CHIEF CAMPBELL DIED LAST NIGHT

News of His Death a Shock to Entire Public—Few Knew of His Illness—
His Varied Career.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

The news that Fire Chief William H. Campbell had died last night, came as a shock to his hosts of friends. This morning, few of whom knew that he had been ill. Chief Campbell had attended the fire last week, which destroyed the Palace theatre building and, as called out several times later in connection with the same outbreak.

It is believed he caught a cold while attending his. Lately he had suffered from stomach trouble, but no one knew he was at death's door. About eight o'clock last evening, he was taken very ill and at ten o'clock the end came at his home at the corner of Bridge and Isabelle streets.

The late Wm. H. Campbell was born in 1839 in Marmora and was accordingly 76 years of age. For sixty years he had been a resident of Belleville and was prominent in municipal life. In his early days he was engaged in the grain business in the firm of Campbell and Brennan. About 45 years ago he entered the Belleville fire brigade and over 35 years ago was appointed chief of the fire department. This position he had held ever since with honor to himself and with the good will of the citizens. His dealings with Belleville citizens were always of the pleasantest and the men assuredly grieve at his passing, for he had their respect and confidence. He was succeeded to chief, the late John Taylor.

Chief Campbell also acted in the capacity of fire insurance agent for a number of companies.

His knowledge of the buildings in Belleville was very extensive, based on so many years of experience as it was.

In the days when Belleville was a town, he was a member of the town council. He was of charter member of Belleville Lodge No. 81, I.O.O.F.

The late Chief Campbell was a member of the International Fire Chiefs' Association of America.

In early days he was a prominent yachtsman, owning the Kitty Grey and having a boat in the harbor. He went to New York City with Captain Cutbush and sailed on the Atlantic when she completed from the American coast. In the old days, the fire chief was a lover of curling.

Mourning his loss are his widow, two sons, George H. and Albert C., and one daughter, Mrs. W. Knox. Belleville. They have the deepest sympathy of the entire public in their sad bereavement.

In religion, Mr. Campbell was a Methodist.

BIG TEMPERANCE CONVENTION

At Toronto March 3, 4 and 5.

Preparations are going forward most encouragingly for the big Dominion-Provincial Temperance Convention to be held in Massey Hall, Toronto, on March 3rd, 4th and 5th. Already many credentialed delegates are being received at the Alliance Office and the prospect is that there will be a most impressive gathering.

A feature of the convention will be the music. Fred. E. O'Connell, of Chicago, one of the greatest leaders of assembly singing on the continent will have charge. He will be assisted by Mr. Alvin W. Roper, of Chicago, pianist. Fred. J. C. Jeffers, of Toronto College of Music, organist, and the famous Alexander Choir, Toronto, assisted by noted soloists.

Churches and Temperance Societies in Canada are invited to send delegates. The present probability is that single fare return rates upon the convention plan will not only obtain from all points in the Province of Ontario but from all points in the Dominion of Canada. This will greatly help to increase that attendance from other provinces.

The time of the convention will be largely devoted to business but provision has been made for the accommodation of visitors in the balcony and gallery of the hall. Two public meetings will be held on Thursday and Friday evenings. On Thursday evening the Provincial situation will be dealt with.

LETTERS TO SOLDIERS AT REGULAR RATES

Arrangements have been made whereby the ordinary rate of two cents per ounce applicable to all letters sent from Canada to the United Kingdom, will apply to letters addressed to British and Canadian troops on the continent. The rate on ordinary letters from Canada to the United Kingdom is five cents for the first ounce, and three cents for each subsequent ounce, so that this extension of the two cent rate to letters addressed to our soldiers on the continent, is a decided reduction in favor of correspondence going to the soldiers.

Busy Trenton

OUR daily news letter from this thriving town furnished by The Ontario's special representative.

TRENTON, Feb. 3.—We regret to have to chronicle the death of a life long and highly respected citizen of Trenton, Mr. Charles L. Hawley, L.D.S., son of the late A. D. C. Hawley, a former druggist, and merchant in the early days of our history. Mr. Charles Hawley had been ailing for upwards of a year but had only been confined to the house for about six weeks. He leaves a widow and three sons. The funeral will be conducted under the auspices of the I.O.O.F. on Thursday at 2:30 p.m.

On Friday last the scholars of St. George's Sunday School were given a sleigh ride and supper, by the teachers of the school.

A small party occurred at the market on Saturday morning when Chief Moffet started in to look for short weight butter. We were informed that he landed several hundred pounds more than he was entitled to.

The burning question of the hour is, we are credibly informed—Should it be carried goods or wheat.

SLEEPY BRITON DEFENDS WHOLE VILLAGE UNADED

Wounded Sergeant Tells How His Opinion Changed Respecting Receipt Known as "His Lordship" and Noted For His

Dislike of Exertion

(Special Dispatch)

London, January 30th
"Never again will I judge a man by his appearance," said a wounded sergeant, when asked for his most thrilling battle experience. "When we started from the front we had in our company a man whom I simply could not stand. He was tall, well built, rather good looking, with light hair and mustache, and most awfully lazy. There was no mistake about it—he had wealthy parents, a man who had never travelled without a valet, and never walked when an automobile was near enough to be called."

On the moment of his arrival in our midst we named him 'his lordship,' and he was made that he would succumb after the first day's march. Not a bit of it. It is true he looked tired at the start, but he looked no more so at the finish. But when we went to the place where we were to rest his puttees, underneath which he wore real red silk socks. We felt a bit upset. Silk socks for a soldier are a bit of a luxury, but he looked so well, he got out a nice leather box, opened it, extracted some sort of instrument and proceeded to manicure his nails. The beggar did it as coolly as if he had been in his own Mayfair flat.

