I was helpless and bed-ridden for years from a double rupture. No truss could hold. Doctors said I would die if not operated on. I fooled them all and cured myself by a simple discovery. I will send the cure free by mail if you write for it.

Official records, conducted by Government officials, and guaranteed correct by the highest authorities in the land, prove the great Holstein herd of D. C. Flatt & Son, of Millgrove, Ont., to be justly entitled to their claim of champion herd of Canada for milk and butter production, containing, as it does, such great cows as Francy 3rd, twice champion of the dairy test at the Ottawa Winter Show, with an official seven-day record of 29.16 lbs. butter; Jennie Bonerges Ormsby, the world's senior two-year-old champion for yearly production, with a record of 16,850 lbs. milk and 832 lbs. butter, a record the more remarkable when it is remembered that this heifer dropped her second calf within 13 months of commencement of her test, and was only dry two weeks, and then, as a three-year-old, at that freshening, she made a seven-day record of 24 lbs. butter, which, at the time, was the Canadian record. She is now under test again, at her third calving, as a four-year-old, with 27½ lbs. in seven days, which is the Canadian record for the age. She is still improving, giving 80 lbs. a day, testing 4.75 per cent., equivalent to 30 lbs. butter in seven days. In two years she has been dry only six weeks, thus showing her remarkable constitution and persistency. Her sister, Francy Bonerges Ormsby, stands a close second to her in production, and second in the Canadian records for premier honors, with a four-year-old record of a fraction under 27 lbs. in seven days. Another sister, Vrouke B. 3rd, stands third in the Canadian records as a four-year-old, with a seven-day butter record of 26.39 lbs. Still another sister, Ormsby Belle, has a four-year-old record of 21.5 lbs. These four remarkable sisters belong to the great Francy tribe, and are daughters of the chief stock bull in service, Sir Admiral Ormsby, a son of Duchess Ormsby Butter King, with fifty daughters and twenty sons in the A. R., whose sire was Piebe De Kol Burke, with twenty-five daughters and eight sons in the A. R., he by De Kol Burke, with fifty daughters and twenty-three sons in the A. R., including those great cows, Jessie Maid record 30 lbs., and Winnie Pietertje De Kol 2nd, record 31 lbs., he again by the great founder of the record-smashers of the breed in America, De Kol 2nd's Butter Boy. The dam of Sir Admiral Ormsby was Alta 3rd, record in seven days, 27 lbs., she by Admiral De Kol, with fifty daughters and one son in the A. R., by De Kol 2nd's Alban, with thirty daughters and eight sons in the A. R. Thus, the official backing of Sir Admiral Ormsby is excelled by no other to date, alive, and that he has the power of transmitting his wonderful production blood is proven by the remarkable showing mentioned above by the only five daughters ever tested, again demonstrating the remarkable potency of the blood combination as bred in the Millgrove herd, the Ormsby and Francy. From this wonderful persistency and steady improvement in production shown by these daughters of Sir Admiral Ormsby, it is evident within the possibilities that when fully developed, the world's seven-day championship honor may belong to this great herd. At present, the herd is several strong, and all but two in milk are the official records, six of them averaging 27 lbs., twelve averaging better than 26 lbs., the highest being 29.16 lbs. Within the last six weeks three of them qualified for the records, with 27 lbs. each, one with 26 lbs., and one with 25 lbs., and not one of them was dry less than two months before freshening. Here it might be said that every record in the herd was developed there. So the bull in service is the grandly bred Piebald Butter King, a son of Daisy Piebald, whose seven-day record is 26 lbs., and sired by a son of Pontiac 1st, thus making the sire a brother of the world's two greatest cows, Pet and Pontiac Clothilde De Kol, with records over 37 lbs. The credit of this bull with the daughters of Sir Admiral Ormsby must produce a few heaters, or there is nothing in breeding. In younger things are a grand lot of heifers whose breeding is unexcelled.
