Its measures of orbasy infini-Because of the three light shadows That freecoed that rude old room ; Because of the voices echoed Up 'mid the rafters' giom ; Because of the feet on the fender— Six realess, white little feet— The thoughts of that deer old kitchen Are to me so fresh and sweet.

Are to me so treat and sweet. When the first dash on the window Told of the coming rain, Oh ! where are the fair young faces That covered against the pane ? While bits of firelight, stealing Their dimpled checks between, Went stragging on in the darkness In shreds of silver theen.

In shreds of silver sheen. Two of the feet gree weary One dreary, dismal day, And we tied them with snow white ribbons, Leaving them by the way. There was frach clay on the fender That dark and rainy night, For the four little feet had tracked it From the grave on the brown hill's height.
