SIR WILFRID'S CRITICS

It is now discovered that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has not been busy breaking up the Empire. The news that has hitherto come to Canada has come chiefly through Conservative channels, colored by Conservative partisanship. Sir Wilfrid has been attacked, but has quietly ignored the attempt of political foes to arouse prejudice against him. He was represented as the marplot of the Imperial Conference, opposing all efforts to draw the various states of the Empire into closer union. But Saturday's cable presents him in a different light. His position with regard to practical questions affecting Imperial relations is found to be quite satisfactory. Saturday's Canadian Press cable said:—

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier is as strong as ever in favor of preference within the empire, but has not yet referred the question to the imperial conference. Instead the Canadian premier brought forward a resolution which was adopted last night, providing for the appointment of a royal commission to visit the overseas dominions and report on trade and resources and the best methods for their development. This is regarded as one of the most important actions of the conference, as practical results are expected from it. Other practical results of the conference have been the action of the British foreign office in taking the dominions into its confidence with regard to foreign relations, and the acceptance of Premier Laurier's suggestion to negotiate with foreign governments with a view to securing to the overseas dominions the right of withdrawal from any commercial treaty without impairing such treaty with respect to the remainder of the empire."

The Conference, this cable adds, has "completely justified its existence." On the naval question Canada stands with Australia, and all the overseas states are a unit in their insistence upon local autonomy. This is quite compatible with Imperial unity, and the fact is fully realized by the British government. The dignified silence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the face of petty attacks by Conservative partisans is another evidence of his statesman-like quality.

MR. BORDEN AND THE WEST

It is not worth while for Conservative papers to indulge in glowing predictions about the great reception to be given Mr. Borden in the west. His tour has begun and the nature of his reception cannot remain in doubt. There are enough high protectionists and strong Conservative partisans in Winnipeg to give the leader a hearty reception, but the Conservatives are not the only persons who will bid him welcome. Mr. Borden is a distinguished citizen of Canada, and Liberals who do not agree at all with his political views will extend to him every courtesy, for his own sake. In one town a motion to give him a civic reception was moved and seconded by Liberals. There is a bluff heartiness about these western folk that makes all visitors feel at home, and they never lose an opportunity to add something to their reputation for hospitality. Regardless of party, they will extend a kindly greeting to Mr. Borden and his friends.

But that will not prevent them from telling the opposition leader what the west desires. He will learn that the people want reciprocity, and that they are quite as ready as the east to resent the suggestion that their loyalty is a matter of bargain and sale. It would be unfortunate if Mr. Borden mistook a kindly personal greeting for an endorsement of the obstructionist policy of the opposition party in parliament. Neither in the west nor in the east will such tactics gain favor. If the United States senate adopts the reciprocity measure the demand for its adoption by the Canadian parliament will bear down all opposition. If an appeal to the country is forced by Mr. Borden and his friends, they will meet with overwhelming defeat.

THE LATE JOHN MCKANE

An interesting career closed with the death of Mr. John McKane last week in San Francisco. He had crowded an unusually varied experience into forty-five years of life. Coming from Scotland to the Miramichi a quarter of a century ago, he spent some years there, then went westward and made a fortune in Nevada mines, moved up to British Columbia and went into politics, to be defeated as the Conservative candidate in Yale-Cariboo; came back to New Brunswick, purchased two newspapers and took stock in some others; interested himself in politics and in lumbering on the Miramichi; declined the offer of a constituency in Scotland; suffered reverses in the great financial panic of a few years ago; sold out his newspapers and lumber interests, and set out again upon travels which have now been terminated by his death. Mr. McKane was a man of most charitable instincts. He gave largely to deserving persons and causes, and on the Miramichi they tell of many hearts gladdened by the unpretentious generosity of John McKane. He presented a park to his native town of Dunfermline, in Scotland. He had travelled very extensively, and made friends everywhere. A man of exceptionally powerful physique, he seemed destined to enjoy long life. Strange, impulsive, restless and somewhat self-contradictory, he was yet a man of brilliant memory and he will be held in kindly memory by those who understood the strength as well as the weakness of his nature.

The death roll among the pioneers of aviation grows sadly longer from week to week. No less than three adventurous men were killed at the trials near Paris yesterday, when fifty aeroplanists entered into the competition.

In his address to the electors of Joliette, Hon. Mr. Lemieux denounced Mr. Bourassa as an agitator who sought the isolation of Quebec. Matters political are warming up in that province.

