SCOTTISH EMIGRATION TO TURKEY.—On the 29th ult. about 25 agricultural labourers, with their wives and families, left the Broomielaw, Glasgow, by the Beaver steamer, en route for Liverpool, whence they sail on Saturday for Turkey, by the screw steamer Acadia. They are under the charge of and accompanied by Mr. Gebbie, lately farm overseer to Mr. Dixon, of Govan Iron Works, and are to be employed under him in introducing the Scotch system of farming amongst the Turks and Greeks, upon a beautiful and extensive estate acquired by Thomas Parry Esq. situated about 12 miles from Constantinople. Mr. Parry has been long domiciled in the dominions of the Sultan; and seeing the slovenly and unproductive mode of agriculture pursued by the natives, he resolved to offer the example of a better system, both for the improvement of his own property, and for the benefit of the ignorant Turkish cultivators in general. He accordingly sent a commission to Messrs. Edmiston and Mitchell, of Glasgow, to secure a competent overseer and a number of industrious and intelligent Scotch peasants, and to send them along with agricultural implements, &c., to Constantinople. This commission, so far as we learn, has been executed by our townsmen with great success and ability. In addition to the human freight already alluded to, they have sent off agricultural implements of every variety and of the very best description, consisting of ploughs, harrows, spades, rollers, &c. They have also forwarded a large quantity of the most valuable agricultural seeds. The extent of the consignment of tools and seeds may be understood, when we state that three spacious railway wagons were filled by it to the roof. Another detachment of agricultural labourers is soon to follow. We have reason to believe that this consignment of men and material is likely, in due course, to be followed by others.—Glasgow Herald.

CELLARS.—The ceiling of cellars should be well plastered, in order most effectually to prevent the ascent of dampness and noisome odors through the joints of the flooring. The bottom of the cellar should be well paved with stone; cobble stones are perhaps best; over this should be poured, to the extent of several inches in thickness, water lime cement, or such other material as is known to acquire in time almost the hardness of stone; this keeps the dampness of the earth below. If additional dryness is desired for special purposes, in parts of the cellar, let common scantling be laid down, at convenient distances, and loose boards be laid across them for convenience of removal and sweeping under, when cleaning time of the year comes. The walls should be plastered, in order to prevent the dust from settling on the innumerable projections of a common stone wall. Shelves should be arranged in the centre of the cellar, not in the corners, or against the walls; these shelves should hang from the ceiling, by wooden arms, attached firmly before plastering; thus you make all free from rats.

VENTILATION OF CELLARS.—To those who are so fortunate as to own the houses in which they live, we recommend the month of June as the most appropriate time for the following recommendations. Let every thing not absolutely nailed fast, be removed into the yard, and exposed to the sun, and if you please, remain for a week or two, so as to afford opportunity for a thorough drying. Let the walls and floors be swept thoroughly, on four or five different days, and let a coat of good whitewashing be laid on. These things should be done once a year, and one day in the week at least, except in midwinter, every opening in the cellar, for several hours about noon, should be thrown wide, so as to allow as complete ventilation as possible. Scientific men have forced on the common mind by slow degrees, the importance of a daily ventilation of our sleeping apartments, so that now none but the careless or the most obtuse neglect it; but few think of ventilating their cellars, although it is apparent the noisome dampness is constantly rising upwards and pervading the whole dwelling. Emanations from cellars do not kill in a night, if they did, universal attention would be forced to their proper management, but it is certain from the very nature of things, that unclean, damp, and mouldy cellars, with their sepulchral fumes, do undermine the health of multitudes of families, and send many of their members to an untimely grave.—Journal of Health.

ONE ACRE TO SUPPORT A COW THROUGH THE YEAR!—In an article on the "Rural Economy of the British Isles," it is stated that on the farm of Mr. Littledale, on the river Mersey, opposite Liverpool, eighty-three milch cows and fifteen working horses are kept through the year on the product of eighty acres! This should be an example to American farmers. We believe that a cow may, and should be, well supported through the entire year, on the product of a single acre. Indeed, we have a few among us who already accomplish it. When this result is more generally attained, we shall hear less complaint of limited crops and small profits. The energies of the farm must first be concentrated upon a smaller space, and then the power increased of gradually raising the fertility of the whole.

