LONDON, Feb. 28 .- Referring to the coming social season, which is, after all, a thing of greatest importance to London, I was told this week that the King, realizing that some one must take the initiative, had asked several s, such as the Duches Devonshire, Lady Londonderry, Lady Lansdowne and Lady Howe, not only to remain in town but to give balls and ther entertainments on a large scale. Of course, when His Majesty makes such a request it is understood that the King and Queen will honor the hostesses of these functions by being

It is absolutely necessary that the leaders of society should undertake to make this season a success, for an-Ith, Strength and Vigor For Men other year like the last three or four would mean the ruin of many. The wall of London tradesmen grows louder every day, and in one big shop, whose very existence depends on the doings of society, they told me recently that if things went on as at present half London's tradesmen would be bankrupts. I believe this reveals the But to the bacillus all is death. In-

BIG GALE AT DIGBT. DIGBY, Feb. 28.-There is a very heavy blow with rain today. Wind, SW. The Theima broke away from her anchor and drifted towards An-napolis. The bark Swansea is lying off the Racquette, both anchors out. This bark has been surveyed and un-der skilled workmen well repaired. She is not leaking now more than vessels ordinarily make water. Capt. Card, who was master when she reached Digby, had to go on the sick list. The port physician, Dr. L. H. Morse, re-commended him to remain in north-ern latitudes. He and the crew were completely done out and discouraged trying to get out of the bay, as they had the worst of the weather this winten. Today the crew are very jolly and intend sticking to the ship. Capt. E. H. Burgess, who is master in place of Capt. Card, is looking for a mate. Capt. Burgess was first mate of the bark. FOUND DEAD AT MILLTOWN.

Britain. He proved to the satisfaction of his hearers that in all Irish history no re-form or concession has ever been se-oured from England by peaceful agi-tation, but that in every case it had been the result of armed revolution. He tore to tatters the oft-repeated claim that England is the friend of the United States, and went deeply into the diplomatic history of the last 40 years to show that, as he asserted, while fawning upon us she had invariwhile fawning upon us she had invari-ably been prepared to stab us treach-erously in the back. FATHER SHEEHY SPEAKS. Fr. Sheehy, who intensely interested his audience, though it was late be-fore he began to speak, reviewed Irish history for 700 years, giving a graphic 700 years, giving a graphic picture of the valorous deeds of great Irish leaders, all calculated to confirm the claim that by physical force only can Ireland ever secure her liberty. The recently formulated land act, to The recently ionulated is in act, or be considered in parliament soon, and which is the fruit of an agreement be-tween representatives of the landlords and the Irish national league, Father Sheehy characterized as a sham and a fraud, pure and simple, designed to work actual harm to the Irish tenant and to benefit nobody but the landlords themselves, whom it will save from threatened bankruptcy, he declared. The whole sentiment of the meeting was apparently against the proposed land act, of which so much is heard at present, and from which some pro-fess to express so much benefit to the Irish tenantry. sidered in parliament soon, and
