HUNS ATTACKED DESPERATELY

Bitter Fighting Raged Round British Line at Lagnicourt

By Courier Leased Wire.
British Headquarters in France, April 16—via London—Further details of the fighting yesterday show the desperate character of several German attacks on the new British positions. The attack which was essayed from both sides of Queant and temporarily pierced the British line at Lagnicourt, was exceptionally bitter. It began at 4.30 o'clock Sunday morning and continued for three hours without interruption. British advanced posts were driven in, but the support units joined the issue with the Germans.
Many hand-to-hand encounters followed. There was also more actual rifle shooting than for many months. During this fire the Germans fell in clumps. They attempted to seek cover behind bushes and in small thickets. The British fired into these with good results. When the reserves came up at last, the Germans broke into full flight. Hundreds of them were caught in their own wire entanglements as they attempted to regain their trenches and killed by scores.
Prisoners were taken along the 6 mile front of the German attack, more than 500 being brought in.
There was fighting all day about Monchy le Preux, east of Arras, which already had witnessed some of the bloodiest encounters since the battle of Arras began Monchy, in its way, is a little Vimy ridge all by itself, standing sentinel as the last high ground over miles upon miles of plains, sweeping eastward. The Germans held out there for two days after Arras battle opened, and have launched half a score of counter attacks against it without success. The place lends itself to counter attacks because of outlying woods where troops ordinarily could assemble unobserved. There were morning and afternoon attacks yesterday, in both instances the intentions of the Germans were discovered and artillery played on the woods scattering a large percentage of the formations.

There has been notable air fighting over Honchy, and many machines have been brought down there in the last two days. Large German formations have attacked the British scouts and the pattering of machine guns overhead has been almost continuous during the daylight hours. The Germans as a rule are careful air fighters and virtually never attack unless they outnumber the British three or four to one. A single German machine is seldom sighted. They have come to be known as "zang airfighters," but their tactics of lying in wait high above the fleecy clouds and darting upon an isolated foe does not perturb the British flyers. The British continue to police the air, not only behind their own front but far into German territory, and say they naturally suffer the same casualties as a police force would from encountering anti-aircraft fire.
The weather continues favorable to the German methods of avoiding open air conflicts. Even on the clearer days the sky is filled with German machines.
The Hamilton Hydro Department will be asked for estimates for lighting the various highway approaches to Hamilton for a distance of half a mile from the limits.

STAGE AND SCREEN

THE APOLLO.
In addition to the regular bill at the Apollo, the management has secured for the first of this week a special film, "Europe at War." This is a most realistic picture, and the first to show French Hussars in action. In addition to the cavalry are shown the capture of a German trench, a hand grenade attack, and the work of the heavy artillery.

FLOURISHING FLORA.
Comes from the Lasky studio the announcement that the regular bill at the studio have made it an economic necessity to purchase an entire conservatory and nursery adjacent to the plant. In the future, says the bulletin, all table decorations and fresh flowers to be supplied from this source. No mention is made of a mint from which to turn out stage money.

HURRIED HISTORICIAN.
Adele Farrington is rapidly establishing a record as a champion all-round-long-distant actress of the west coast. Miss Farrington recently had the distinction of playing in two Morosco pictures and a Lasky production within the space of a few weeks. The state road commission has been forced to order an extra gang to work on the roads between Hollywood and Los Angeles as a result of Miss Farrington's hectic speeding from one studio to another.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN"
W. H. Kibble's scenic and dramatic production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be seen at the Grand Opera House Tuesday, April 17, matinee and night. Mr. Kibble's company carries all the special scenery and effects required to give a perfect production of this old, ever popular play. The company embraces over fifty people, a chorus of over twenty colored men and women, ponies and six man-eating bloodhounds. A special train of cars is employed in transporting the production.

CHORAL CONCERT.
Pierre Henrotte, who is one of the assisting artists in the Brantford Choral Society concert, is a graduate of the historic city of Liege and a graduate of the famous conservatory there that has produced so many renowned virtuosos of Europe. Henrotte is a young man who was a concertmaster and soloist in various orchestras of France in America he has been concertmaster in the Boston Opera House, and now holds the same position with the Chicago Grand Opera Company.
Henrotte appeared as assisting artist on the Chautauqua tour of Mme. Julia Claussen this past summer with wonderful success. He will be heard with the Brantford Choral Society, Grand Opera House, Thursday, April 19th.

