

STRIVING FOR A NAME

"Well, then, forget, if you can, that I have done so," Dr. Ashton said, smiling, but with a face as white as his collar, for he could ill brook being thwarted in any object.

"I shall be very glad to forget it, and I hope you will never refer to the subject again," Alice replied.

"You may trust me; I never will," he said, between his tightly-locked teeth, and then, turning his horse abruptly around, without so much as asking his companion if she were ready to go home, he proceeded to retrace their way.

The ride back to the city was a miserable one, although Alice tried to converse upon different subjects, and to ignore the unpleasant episode of the morning, and both were truly thankful when it was at an end and Topsy drew up before Mrs. Sherman's door.

"Good-by, Uncle John," Alice tried to say naturally, as she ran up the steps. "Small you go to the lecture at Cooper Institute this evening?"

"No; I have another engagement," he replied, as he sprang back into his carriage, from which he had assisted her to alight.

He cut his horse sharply with the whip—a thing very unusual for him to do, for if John Ashton loved any being in the world more than himself, it was his horse, and he was as kind and gentle as a lamb, and as the carriage started, he went tearing down the street at a dangerous pace, he gave savage utterance to the one word: "Fool!"

CHAPTER XVII.

John Ashton's disappointment and chagrin over his failure to carry out his plan to marry Alice Sherman and her fortune were greater than he had ever before experienced over anything.

But if he could not carry his point in this way, he was determined to do so in some other plan, and believing that "discretion is the better part of valor," he went on in the ordinary way, and treated Alice with the same friendly regard that he had always manifested previous to his declaration of love.

It was a great relief to Alice, for his proposal had filled her with dismay, and she longed to run away and hide herself from his sight forever.

At first she was somewhat shy of him, and avoided him as much as possible; but gradually this feeling passed away, and their relations resumed their usual course.

Mrs. Sherman never knew anything about the affair, for Alice was too sensitive to speak of it, and Dr. Ashton was far too proud to confess that he had failed in all his boasted plans.

For a little while she was very anxious about the matter, for she was confident that Alice would be happy as his wife, but as time went on and he said nothing more of his intentions, and did not appear to be any longer a step-daughter, she finally concluded that he had renounced his scheme.

The winter proved to be a very gay one, and it was the girls' first winter in society, and as they were much sought after by those who were in the habit of entertaining.

Usually they had the appearance of being the best of friends when in company, but at home they were as cold as ice, and Alice had a great deal to say about it.

MR. CHARLES S. HYMAN, M.P., DONATES CHAMPIONSHIP CUP

The St. John's Athletic Club Will Put Out Crack Team.

Last Day's Results at the Benning's Meet—Santry vs. Ryan.

QUOTING.

THE NEW HYMAN CUP.

On Saturday Mr. C. S. Hyman, M. P., made known to representatives of the London Quotting Club his intention to donate a handsome and valuable cup to be played for annually by the quotters of Canada. The cup will be officially known as the Dominion Championship Cup. The conditions governing the cup have been sent to the Dominion Quotting Association for arrangement.

HOCKEY.

ST. JOHN'S A. C. PLANS.

It is the intention of the St. John's Athletic Club to maintain three teams, possibly four, on the ice during the coming season. This crack team will be composed of their seven very best players, and will be managed by Mr. Harry Peel. Efforts will be put forth to make it as fast as any in the country. The other teams will be composed of less minor organizations. One of them will be left to look after the City League championship cup, which the club won last winter.

The Junior City League Cup will be either one or two teams. All the games played in London will be pulled off at the Princess Rink. The idea at present is not to enter the crack team in any league, but simply to play it in fast exhibition games with league teams in the surrounding towns.

W. O. H. A. ANNUAL MEETING.

Berlin, Ont., Nov. 25.—The Western Ontario Hockey Association held its annual meeting this afternoon at the Walpole House. Eight clubs were represented and delegates from a number of other towns who will have teams in the league were also present. W. M. Doherty, of Guelph, presided. The delegates were: Berlin, seniors and intermediates, George D. Lacourse and H. and D. Weller; Waterloo, seniors and intermediates, George A. Bruce and W. P. Raynor; Guelph, seniors and intermediates, Norman Irving and F. P. Burnett; J. Rutledge; Preston, intermediates, J. S. H. and J. D. Darnley. The outlook is most encouraging, and when the schedule is drawn up 12 or 13 teams will comprise a compact league. The election of officers resulted as follows: Honorary president, A. H. G. Luxton, Milton; president, H. E. Wetherlauff, Berlin; vice-president, C. Campbell, Guelph; secretary, W. Doherty, Guelph; treasurer, Salen Lutz, Berlin. The executive will consist of the officers and a representative of each club. Executive committee: H. E. Wetherlauff, president; C. Campbell, vice-president; W. Doherty, secretary; Salen Lutz, treasurer. Mr. H. E. Wetherlauff, president, said he was going south for the winter for his health and could not attend. His successor is one of the best known hockey men in Western Canada.