CATERPILLARS.—The best and most efficient way to destroy Caterpillars is to rub the nest with spirits of turpentine, which can be easily done by tying a woollen rag to the end of a pole. Dip in the liquid, and just rub the nest; being very penetrating, the whole will be at once saturated, and the effect will be sure death to the inmates. Going over an orchard twice is usually sufficient for the season.—The nests frequently escape detection the first time, but one application is sure cure for the evil. W. G. Lewis.

GINGER BEER.—Two gallons of ginger beer may be made as follows: Put two gallons of cold water into a pot upon the fire; add to it two ounces of good ginger bruised, and two pounds of white or brown sugar. Let all this come to the boil, and continue boiling for half an hour. Then skim the liquor, and pour it into a jar or tub, along with one sliced lemon, and half an ounce of cream of tartar. When nearly cold, put in a teacupful of yeast to cause the liquor to work. The beer is now made; and after it has worked for two days, strain it and bottle it for use. Tie the corks down firmly.

A model of a newly-invented train for the Emperor of the French was tried on Monday week, on the railway between Paris and Tours. It consists of five carriages, communicating with each other by a gallery. There is a drawing-room and bed-room; in fact a complete apartment. Another new carriage, for six people, was also tried. It contains eight beds. A ticket, with the use of a bed, will only cost double the ordinary fare.

The Sultan, on the application of the British government for permission to erect a memorial church at Constantinople has most liberally granted a piece of ground large enough for a church, schools and parsonage.

The affairs of Italy are exciting anxious attention throughout Europe. Lord Clarendon stated in the House of Lords that the principal courts of Europe were deliberating on the subject and that he had reason to anticipate the issue to be highly advantageous to Italian liberty: "It is said that France and Austria have presented a joint note to the Pope, remonstrating with him upon the wretched condition of his dominions, urging upon him the necessity of great and various reforms, including, we believe the secularisation of the Legations and what is more to the purpose formally announcing to him that whether these reforms are adopted or not they mean to withdraw their troops—the French from Rome, and the Austrians from the Legations, by a given and not distant day. If this dead weight were once taken off, we have no fear but Italy would right herself."

A MARVELLOUS REMEDY!
FOR A MARVELLOUS AGE!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

THE GRAND EXTERNAL REMEDY.
By the aid of a microscope, we see millions of little openings on the surface of our bodies. Through these, this Ointment, when rubbed on the skin, is carried to any organ or inward part. Diseases of the Kidneys, disorders of the Liver, affections of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Asthma, Coughs and Colds, are by its means effectually cured. Every housewife knows, that salt passes freely through bone or meat of any thickness. This healing Ointment far more readily penetrates through any bone or fleshy part of the living body, curing the most dangerous inward complaints, that cannot be reached by other means.
ERYSIPELAS, RHEUMATISM AND SCORBUTIC HUMOURS.
No remedy has ever done so much for the cure of diseases of the skin, whatever form they may assume, as this Ointment. Scoury, Sore Heads, Scrofula, or Erysipelas, cannot long withstand its influence. The inventor has travelled over many parts of the globe, visiting the principal hospitals, dispensing this Ointment, giving advice as to its application, and has thus been the means of restoring countless numbers to health.
SORE LEGS, SORE BREASTS, WOUNDS & ULCERS.
Some of the most scientific surgeons now rely solely on the use of this wonderful Ointment, when having to cope with the worst cases of sores, wounds, ulcers, glandular swellings, and tumours. Professor Holloway has dispatched to the East, large shipments of this Ointment, to be used in the worst cases of wounds. It will cure any ulcer, glandular swelling, stiffness or contraction of the joints, even of 20 years' standing.
PILES AND FISULAS.
These and other similar distressing complaints can be effectually cured, if the Ointment be well rubbed in over the parts affected, and by otherwise following the printed directions around each pot.
Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—
Bad Legs      Cancers      Sore-throats
Bad Breasts      Contracted and Stiff      Skin-diseases
Burns      Joints      Scoury
Blisters      Elephantiasis      Sore-heads
Bite of Mosquitoes      Fistulas      Sore-nipples
Toes and Hand      Gout      Soft Corns
Piles      Glandular swellings      Tumours
Coco-bay      Lumbago      Ulcers
Chiego-foot      Piles      Wounds
Chilblains      Rheumatism      Yaws
Chapped hands      Scalds

Sold at the establishment of Professor HOLLOWAY, 244, Strand, (near Temple Bar,) London, and 50, Maiden Lane, New York, also by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the Civilized World, at the following prices:—at 1s 2d; 3s 2d; and 5s each Pot.
There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes. Who has ever died of N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each Pot.
