CAMPAIGN OF SLANDER AND MISREPRESENTATION

Those who read the Opposition journals' criticism of the Government cannot but notice the meanness of their every utterance in dealing with matters great and small. Fair criticism they evidently know nothing of, and honest presentation of public matters is foreign to them.

We make due allowance for the propensity of the Opposition Party and the Opposition Press to make the most of the mistakes of a government and magnify their opponents' shortcomings. This the public, regardless of party leanings, expect from an Opposition press and from the Opposition Party, and the electorate understand this and take it as a matter of course. They also understand that it is the province of an opposition press to find fault with a government and belittle its best efforts. But questions affecting the general welfare of the people should be discussed in a fair and impartial manner, and something other than indiscriminate fault-finding and palpable misrepresentation is expected from the organs which claim to be the mouthpiece of a party that hopes to retain the confidence of its followers and earn the respect of its opponents.

The present Opposition organs have earned for themselves an unenviable place in the arena of party journalism in this respect, and if the policy of the Bond Party is interpreted by their utterances on weighty public matters with which the prosperity of this country and its people are closely identified, then those who hope to see the affairs of the country again entrusted to that party are hugging a delusion and building their political castles on a sand foundation, and the organs, instead of wasting space to keep their courage up by aimless criticism of the present Government, should invite some friend to write their Party's epitaph.

Their low opinions of the fishermen's intelligence may be gauged by the nature of the appeals that they have been making to them during the past two years, and by their readiness to sacrifice the interest of the masses for party advantage by reckless efforts to

Guarding Against Wrong-Doing

The punishment meted out to W. T. Gilmour should serve as another warning to those who may at any time be tempted to commit the offence of which he was found guilty. This community cannot and will not tolerate such attacks, especially on females.

The evil of allowing ourselves to become the slaves of strong drink or passion should be vigilantly guarded against. If this is not done the chances are that these will sooner or later overtake us.

The question of strong drink and morality is one that every citizen has to consider. Are we in Bay Roberts doing it? What provision for the young men and women at this point? Not a reading room, not a place of any kind is provided for a young man to spend an hour in day or night. Consequently, if they would spend a pleasant time, according to their own ideas of pleasure, some questionable or secret place is secured, and to some extent the first step in a downward course is begun. The responsibility of providing pleasure and recreation for our young people—clean, healthy and wholesome—rests with the citizens of Bay Roberts. What shall be done?

POSTAL TELEGRAPHS

Reduction of Fifty per cent to Great Britain.

On and after January 1st, 1912, the Newfoundland Postal Telegraphs will transmit, subject to the conditions of acceptance, messages written in plain language at a reduction of 50 per cent from the charges for an ordinary message.
The message must be written in French, or in the language of the country of origin, or in the language of the country of destination. The sender must declare which of these languages is used. The sender must write before the address and pay the charge on one word for the letters LCF, LCO, or LCD, according to his declaration. This is a stipulation of the European Governments, and of the Postmaster General of Great Britain.
The message must have an address and a text; a signature is optional with the sender, but we will not be able to make unpaid enquiries about the senders of unsigned messages.
The address may be a cable message; house and street numbers may be expressed in figures.
The text must be written entirely in plain language without figures, commercial marks, groups of letters, abbreviations or mutilations. Numbers except in the address must be written in words. Genuine words, spelled according to established usage with not more than fifteen letters, will be charged as single words.
Messages written in the manner prescribed will be counted and charged according to the International Regulations.
The messages will not be subject to artificial delay in transmission or delivery; their transmission will only be delayed until full rate messages have been despatched, and not more than twenty-four hours.
Under these provisions a cable message of four chargeable words may be sent for a minimum charge of fifty cents, eight words for one dollar and twelve words for one dollar and a half.
Registered addresses admitted and recommended.
Until further notice only messages for Great Britain and Ireland can be transmitted at the reduced rate, but it is hoped to announce extensions to other countries shortly.