UNPROTESTED NOTES.

Campbellford will not likely have a team in the O. H. A. this year, owing to the fact that their rink building committee has not yet secured a site for the rink. The Campbellford team of last season was composed of a swift lot of players, and it will be regretted that they will not be in the O. H. A. this coming winter.

Mr. H. G. Morrison, captain of last year's Galt hockey team, received a telegram Friday night, announcing his promotion from the Merchants' Bank to the bank's branch at Winnipeg.

FUTURITY STAKES FOR 1905.

New York, Nov. 30.—The conditions for the Futurity stakes of 1905, to close on Jan. 5, 1905, have been announced by the Coney Island Jockey Club. The added money for the race, as in the past seasons for 1903 and 1904, is $10,000, the estimated value being $75,000, of which sum $23,750 will go to the breeders who make nominations. The first subscriptions is $20, or only $10 if the mare nominated, the entry of subscriptions being $50 if the mare is not struck out by Nov. 1, 1904, or $100 if not struck out by July 5, 1905. Starters are to pay $250 additional. The arrangements of weights, with penalties and allowances, are similar to the conditions of the race in the past.

BURNS REINSTATED.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 29.—Fred Hanlon, who was at the Benning's track today, confirmed the report that the Jockey Club has removed the ban from Jockeys Bullman and Burns and that they are once more in good standing. Burns has been frequent that this action had been taken, but as no report of the meeting was sent out they could never be confirmed.

Burns and Bullman had their licenses taken away during the fall meeting at Gravesend on the charge of disobedience at the post and for rough riding. The suspension caused no little sensation at the time, as Bullman was under contract to August Belmont.

Chairman of the Jockey Club, Mr. Burns was riding for William C. Whitney. The rumor that there was more behind the action of the officials than was shown in the report of the case was denied by those in a position to know. Mr. Whitney re-engaged Burns for next year and Bullman affixed his signature to a liberal contract with John W. Schorr. They are both in San Francisco, where they will ride during the meeting, now that they have been restored to favor.

CHAMPION AMERICAN JOCKEY. Paris, Nov. 28.—The American jockey, Johnny Rief, heads the list of winning mounts in 1902, with a total of 110 victories. Henry Cloutier comes second with 94, Rigby sixth with 54, and Thompson takes seventh place with 43.

THE RING.

SANTRY VS. RYAN AT TORONTO. Toronto, Nov. 29.—"Eddie" Santry, of Chicago, and "Billy" Ryan, of Syracuse, faced each other tonight at the Mutual street rink in the main bout of the Crescent Club's closing show of the season. It was a good twenty minutes before the fight began, as the referee, Mr. Ryan, was slow to get into the ring.

Santry was a right-handed jab in the stomach. Ryan played to win from the beginning and had clearly the best of the bout all through. It was one of the cleverest bouts witnessed here this season.

GLOVE CONTESTS IN KENTUCKY. Louisville, Ky., Nov. 29.—Judge Sterling B. Toney, from the State of appeal, handed down a decision this morning holding that glove contests in Kentucky cannot be enjoined.

O'BRIEN'S WORK. Reverting to the original proposition attention is called to the fact that since April 1 O'Brien has fought no less than thirty battles. While other boxers have been wrangling over articles of agreement, O'Brien has been calmly and profitably the brief period of a boxer's good days. It is estimated that these thirty battles have netted O'Brien about $21,000.

He is now resting on his laurels, as he has bouts with Charlie Hagney, Choyinski and Marvin Hart scheduled for the present month, and may also close his career with a bout with the champion, Jim Braddock. He is now considering three times in nine months, and may box thirty-five times in a record of which a ring artist may well feel verses to drop a boxer from the money-making list.

It takes but a few reverses to drop a boxer from the money-making list. These may come to O'Brien when he is forced to drop the close thirty-five times in a record of which a ring artist may well feel verses to drop a boxer from the money-making list.

In olden times a scrimmage was a thing of heavy blows; W. landed sturdy upon. The neck or chest or nose. But fists have gone quite out of style—Today they have no show. Tripphammers do the slugging, Tom, Since twenty years ago.

Our vain attempts to break the line Today I have recalled. I saw the modern method, and Confess I stood appalled. They had a sunken mine prepared. The other line to blow Into the sky—was overlooked. Just twenty years ago.

I saw them face each other—then They drove the full-back in the ground. And something must be done. They had a sunken mine prepared. The other line to blow Into the sky—was overlooked. Just twenty years ago.
