

At Cochrane St. Church

The services at Cochrane St. Centennial Church on Sunday were well attended.

The Rev. Dr. Bond was the preacher at the morning service, basing his remarks on Exodus, 32 chap. and 26 verse: "Who is on the Lord's side." There always is a clear cut issue, what is God's plan and what is not. Always two sides, the side of God and the side of evil. Do the duty that lies nearest to you. God will meet every man that wants to do his bidding. If a man is not on the Lord's side it is his own choice. No man can be neutral. This text of mine, said the preacher, is the test question of human life and is most important and simply means, personal safety, fighting for God and doing the right at all times under all circumstances.

The evening worship was in the nature of a memorial service, the Rev. Dr. Bond again being the preacher, who delivered another of his well thought out, practical and every day sermons from the text: "He was a good man." This text referred to Barnabas, a companion of St. Paul, who accompanied Paul in the triumphs and work of his ministry. Our Lord declared a good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good. Goodness is a heart matter essentially. A good tree always brings forth good fruit. A good man obtaineth favour of the Lord. Love is the great fundamental and brings with it joy, satisfaction and other beautiful characteristics.

At the close of the sermon touching reference was made to the sudden death of Mr. Henry Maunders who for over a period of twenty years was a member of the Quarterly Boards of the Church. The pulpit was neatly draped in black. The choir rendered "Vital Spark of Heavenly Flame," and the choir joined heartily in the singing of several well known hymns. Organist Maunders at the close of the service played the Dead March in Saul as the congregation with reverently bowed heads remained standing.

Another Fresh Fish Cargo.

The Gloucester on her last trip West picked up a full cargo of fresh fish at the various ports of call and landed the same at Port aux Basques for export to Canada and the United States. The fishery along the S. W. Coast has been the best for many years while unheard of prices are being received for the catches by the fishermen. A man and his three sons are reported to have cleared $1,200 since the beginning of the year, not counting what they will receive for cod liver oil.

A GOOD SHOWING.—Only five of the number of young men from the West Coast who were listed as Bancroft recruits failed to pass the medical examiner. They leave for their homes by the S. S. Prospero to-day.

The hockey match set down for last evening at the Prince's Rink between the Regiment and "Has Beens" for the benefit of the W. P. A. fund did not materialize because of some misunderstanding. The "Has Beens" did not turn up, though the ice was in excellent condition. Some three hundred spectators entered the rink and so as not to disappoint them a promiscuous match was arranged between the Volunteers and a number of enthusiastic citizens. The game was being greatly enjoyed by the onlookers and excitement was about reaching the climax when Frank, the ice man, entered the arena, blowing as if he had just finished a gruelling marathon contest with Tom Longboat. He immediately pounced on a soldier player who he thought had been trying to "hunt" him and put him hors de combat. This stunt was as amusing as it was interesting to the spectators, but the only regrettable feature was that Skipper Frank stopped the game, ordered all out and closed the rink for not asking "by his leave." Having due regard for the rules of discipline and etiquette, the opinion expressed by those present was that the ice man's act was at the least discourteous and thoughtless, particularly in view of the fact that the skating season is nearing the end.

This evening the Terra Novas and Victorias will play for patriotic purposes.

What a Gas Range Means for You, Mrs. Housekeeper.

The gas range is a muscle saver and a step saver. Think of the many tons of coal you used in that coal range and how you have had to handle it all twice; first, carrying it up out of the cellar; then, from the kitchen to the ash barrel.

No more soot to wipe away; no more ashes to cart away; no more wood to fetch; no more coal dust; no more smoke and no more reason why the kitchen cannot be kept as clean and as orderly as the parlor. The gas range means just this.

Saves 50 Per Cent. of Kitchen Cares.

Half of the labor in the house is caused by dust from the coal range. Every time it smokes, no matter how good the draught may be, clouds of ashes rise and settle on the furniture.

It Eliminates Hard Work.

Use a gas range and you will live better, you will play better, and you will work better because the use of the gas range eliminates the drudgery of carrying coal, ashes and the chopping of kindling, as well as the drudgery of cleaning up a lot of dirt, and, best of all, for the cook it makes it unnecessary for her to stand over a hot stove from two to three hours a day.

Large Quantity of Freight at Sydney.

Owing to North Sydney Harbour being blocked with ice, we are informed that 76 cars of freight are now lying on the siding awaiting shipment to Newfoundland. This unforeseen delay has caused considerable annoyance to the local business men who are expecting their spring goods.

