to hold three million feet of lumber. It is not known definitely how much lumber was rafted by the company, but Mr. Gregory said that it was slightly in excess of what was rafted in 1917.

On the Restigouche River rafting operations had to be abandoned last week on account of the epidemic. The shives lumber mills also had to close.

NOTE WRITING IS HOTLY RESENTED

New York, Oct. 22.—What does it mean when citizens of New York, uttering words of protest, stop you on the street with manifest emotion and dramatically exclaim: "What do you think of this? Should we treat with the Germans? Isn't it time for the American people to take action that will end it?"

The air seems to be getting surcharged with wild impulse. It is a situation that investors cannot afford to ignore. We are recording the news facts.

Those who are Republicans are taking great deal of encouragement from latest developments against dickerizing with Germany, it being asserted that diplomatic exchanges between Washington and Berlin are making new Republican votes, many of them from Democratic ranks. Sentiment among the thinking rank and file is indubitably antagonistic to a negotiated peace. We think investors will do well to base on this bearing on the length of the war.

Roosevelt and Taft assailed Henry Ford's candidacy for U. S. senate for his pacifist views.

Wilson's attitude is indicated.

Washington, Oct. 22.—There is nothing in the German communication to alter the decision of the president that he will not propose an armistice to the Allies before the Germans evacuate all occupied territory.

Official indication already has been given that the only question for consideration is whether there shall be discussion of "terms" of evacuation while the Allied and American armies continue their work of clearing Belgium and Northern France.

Exchanges between Washington and the Allied capitals have been in progress the basis of the wireless version of the note received Monday and it is regarded as certain that any reply the president may make will be governed by the supreme war council in France.

Mr. Married Man—Do This

Write out instructions for your wife to follow with reference to earning an income for the support of herself and your children after your death.

After you have found out how "easy" it is to write out these instructions, figure out how "easy" it is going to be for your wife to carry them out.

The task we think will convince you that you must maintain as much life assurance as you can possibly afford in order that your family shall not be dependent upon the charity of others, if you should die.

Don't put it off. Don't say that you expect your business to be in such shape that your family will have nothing to worry about. Think of all the men who do not own $500 in real money today who were worth thousands of dollars two years ago.

If you haven't all the life insurance you can afford to write for your family, write for our booklet entitled "The Creation of an Estate." It will interest you.

PEACE TALK AT CRITICAL POINT SAYS PRINCE MAX

"The peace talk will be of importance, it will not be our strength that will decide, but it will be what is thought to be right in free discussion with our opponents that will give the decision. This is a great effort for a proud people accustomed to victory."

"The legal questions involved will not stop at our national boundaries, which we will never of our own accord open for violence."

Internal Questions.
"The principles upon which we have agreed as a rule of conduct also involve internal questions. From many quarters it has been represented to me that an acceptance of President Wilson's conditions would mean submission—anti-German submission—to an anti-German court of justice which would decide legal questions from a viewpoint of its own interests. If that is the case, why then is it the extreme apoplexy of force in the Entente front the council chamber as the guilty fear the court of justice?"

"The essence of President Wilson's programme for a league of nations cannot be achieved when all peoples have not the right of national self-determination. This realisation of community law means the abandonment of part of the unequalled privilege of the victor. It has been the indication of sovereignty, both by us and others. Should we not be prepared to give up the national egoism which until a short time ago was the dominating force of the people's life, there would be no reformation and no renovation for us. There would be a feeling of bitterness which would be the task of either war or peace."

"But if we comprehend that the significance of this fight is not above all, victory for the idea of justice, and if we do not resist this idea but submit with all good faith, then we shall find a cure for our present ills and a reservoir of future strength."

Opposition in Germany.
Prince Maximilian said that he would not deny that heavy opposition in Germany must be conquered before the ideal league of nations could be realized, but he continued:

"Whether the next few days or weeks shall call us to fight on, or open the way to peace, there is no doubt we are now equal to the task of either war or peace by carrying out the government's programme and definitely breaking away from the old system."

The imperial chancellor then discussed electoral and parliamentary reform. He cited bills before the Reichstag, one of which enables members of the house to enter the government without resigning and another proposing a change in the laws regarding the responsibility of the chancellor.

Announcement was made by the chancellor of a bill making the Reichstag responsible for war and peace, the measure to become effective when the proposal for a league of nations should become operative.

Austria's Complaint.
Basil, Oct. 22.—Official comment in Vienna on President Wilson's answer to the Austrian note expresses a complaint that it does not answer the precise question put forward, and that it is now necessary to again ask the president's attitude toward an armistice and the re-establishment of peace, according to the views received from the Austrian capital.

It is added that officials say there is a misunderstanding of the reasons given by Mr. Wilson in justifying his refusal to enter into peace negotiations and his answer to Baron Burián on Sept. 15.

German Note Delivered.
Washington, Oct. 22.—Germany's new note to President Wilson, in official text was delivered to Secretary of State Lansing at 10 o'clock this morning by Frederick Oederlin, charge of the Swiss legation.

Improving in N. S.
Halifax, N. S., Oct. 22.—Continued improvement in the influenza situation throughout the province is noted by Dr. W. H. Hattie, provincial health officer, in a statement given out today. The reports reaching him indicate that save in Cape Sable Island, Isle Madame and the district of Clare, the districts in which the disease has been epidemic are now rapidly approaching a normal condition. Many localities are still reporting new cases, although in diminished numbers, and practically no section of the province is altogether free from the disease. The Ashburnham Branch of the Red Cross of Maine for nurses to help out in the epidemic here. A telegram was received from Houlton, this morning, stating that the Emergency Board of the State could not spare nurses at this time.

Reports from Stanley this morning show the situation greatly improved in that town. Some physicians have gone in to help out the people they have become less panicky, and the disease is clearing up. For a time business was at a standstill there, but things are now becoming normal.

OUTBREAK AT CHIGNECOUT
Talking to Chignecout Mines on Monday the Amherst News was informed that there were between one hundred and one hundred and fifty cases of Spanish influenza in that small village and that some of the patients were very critically ill. In some instances nearly all the family are down with the disease. The unfortunate accident to Dr. Forbes has cut all the medical attention except from Amherst and River Hebert, and the physicians of both these places are overworked, so that conditions at the Mines are rather serious.
