CAUSED BY A CHILD
Gas Explosion Wrecks the Home and Two Little Girls Are Killed.

Bluffton, Ind., March 13.—A girl of 4 years caused a gas explosion here yesterday that wrecked a house and cost the life of the girl and that of her 2-year-old sister, and the injuring of her mother, Mrs. William H. Hutton. The young girls were playing in an adjoining room, when the elder pulled the gas connector from the stove and the gas filled the room, ignited and exploded. Mrs. Hutton, who rushed into the room, was burned herself so severely that there are no hopes for recovery. The child died shortly after. Only the skull of the younger child was found.

MR. GARROW UNSEATED.

HAS LAST GUN BEEN FIRED?

That Pleasing Hope Causing Joy to the People of Pretoria.

Awaiting Dewet to Settle Surrender—Britain Said to Have Modified the Terms—High Praise for a Canadian.

New York, March 13.—A special dispatch from Pretoria says: Pending the arrival of Gen. Dewet, a general armistice has been declared. Gen. Botha has been in conference with Gen. Kitchener and Sir Alfred Milner for several days, and all three desire to consult Dewet.

Dewet is hurrying north through the Orange River Colony in obedience to Botha's summons. He passed Brandfort last night. On his arrival a conference will be held near here. There is joy today in the hope that the last gun has been fired in the Boer war.

MODIFIED TERMS.
London, March 13.—The Daily News (Liberal) this morning makes this important statement: "We understand that the government have greatly modified the unconditional surrender policy. We believe Lord Kitchener has been authorized to offer amnesty to both the Boers and the Boer leaders, except where treachery is clearly proved. Cape rebels only are to be punished by disfranchisement."

KITCHENER'S DISPATCH.
London, March 12.—A dispatch from Gen. Kitchener, dated Pretoria, March 12, says Gen. Dewet is north of Brandfort, Orange River Colony.

Continuous rains have interfered with the movements of the troops in Cape Colony.

Two bands of Boers are being hunted among the hills by troops under Goring, De Lisle, Grenfell and Henniker.

CLEARED THE COUNTRY.
Bloemfontein, March 11.—Col. Pritchard's column has cleared the country of Boers between this place and the Orange River. The column has arrived here, bringing in 33 prisoners and 3,000 horses.

RECENT CASUALTIES.
London, March 12.—The war office prints a list of casualties in South Africa recently, which shows that a captain of Kitchener's Scouts was killed and four men of the same command were badly wounded in a fight on March 8 at Stellenbosch Vlei.

SCOUTS DISCOVER THE GUNS.
Standerton, March 12.—The advance of Gen. French's troops has been very much hampered by heavy rains, the greatest difficulty has been found in getting the British convoys across the streams. It was during a delay in getting our convoys across one of the swollen rivers that the British scouts made a fortunate discovery. They hit upon the very spot where the Boer treacherers Boers had buried their ordnance. With very little trouble a Krupp gun and a Maxim were quickly unearthed, as well as a huge quantity of excellent ammunition, suitable for the guns that had been discovered.

PRIZE FOR A CANADIAN.
London, March 12.—Jennett Burleigh catches the Daily Telegraph, Capt. Nanton, of the Canadian Royal Engineers, with armored trains, has protected 21 trains over a stretch of 70 miles so well that the enemy have not captured a single train with stores. Norman Nanton, in fact, is the Capt. Kettle of armored trains.

but after their election they refused to carry out the law; so what course was there for Mrs. Nation to adopt? Taking up the question whether the act of Mrs. Nation was one of lawlessness, Mr. Birks said it was not, as the liquor business was illegal in the state, and the saloons had no right to exist. It might as well be said that the speaker would be committing an act of lawlessness if he went into a counterfeiters' den and smashed the dies and other apparatus used in the manufacture of unlawful money.

When all other means failed, Mrs. Nation took the law in her own hands and destroyed the outlawed property. The property had no claim to protection under the laws of the state. Mrs. Nation's action is not only justifiable but it is commendable.

WHAT LONDONERS MAY DO (?)
I believe the time is coming and is not far distant when you and I shall have to take, not the same, but very different aggressive action to put into execution the liquor laws of our country. It is a notorious fact that in London there are no laws so universally transgressed as the liquor laws. A young man informed me that he did not believe there was one hotel where liquor is not sold during prohibited hours. Where are our police inspectors? Where are our policemen, and the other men who are supposed to enforce the law?

