PAY TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF THE LATE D. RUSSELL JACK

IN MEMORIAM David Russell Jack From the N. B. Loyalist Society.

Our careful comrade bending studios To trace the annals of illustrious dead To build a tale for those of after years A tale of steadfast courage, toil and tears

Was no less brave than they! For when the far, imperious call was heard He calmly rose to greet the summoning word To bid his friends a cheerful last goodbye To leave unfinished task without a sigh

His name shall be recorded on our roll As one who labored heart and mind and soul To do his duty well! And those who come to aid us in our task Shall learn his value when they come to ask What we shall have to tell!

The Loyalist Society, one of whose members contributes the above memorial poem, met yesterday afternoon and adopted the following resolutions: Whereas it has pleased God in His divine providence to remove from our midst the late D. Russell Jack, one of the ablest members of this society for some years its painstaking historian, therefore

Resolved, that the New Brunswick Loyalist Society now desires to place on record its sense of the great loss which it has sustained in the untimely and sudden call from the scene of his earthly labors of one of its most active and energetic members.

No individual connected with the society has labored more industriously in its behalf, and the very extensive and valuable records which were gathered and compiled by him will prove a splendid foundation for a work dealing adequately with the Loyalist founders of our city and province.

Thirty years ago the late Mr. Jack at that time a very young man took an active part in the commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Loyalists. From that day to the present his interest in our Loyalist ancestors continued to deepen. At most the last object that engaged his attention was the preservation of their memorial headstones in the old Burial Ground. His appeal to the governing board of the city to protect their resting places from injury and desecration we hope will not be forgotten.

The members of the society feel that by his removal a place is left vacant that it will indeed be very difficult to fill and it is with a sense of personal loss that they desire respectfully to convey to the relatives of the late Mr. Jack their very sincere sympathy for them in the time of their bereavement.

Resolved, That the commissioners desire now to place on record their appreciation of the services rendered by the late D. Russell Jack and of the loss they have sustained by his death. Always an earnest and diligent worker in the promotion of any cause in which he was interested, Mr. Jack's business training and systematic habits made him a very valuable member of the Library Commission. It may truly be said that few men have given so ungrudgingly of their time and ability in the public interest.

From his childhood a lover of books, Mr. Jack became in later years a writer, and at least three volumes from his pen will serve as his memory and help to perpetuate his name. The interest of the St. John Free Public Library was dear to him of whom by the information that his large private library has been left to this institution, and will ever long be placed upon its shelves. It is with a sense of personal loss that the board of commissioners desire to convey to the relatives of the late Mr. Jack their sincere sympathy with them in the loss they have sustained.

The following resolutions have been adopted by the Historical Society: Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from our midst the late D. Russell Jack, so long associated with us in the work of the New Brunswick Historical Society, and for some years its very active and efficient corresponding secretary.

Resolved, that the members of the society hereby place on record their deep appreciation of the services so faithfully rendered, Mr. Jack gave without stint his best efforts to preserve the records of such historic events as are worthy of being held in remembrance. His patient industry, his admirable system of keeping the records, his ability as editor of the well known magazine Acadiaensis will always claim the gratitude of students of New Brunswick history. The members of the society will long feel the loss of his enthusiasm, and earnest efforts to advance its interests. They beg to convey to the bereaved relatives of the deceased a very sincere token of their sympathy and esteem.

GUARD AGAINST FIRE. The necessity for spark arresters or some other means for the prevention of fire on the stacks on the boiler sheds which supply heat for the sheds at West St. John, was shown one morning this week. A considerable amount of soot has become lodged in one of the flues and took fire and the sparks scattered over the sheds and wharves in the vicinity. Had one of them become lodged in a crack, a serious fire might have been the result, especially as there was quite a high wind blowing at the time.