NEVER KNEW NECK NICKED.
Director Edward Sloman of the American Musical Forces, who he is not only director in the business who ever had his neck broken, though there are dozens who ought to have broken necks.
Sloman used to play football on the Leland Stanford football team in the days when it was a mudlark's game, before anybody on this side of the water figured out that in a game called football it might be a good thing to kick the piskin once in a while.
Sloman bucked the line so hard in a big game against the San Francisco schools early in the season of 1910 that he dislocated one of his arms and was laid up for three months. Then he was able to get up but there was always a "crick in his neck" and he carried himself awkwardly until used to the new condition.
It was a year after the accident that Sloman found out after a visit to an osteopath that his "crick" was in his neck had been broken ever since the hard game.
"I'll bet nobody ever felt better than I did when they slipped the bone back in place," remarked the director in telling about it.

"MILLION DOLLAR DOLL"
Two of the funniest characters ever seen are to be found in Harvey D. Orr's production of "The Million Dollar Doll" which will be presented at the Grand on Saturday, April 21. Mr. Harold Orr as Jasper Jackson, the colored servant and Harvey Orr as the hepped husband. These two fun makers have won a host of admirers among the theatre going public and are given every opportunity to please their many friends. Mr. Harold Orr is fast being recognized as one of the funniest black face comedians on the stage and as the "peeler" on board the ship is an irresistible laugh producer. Harvey Orr, the much abused husband who goes to the Exposition in disguise, is another fun maker who is hard to equal and this team of comedians furnish enough clean cut, wholesome comedy to please the most exacting. They appear here one night only. Don't miss seeing this, the biggest musical comedy of the season. There are 40 people with this company, including the Orr brothers and a beauty chorus of 25.

DARKEN GREY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our Grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.
Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair naturally and so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell that it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is, that besides beautifully darkening the hair, it cures a few applications. It also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.
Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to every color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

When America Declared
War on Germany, No
Other Course Re-

By Courier Leased Wire.
Amsterdam, April 16—via London—Premier Tisza of Hungary is quoted in a Budapest despatch as having said in the House of Magyates:
"As regards the question of the United States we have had occasion to express our point of view. Since we have previously pointed out to the United States, to our regret, declared itself in a state of war with Germany, the logical conclusion necessarily had to be drawn. That is a precise and concrete fact having no need of explanation. I should make a mistake if I added any explanation."
Premier Tisza's statement was made in reply to an interpellation by Count Anton Zigray. Speaking of Russia, the premier said:
"The situation is very clear. No one thinks of interfering in the internal affairs of the Russian state. The events which have taken place in Russia have changed in no way our interpretation of the aims of the monarchy and the nation in this war. I think that if now by any fresh statement I were to repeat the completely clear declarations already made by the allied (Central) powers I should not be strengthening our position, but only weakening it, and I should not be favoring the cause of peace, which we all have before our eyes, but on the contrary should perhaps be compromising it. Consequently I beg the House to content itself with this statement."

Tripe
Get a pound of fresh tripe, cut in small pieces; put a little over a pint of milk in your frying pan; set it on the middle of the stove; put the tripe in the milk; let it simmer; after it has cooked a while, put in salt, pepper and butter to taste; let it cook from half to three-quarters of an hour; don't put in salt till milk is cooking; cook until tender. I think the housekeepers will think this a nice dish.
Corned Tongue.
Take a fresh beef tongue, cut out most of the glands and wash thoroughly; rub half cup salt into it and let it stand 12 hours (over night); put into kettle with cold water enough to cover it and add another half cup salt; let it boil slowly 5 or 6 hours; when the small end is done take up, and skin when partly cool; when cold, cut in slices with a sharp knife and it will be delicious. Other meats can be corned in this way.

Beefsteak Pudding

Pastry Part—Take two cups pastry flour, two tablespoons lard, scant teaspoon salt and just enough water to mould together as for pie pastry.
Meat Part—One pound round steak, half pound lean salt pork, cut fine and mix together. Now take a good-sized square of cheese cloth or any thin white cloth, making allowance for pudding dish, put your cloth in the bottom of it, leaving ends of cloth over edge of dish. Divide pastry for upper and under crusts, and with the meat mixture make like deep pie, leaving place in centre for half cup of hot water. Season with salt and pepper and dredge with flour. Then pinch edges of crust together, tie cloth, lift out of dish and put in pot of boiling water, in which there is a small dish or saucer to keep pudding from sticking to bottom of pot. Boil 3 or 3 1/2 hours, keeping well covered with water. When done, if more gravy is required, add a little hot water.
