Find Favorable Expressions.

Washington, Oct. 26—In diplomatic quarters there is felt to be some significance in the fact that France, Russia and Japan, as well as the United States have not yet accepted the invitation to accept the principles of the Anglo-German alliance. It is understood that this non-action of the powers is not due to any concerted ance. It is understood that this non-action of the powers is not due to any concerted movement among them, although each appears to be halting upon the third clause. A diplomatic official said today that on mature consideration of this third clause it was seen to involve two constructions; it was seen to involve two constructions; first, that if any power took territory in China, as a result of the present trouble, then Gérmany and Great Britain also would take territory; or second, that if any country took territory in China, Germany and Great Britain would seek to prevent this action, or otherwise jointly act against the country seeking to extend its against the country seeking to extend its domains. Either construction, it was pointed out, was such that the powers not It is regarded here as a curious coincidence that the news of the recapture of lacobsdal by the Boers should be received concurrently with the expected arrival concurrently with Africa of the City Imo learn Russia's views on the t lause, as Russian approval undoubtedly could remove the idea that there is any ould remove the late that the coop-ossible menace intended. But, it is recog-ized among diplomatic officials that it ould be exteremely difficulty to secure an expression from Russia on this point as an unfavorable rejoiner, which she might be expected to give, would amount to a declaration that she had some territorial designs on Manchuria and a refusa to answer would be similarly open t uch construction. The impression is grow such construction. The impression is growing among the representatives of those powers that the present non-action will continue for some time and that the agreement will be confined to Great Britain and Germany, at least until there is a fuller understanding of the third clause than either of these governments has given thus for

"Cold Storage," New York: "It must be galling to patriotic Americans who goat over the vast strides we have made for foreign trade, to learn that we are playing second fiddle to Canada in the matter of exports of perishable food products. It certainly moves us to wrath. That there is no sense in such a situation is apparent except that Canadians are beating us in the game of progressiveness. That exception is just doing the trick. If our producers must get along without any governmental aid they ought to be the first ones to interest their fellow partners in trade and start a concerted movement for pushing exports of perishable products. Canada now sends more butter, cheese and eggs abroad than this vast republic, and its fruit business is rapidly overhauling ours. With less than one-quarter of our territory, and with a vastly larger percentage against that country in the matter of production, Canada has managed, by ceaseless energy, to approach and pass us in sending abroad those products which this country is paramount in. Here is something for Americans to ponder over. Refrigeration is doing for Canada what it has done for Australia and New Zealand, and what it ought to do for this country. We know as much about the science as Canadians, but are not applying it to develop foreign business. We simply seem satisfied to work within our shell. Here is one sort of expansion that will meet with approval on all sides."
