Time Will Tell If Clock Will Tell Time

MORE hours have been saved by the town clock in the tower of the Customs House Building during the last few months than by any system of daylight saving yet invented. With this noble timepiece it is forever 6 o'clock; or at east, it has been 6 o'clock for the past few months.

Though not wound up the Customs House clock has, seems, wound up its days of active service. No one about the Customs House appears to know whether or not the clock will ever be repaired. They say: "Time will tell; but meanwhile our clock will not tell the time.
