

Tecs Outhit But Win Fourth; Flint Drops to Third Rung

McCallum Allowed Seven Hits, But Support Is Good—Tecs Display Hitting When Needed and Good Base-Running.

The Tecs ran their win streak up to four (one, two, three, four) yesterday, taking the first of the series from Flint by 3 to 1. The Tecs incidentally soaked the odds for the victory, who dropped down to third place.

Varying their sudden sharp hit attack, which was their ladder out of the damp and gloom of the cellar, they displayed thrash in their work yesterday, took advantage of every little favor, were delicately attuned to the barely audible knocks of Old Man Opportunity, and the fact that the game outfit wasn't relevant to the result.

Lefty McCallum was touched for seven hits, while Jackson was nipped for but four, but the London supporting cast was cost-iron when it came to penetration. McCallum himself showed quite an eel-like turn when it came to the tight places. Only twice did the Flint have a real legitimate chance to score, but John Schaefer's good peg for a double-play killed off one hope in the second, after the Tecs had scored their lone tally, and McCallum himself eased out of a position which pinched a bit at the time.

Two of London's runs came through walks, the needful hit producing the second run of the game, a neat bit of base-running on the part of Stimpson and Gettle, Stimpson stealing home, counting in the second, after the Tecs had scored their lone tally, and McCallum himself eased out of a position which pinched a bit at the time.

A large crowd turned out yesterday, and it is believed that the Tecs will draw something like their usual gate Saturday, if they keep up this going. Barbelon, the new third sacker from Chicago, only had one chance in the field, and while he didn't break into the scanty hit column, he took a healthy cut at the ball and showed a fine turn of speed on the runways.