The 62nd Regiment received a royal welcome in Boston. Officers and men found themselves overwhelmed with entertainment, and the regiment was cheered with enthusiasm all along the line of march. It is gratifying to observe that the press of Boston speaks in praise of the appearance and the marching of the men.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Charles Tupper met last week in London at the unveiling of a tablet in the room where, forty-four years ago, the Canadian confederation was born. Sir Wilfrid paid a splendid tribute to Sir Charles, as the man who, next to Sir John Macdonald, did most to confederate the provinces. Sir Charles in reply commended Sir Wilfrid for his attitude toward imperial preferential trade, and said:—"Under the administration of our very eloquent and distinguished friend Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Canada today presents an illustration that cannot be surpassed, if it can be equalled, in any part of the world."

The Ottawa Citizen, taking note of the quarrels in Montreal between the board of control and city council, says:—"The anomaly of having a city council and a board of control to direct the affairs of a municipality and, incidentally, to interfere with each other's efforts to do something real for the community has at last become apparent in Montreal. Of course, we in Ottawa were long ago convinced that the city council was the fifth wheel to the municipal brougham, but we were flattered ourselves that the Ottawa council were just that much more pugnacious than any other similar aggregation. The Montreal Star, however, has put the matter in a way so homelike and familiar that we are forced to admit that the Ottawa situation is no longer unique, if indeed it ever was. Both Ottawa and Montreal seem to be moving in the direction of the commission plan of government."

NOVA SCOTIA PREMIER

Premier G. H. Murray, head of the Liberal government in Nova Scotia which has been sustained at the polls.

"During the days of gold fever in California," said an old sea captain, "our ship was so crowded that you could hardly get a place to sleep. Captain said a man when we were three days out, 'I have just got to have some place to sleep.' 'Where have you been sleeping?' I asked. 'I have been sleeping on a sick man,' the passenger said, 'but he's getting better now.'—From 'Success Magazine'.

A TRACE OF EGOTISM

"My constituents never fail to accord me continuous applause," remarked Senator Sorghum hopefully.

"Yes," replied Farmer Cornsloss, "A lot o' folks out our way would rather hear themselves cheer than listen to another man talk."—Washington Star.

SPRING HUMORS

Result From the Poisoned Condition of the Blood.

Discharge is Checked—Sores are Cleaned Out and Healed by Dr. Chase's Ointment

Aside from the suffering caused by pimples, sores and skin eruptions, there is the annoyance and embarrassment to which they give rise, particularly when on the hands or face.

It is quite proper to try to get the blood right by use of internal treatment, but this is a tedious method of overcoming the skin troubles, which can so readily be gotten rid of by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. The three principal ingredients of this great, soothing, healing ointment are the most potent known to the medical profession as a means of clearing out the pores, cleansing the blood, and preventing the discharge of poisons from the skin. It is applied to the affected parts, and the itching almost as soon as applied, and often heals almost like magic.

The time required to get rid of the nature of the ailment, but, unlike internal treatment, the benefits are apparent to the eye, and you can note from day to day the improvement.

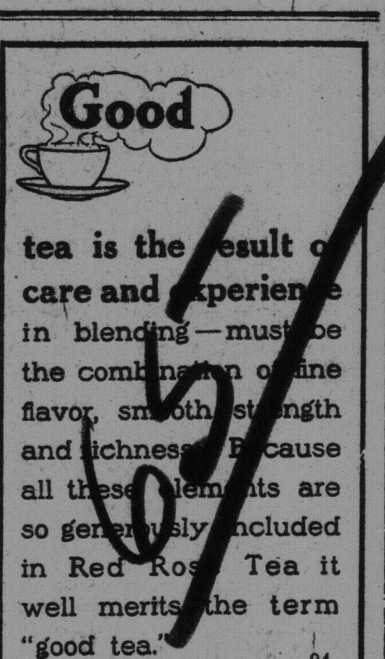

The wonderful success of Dr. Chase's Ointment in the cure of eczema, salt rheum, psoriasis and old sores and wounds is sufficient proof that it is bound to be satisfactory in the treatment of the less severe diseases of the skin. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edman, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Good tea is the result of care and experience in blending—must be the combination of fine flavor, smooth strength and richness. Because all these elements are so generally included in Red Rose Tea it well merits the term "good tea."

NEW PASTOR IN CHARGE.

On his first day as pastor, Rev. M. F. McCutcheon was greeted by two large congregations yesterday in Brussels street Baptist church. He spoke at both services and was followed with close attention in two very interesting sermons. Mr. McCutcheon made a fine impression on his hearers.
