

TUESDAY, 13th APRIL, 1830.

the Commissioners of the Revenue, under the Act passed in the third year of George the Fourth, have the power, under Certificates, to allow Drawbacks, yet as the Revenue Law, under which Exporters may be entitled to Drawbacks, expired as aforesaid, and consequently much difficulty may arise to persons who have secured their duties, and from the situation in which they are placed, by the expiration of the Revenue Bill, will, of necessity, be compelled to export those dutiable articles.

Resolved, That the Commissioners of Revenue be authorised under this Resolution to allow the Drawbacks as heretofore on all dutiable articles secured prior to the 31st March last, the same as if the Revenue Laws were in operation: which being seconded,

The Clerk acquainted the House, that he had caused the Council to be informed that he had a Message to them, solely to announce the passing of the Appropriation Bill, and that the Deputy-Clerk of the Council had, in answer from the Council, informed him, that the Council could not receive the said Message, as they had decided not to receive any Message from the House of Assembly: that therefore he (the Clerk) had brought back the Bill.
