nteresting Lecture at Wesley Hall by Mr. J. L. Hughes, Toronto.

Mr. J. L. Hughes, of Toronto, inspector of schools for that city, gave a very interesting lecture on "The Bad Boy," in Wesley Hall last night. "It is a mistake to think all boys The floor being cleared, the bugle sounded and shortly there appeared a do for all," Mr. Hughes said. "God did dead, quiet boy who is looked upon as The boy who keeps the good boy. away from evil rather than one who goes towards good - defect dodgers. Don't make a stopper out of him. Some boys are bad by heredity; they are tainted by somebody; God, there is none that cannot be overgrown, overthrown or corrected. Ninety per cent of the bad boys need a doctor. Something is the matter with their liver, with their digestion. The physical, intellectual and spiritual elements in the boys must be in harmony. When a piano is out of order, it will receive no good by being shouted at, or shaken. It must be tuned. Some boys get too much to eat, and some too little. If the body be properly balanced, the mind must be. If the body is strong it is a servant: if weak, it is a master. When the boy starts working, do not stop him, let him go on working in his own

'And if you treat the boy fairly and decently," concluded the inspector, "he will act toward you in accordance with his treatment.' During the evening the chair was occupied by Rev. George Bishop, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and at the close, the reverend gentleman Vice-Principal Dearness of the Normal School, and others tendered him warm words of thanks. Previous to the lecture, a short musical programme was carried out as follows: "Daffecils are Blowing" (German), was sweetly sung by Miss Rowntree, and Miss Fowler artistically rendered "The Swallows" (Cowan).