"All the boys gathered round him to watch the performance; but I put an end to it by promising him four days of the ordinary," which he was to undergo after the taking of Berlin, for, you see, we could not very well spare the men just then.

"We were finally placed in the trenches. 'His lordship' did everything the best of the ordinary, but he could not sleep without a pillow, so he paid four pence for a cigarette a day to a fat fellow, and rested his head on the latter's stomach. But we began to respect him from the day when he laid down sixteen Germans with eighteen cartridges. It was some shooting and he did it as nonchalantly as if he was in a rifle gallery; but he was so lazy that he would not brush the perspiration off his forehead. Instead he asked his neighbor to do it for him."

"Well we left the trenches—that is some of us did, and some did not—and then one day we were ordered to take by assault a village occupied by a Bavarian regiment."

Government Wants to Know How Many of Them Drink

Local hotelkeepers have received a copy of the statement, issued by the chief license inspector and sent to all the hotels in the province. It says:—

"Going to the statements which have been made from time to time that a considerable number of men wearing the King's uniform may be seen drinking in bars, the Provincial Secretary thinks it desirable to secure a report showing to what extent this is true, and you are requested to supply the department with the most accurate information you can, as to the number of men in uniform, if any, who enter your bar daily. This report should extend over a week at least."

"This request is not intended as a reflection upon the sobriety of the troops, but it is important to show to what extent the statement is true. It need scarcely be said that the department is fully alive to the importance of the subject, and is prepared to take any action which may be necessary to aid in securing the utmost sobriety of the troops, and it is, of course, expected that every licensee-holder in the province will co-operate with the department to this end."

The circular carries the signature of Eudo Saunders, chief license inspector.

GERMANS LEAVE CERNAY BATTLE IN CARPATHIANS

Centre of Desperate Conflicts in Alsace Proves Too Hot For Enemy—German Batteries Near Soissons Are Damaged and Infantry Advances Near St. Paul Is Repulsed By the French.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Further interspid attacks of the French lines by the German forces of infantry are evidently being deterred by the superiority of the allied artillery, for the day was marked by heavy gunfire from the sea to the Lys river to reduce the French, British and Belgian batteries without attaining that end. The closeness of the trenches in the region of Arras permits rifle firing at close range and here throughout the night a fusillade was maintained without the enemy attempting an attack in force to dislodge the defenders. Probably the fiercest operations of the day were the Germans to wear out their opponents by a ceaseless harassing.

French artillerymen damaged the batteries of the Germans near Soissons and an infantry advance near St. Paul was repulsed by the French troops.

Northwest of the old battlefield of Chalons the French continue to make progress in driving the Germans from the outskirts of a wood which was occupied a short time ago.

Fighting in the Argonne has not lulled and the French troops perform prodigies of valor in difficult forest struggles at close range. A German attack near Bagatelle was repulsed.

The letting up of a snow storm in the Vosges permitted the French troops to gain more ground towards Burnhaupt le Bas. Uffholtz was also the Germans it appears, have without anything being said about it, evacuated Cernay, Alsace, which lies at the foot of the famous Hill 425, the slopes of which were contested so long with such grim ferocity. The French fire must have made it untenable, and they are now bombarding it themselves to prevent the French from occupying it. The French are making no attempt to do so, but are applying the same melinite treatment which they gave to Cernay to the forest of Ronnenburg, which the Germans have fortified and entrenched to the uttermost as a bridge to the French advance towards Mulhouse.

The following official communication was issued by the War Office last night:—

"From the sea to the Lys the German artillery has tried, without success, to reduce our batteries, but never gained an inch of ground, and lost ten thousand men. They tried the famous methods of savagery, sapping, and finally brought up all their available artillery and overwhelming forces, and by means of artillery and ruthless attacks they on Sunday finally scored a real success in the capture of the Russian first line trenches. It was only a temporary success, but although such temporary successes have been scored by the Germans on several previous occasions, they never have been on such an important scale hitherto. Only small sections of the first line trenches were taken, and held for a few hours, after which the occupiers were attacked and destroyed with the bayonet, and the section retaken."

TO LEAD CANADIANS.
Col. the Hon. J. E. B. Seely Appointed To Command Mounted Brigade.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—It is learned that Col. the Rt. Hon. J. E. B. Seely, former Secretary of State for War, will take command of a Canadian mounted brigade, including the Strathcona, the Royal Canadian Dragoons and the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, now at Salisbury.

Col. Seely has already seen considerable service at the front in France, and his selection to command a Canadian corps is regarded as a distinct compliment to his past military efficiency of the Canadian troops.

Col. Seely will be with his Majesty King George at the royal inspection of the Canadian troops to-morrow.

Russians Sink Gunboat.
LONDON, Feb. 3.—The Morning Post's Petrograd correspondent says a Russian submarine sank a German gunboat off the German coast; also hit and seriously damaged a small cruiser of the Gazele type, possibly the Gazele herself. Exclusive of the Black Sea fleet Russia has 21 submarines, all built between 1903 and 1908. None of them is bigger than 100 tons. The fastest makes 13 knots and carries four torpedo tubes, the others carrying fewer.

The German cruiser Gazele's displacement is 2,603; length, 328 feet; speed, 18 knots; crew, 636 men; armament, 10 4.1 inch guns.

Inquest at Whitty Postponed.
WHITTY, Ont., Feb. 3.—The inquest into the death of William Stone, the young Grand Trunk telegraph operator who was shot and killed at Whitty Junction over a month ago, has again been postponed indefinitely. Monday was the day set for its conclusion, but Crown Attorney Farewell decided that there was insufficient evidence on which to bring in a verdict. "We don't want to close up the thing until we have every possible piece of evidence before the jury," said the crown attorney yesterday.

"There is nothing to report on the front in Lorraine and in the Vosges."
