

Joseph Sellar, A. M. spoke to the second topic, which reads as follows: "Directness of aim in S S instruction; and the importance of personal piety for that work." The speeches were interesting and appropriate. The choir-loft was occupied by S S children who, led by the organ, discoursed several pieces of music, with good effect, during the evening.

TUESDAY EVENING.—NINTH SESSION. Conference opened at 9.45 o'clock, with the usual devotional exercises, after which the Minutes were read, and, being approved by Conference, they were signed by the President and Secretary.

The doxology was then sung, and the Rev. Mr. Daniel led the Conference in prayer, during which a special divine blessing was vouchsafed. Thus closed the sessions of the Conference of 1877—a Conference which, in many respects, was among the most pleasant, and in many respects also among the most troublous, ever held.

Conference of New Brunswick and P. E. Island.