"They say we cannot prove such cases," added the speaker. "It is right. We cannot prove such cases because the law has made it almost impossible to prove the offense in a court of law. It was possible in court, in a majority of cases the judge or magistrate would hear abuse upon the individual who would swear in his own defense. We would doubtfully dub him a whisky informant. The only way for us to do is to take hold of the matter with a strong, united hand, and be resolved that no matter how comes or goes we are going to have legislators in the parliamentary halls who will give us laws we desire, and we are going to have officers of the crown who will see that the laws are rigorously and righteously executed."

"I do believe that if years ago we had taken some strong stand and action in regard to the enforcement of the liquor laws, we would not be in the position we are in now. We would not be charged with the non-enforcement of the act. It beats me to see any law more lightly enforced than the present temperance law. How are we going to attain to the stage where the thing is going to be outlawed? The liquor traffic is legalized here, and it seems to me that the first thing necessary is to get that right. We have been working hard for it, but it seems to me that we are a little farther away than we were ten years ago."

SOMEONE TO BLAME.
"I will tell you that I blame our temperance officers for it. I blame our Dominion Alliance that we have got more temperance legislation. It is trained too much to party in connection with our affairs. We never get prohibition by any other means than party politics. Some think the opposite to that. That is the way for prohibition. The Reform party did not do all they were asked to do by the temperance people and they were turned out and the other party of which it has oft been said that they would never be expected to do much in the way of temperance legislation—has given to Manitoba more advanced temperance legislation than is enjoyed by any other province in the whole Dominion. There is no use of saying anything about one party taking it up. Neither will ever take it up until the prohibition people make them. I do not care which party takes temperance people we do not get from either party what we want. We can unite upon a solid basis and demand

THE TEETH...

Man is provided with two sets of teeth—one for service during childhood, called temporary teeth; the other designed for life service, and called permanent teeth. The temporary teeth are twenty in number; the second, or permanent teeth, thirty-two in number.

"The most common trouble affecting the teeth is known as 'decay,' caused by the fermentation and decomposition of food allowed to remain between the teeth.

Odontine (C. & L.) is unsurpassed for its antiseptic qualities, and will absolutely prevent and arrest decay. It keeps the teeth perfectly white, the breath sweet and the gums healthy. See that you get the genuine Odontine, which bears the name CAIRNCROSS & LAWRENCE.

it. The liquor interests get what they want because they unite and give their votes to the party which favors them the most.

BALLOTS, BULLETS, OR BOTH.
"This fight for right is going to be the worst fight the country ever saw. It is going to be a battle of ballots, or bullets, or both. I believe the liberty of every subject in the Dominion of Canada from the curse of the liquor traffic will only be obtained by our taking just as decided measures as have been taken elsewhere to secure reforms."

Mr. Birks declared that he had buried party years ago. The people should be temperance before party, and if they were they would get what they desired. It might develop into a case of fighting fire with fire.

Mrs. Thornley, who occupied the chair, said that she thought at first that Mrs. Nation was acting wrongly, but she had since changed her mind. There was no further discussion on the subject.

Happenings of the Hour.

FINED FOR SPANKING HIS WIFE.
Akron, Ohio, March 11.—Jas. Brown paid $5 and costs this morning in the police court for spanking his wife. He said he had spent half an hour or more trying to get her out of bed. It was getting time to start for work and there was no breakfast in sight. According to the testimony, Brown finally dragged his wife from bed, but she went back again. He pulled her out and laid her across his knee. She says that she used a hair brush, but he denies this, and says that he used his bare hand. Brown paid his fine and left court with his wife. She said that she brought the proceedings as a test case.

WHIT AGAINST BICYCLE TRUST.
Windsor, March 12.—A writ has been issued by Murphy, Sale & O'Connor, barristers, of Windsor, which will show up the workings of the bicycle trust in Canada. F. S. Evans, of Windsor, is the plaintiff in the action, and he alleges, in his statement of claim, that he has been badly used by the promoters of the trust, and asks for heavy damages.
