COMPETITION FOR THE BARRON MEDAL

Programme at Conservatory of Music.

One of the largest and most fashionable gatherings of London's musicbled at the Auditorium last evening to listen to the closing exercises of the post-graduates nd to witness the competition for the Barron gold medal. The rendition of the E Flat Concerto by Liszt was something which was beyond even the most sanguine hopes of many of the artistic people in the udience. The demands of this concerto are such as tax the utmost capacity of many of the greatest pianists of the day, and in fact, all the other numbers that Miss MacLennan played showed a splendid breadth of intellectual temperament which is unusual in the playing of young ladies.

Miss Gertrude Huntley has one those versatile natures that easily transports itself from the delicate, dreamlike fancy of a Chopin to the more robust and wild, gypsy temperament of a Hungarian Liszt. It is difficult to say to what heights of possibility of perfection this young lady will yet attain. She is richly endowed by nature, and the hope is that she will still strive for greater things. At the close of the post-graduates' recital, Rev. W. J. Clark occupied the chair, and with a short introductory announcement began the competition for the Barron gold medal. The Heintzman & Co. scholarship of $50 having been been gained by Miss Courtice, who received the greatest number of marks from Mr. Jonas, the great pianist, who examined the pupils could not be competed for, as heretofore. Miss Courtice was the first to appear. She was extremely nervous in her first number, which made it lack what clouding the interpretation. How-fund. ever, in the Rhapsodie No. 4 her nervousness quite dissappeared, and she thorough grasp of the subject in hand. Miss O'Mara's first number consisted of the Fantaisie of Chopin. Her rendition of this work was a revelation, both in intellectual strength and in delicate tone coloring. It is seldom that one hears this work played in

The judges, Messrs. F. E. Corrison, Thomas Mitcheltree and George Phelps, retired to deliberate over the work of the contestants. After prolonged discussion, the decision was made in favor of Miss Courtice. It is came up to the expectation of those tertained for his recovery. who were not judging, in almost every respect.

The competition over, Mr. Clark, in a few happy remarks, presented the medal and scholarship to the winner, Miss Courtice. Each youn lady received numerous bouquets of roses, which were presented by Misses Agnes Barron and Alta McDonald.

—The Rev. Thomas S. Linscott, of Brantford, Ont., has received the degree of doctor of divinity from the Ohio Northern University, of Ada, Ohio. Dr. Linscott was at one time enrolled as a student of that institution. The Ohio Northern is one of the largest universities in Ohio, having an annual enrollment of more than Barron and Alta McDonald.

During the evening, Mr. Gelinas, the young baritone, gave four songs with excellent style and finish. He has a remarkably good voice, well trained and combined with a wealth of terms.

No furnace drudgery in the Bison

The most exasperating mystery a man can have is a cranky furnace. The dirt and soot, the ash sifting and draft worry of many heaters, make life a burden. With the new "Bison" hot water heater, there are no worries. Its drafts are so simple a child can understand them, the shaking down apparatus is operated with the slightest effort, shaking down and sifting in one operation. It is a clean, simple, economical heater, perfectly safe, as it burns its own gas no matter how the drafts are set. Write to H. R. IVES Co., Limited, Montreal, for an interesting
