

QUEENSTON HEIGHTS

On the rise of the hill, near the lower road, a stone cenotaph marks the place where Brock fell. It is inscribed as follows:—

NEAR THIS SPOT
MAJOR-GENERAL
SIR ISAAC BROCK, K.C.B.,
PROVISIONAL LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR
OF UPPER CANADA, FELL ON 13th OCTOBER, 1812,
WHILE ADVANCING TO REPEL THE INVADING ENEMY.

On the reverse side:—

THIS STONE
WAS PLACED BY HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS
ALBERT EDWARD, PRINCE OF WALES,
ON 18th SEPTEMBER, 1860.

"In St. Paul's Cathedral, London, England, there is a tabular monument to his memory. On it the body is represented as lying in the arms of a British soldier, whilst an Indian pays the tribute of respect his bravery and humanity elicited."*

Nor has the brave Macdonnell been forgotten. In the vault beneath the monument on Queenston Heights his remains lie beside those of his beloved General; and in Osgoode Hall, Toronto, a tablet has been raised to his memory. The first Attorney-General of Upper Canada, his death, at the early age of twenty-seven years, deprived the Province of the services of one who gave promise of being in the forefront with those eminent men who so well and truly laid the foundation of the Province, now known as Ontario.