Milady's Boudoir.

EYEBROWS AND EYELIDS.

Many women would like to have the narrow pencilled eyebrows, and as few know how to grow naturally straight, this line will have to be secured by pulling out any of the hairs that grow beyond the line desired. This may be done without harm by the use of tweezers.

The application of red vaseline or castor oil is wonderfully beneficial in promoting a quick growth. In applying either of these, particular care should be taken that the oil does not get into the eyes because it would irritate and inflame them. The best way to apply the oil is by using a small camel's hair brush and brushing gently, but firmly. Using the first and third fingers to gently pull the lashes will help too, because it strengthens the roots.

We have all seen transparent eyelids with the delicate blue veins barely visible through the fine skin, and they are so much more pleasing than red, heavy lids, swollen and coarse looking. To improve such eyelids, there is nothing quite so beneficial as a gentle massage with a good face cream. This will improve the texture of the skin, keep it in a soft, healthy condition and will also eliminate any wrinkles that may have formed.

With constant application of these few suggestions one is sure to see a marked improvement inside of a month. It might be well to state that the wise woman with beautiful eyes would do well to study their color, and as often as possible wear gowns to match them, this being one of the secrets of the well dressed woman.

ARRIVED AT HALIFAX.—Passengers who left here Saturday last by steamer reached Halifax at 4 p.m. yesterday.

A Few Suggestions

TO CONCERT MANAGERS AND OTHERS.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—As a steady patron of the majority of concerts and amusements in St. John's, I feel entitled to discuss with some freedom some of their disadvantages which appear to be due to lack of system.

If St. John's would adopt the system of other countries for non-ticket holders, namely that of lining up, or forming a queue at the ticket-box, thus eliminating undue confusion, pushing, shoving and often minor accidents, it would add to rather than detract from the pleasure of attending. This not only applies to concerts but hockey matches, picture shows, etc.

In speaking of concerts I would like to bring to notice one or two regrettable incidents of "Irish Night" in the College Hall. Quite a few ticket-holders discovered on being seated that their reserved seats were a disadvantage rather than an advantage owing to the poor arrangement of the stage which was entirely lost to view and, needless to say, those on it. This in itself was not only a great inconvenience but somewhat of an imposition that might have been avoided by a little foresight on the part of the management.

Then, too, it would not be a bad suggestion if organizers of concerts would advertise, when possible, the various changes that so often happen in the program due to the indisposition or some other cause of the performers, and instead of depriving the eager audience of some favorite performer or promised "Playlette," arrange to have a substitute, understudy or another full caste "Playlette" for emergency. This may seem a lot to expect from amateurs but as they, as a rule, have ample time to prepare, it is not only to their benefit to do so but to the benefit of the cause for which they are working.

Thanking you in advance for your time and trusting that these suggestions will meet with the desired effect.

I am, yours truly,
"STEADY PATRON."

And the Worst is Yet to ComeTeachers and the Flag.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—Kindly allow me space in your columns for these few remarks.

Some time ago there appeared in the Daily News an article written by one who signs himself by the comic name "Billy". In it he said that a teacher had volunteered and it would be well for other teachers to follow his example. I think it unfair to the teaching profession that this should pass by unnoticed.

As everyone knows, teachers were among the first to volunteer, and as a result a number of schools suffered. Some of them were without teachers and others were taken in charge by teachers of a lower grade than was there before the outbreak of this war.

One in seven of the male teachers of this country have enlisted besides those who were "turned down" as physically unfit. This has been considered by one of our eminent men as a creditable showing.

Can this person be wise in singling out the teachers when the members of the profession have done so well?

Besides all this, others intended to volunteer, but on being asked by the Superintendent to remain at their posts a bit longer, have remained doing their duty in the humblest post.

I may enlighten and possibly educate this person if I would give what the late Lord Kitchener said on the matter. When asked by a correspondent what a teacher should do in the difficult choice, he replied: "Those teachers and those only who can be spared without impairing the work in our schools and the training of O. T. C. contingents should join the military forces of the Crown." Surely, if all the male teachers of military age should join the forces the work of our schools would be impaired. Therefore this person's idea is different from the late Lord Kitchener's, and whose is right?

I hope it will be seen that teachers on the whole have done their duty at home and abroad.
