SAYONA.
(From the Kamloops Sentinel.)
A fatal accident occurred on Sunday to the family of A. B. Ferguson, of the View House, Sayona. Mrs. Ferguson and five children, the youngest a babe, and Mrs. McKinley (Mrs. Ferguson's mother-in-law) were taking a pleasure ride up the hill eastward, to Mr. Hugh's, with a light wagon. They had driven six miles, when a bolt came out of the singletrees. The brake got off, and would not hold the wheels, and the wagon, becoming excited, ran over the upsetting the wagon and throwing Mrs. McKinley out into a rocky gulch. Mrs. Ferguson had her arm broken, and wrist sprained, with other not serious injuries. The children received only slight bruises, the youngest none whatever. Mrs. McKinley suffered a compound fracture of the right thigh, and other very serious injuries. Mr. Ferguson immediately ordered Dr. Tunstall from Kamloops, reached Sayona before he got his horse. Dr. Lambert arrived on Sunday from the west. Mrs. McKinley had the leg amputated, and her wrist regarded. Everything was done for her that medical skill could suggest, but she was so great an age, of 67, and the injury so severe, that she never recovered, dying on Thursday, at p.m.

GOLDEN.
(From the Era.)
A great deal of development is likely to place in the mines in the Forky Steele E. Y. Askwith returned from the McLeod district early this week, bringing a specimen, said to contain very good gold. Mr. McKee and his brother returned on Saturday with good specimens of yellow copper ore. Colquhoun, representing the Cass-Columbia, of Glasgow, Scotland, has returned, and will endeavor to test the merits of the McArthur process method of acting gold and silver. W. McVittie returned from the upper strata, on Sunday. The company which organized in London, England, will, as early as possible, commence work on the Wild ge diggings.

KAMLOOPS.
(From the Sentinel.)
The North Thompson party returned on Monday evening, having taken a week for a trip. Mr. J. W. Sutherland, real estate and mining broker, of Fairhaven, B.C., reports that the mines at Mosquito make a very promising showing for the work done on them. The entire valley of North river is a fine country both for agriculture and stock raising. Oliver Redpath came in Thursday morning from the cinabar claim, on Copper Hill. A deal is going on between him and Mr. Sutherland, mining broker, of Fairhaven. Major Vaughn, who has returned from his plans for systematic work developing the coal fields at Guerin's. He will increase the number of shafts and will increase the output and suitable can be secured. J. Shaw, of Salmon Arm, reports that crops as far out as Hall's ranch are promising, and they are very good in the dry valley. Farmers are shipping large quantities of vegetables, especially potatoes and cabbage, by express and freight along a railway as far east as Calgary.

FISH CREEK.
(From the Kootenay Star.)
The King Solomon is looking well, and several other claims look as if they would break front rank shortly. There are nearly 200 men working at Fish Creek. The bridge over the creek, recently erected by the Government, has been much noted. There will be no fear of it ever being washed away. It crosses the stream at a high water mark, and is a fine piece of work. The Duvagan is looking well, and is further advanced in development than the other claims. It is owned by Messrs. Fishburne, Fowler, Boyd, McCrea and others. Some ore from this claim sent through the Revelstoke smelter last summer, with excellent results.

ANOTHER INJUNCTION.
This Time to Prevent Payment of a Bill for Vancouver Officials' Trip to Victoria.
(Special to the Colonist.)
VANCOUVER, Aug. 12.—An injunction has been issued by Mr. Justice McCrea to restrain the city from paying $400 to the Ocean Steamship Company for the trip of the Comox to Victoria with the city officials. T. M. Spinks is the mover in the suit. The City Council to-night refused to allow the bill to pass, and the officials and their families to be put in the hospital on Deadman's Island.

Joe Chamberlain Severely Scores Tim Healy—The "Grand Old Man" Confident.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The House was packed when Parliament assembled this afternoon. Every seat was taken, and crowds were standing on the floor and in the gangways. Among the distinguished spectators were the Earl of Cadogan, Lord Knutsford, the Prince of Teck, the Duke of Devonshire, Prince Balfour, the German Ambassador, Minister Lincoln and other members of the diplomatic corps.

When Right Hon. Mr. Gladstone entered, he was cheered enthusiastically. Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, who wore an arch in addition to his usual garb, was also cheered as he went to his seat, and more or less applause greeted each notable member of the Government. The Conservatives generally good humored. The Liberals looking reconciled to defeat, and the Home Rulers, happy over their victory.

The Right Hon. Sir James Lowther stated, in reply to a question, that the document torn up by Sir Charles Euan Smith, British Minister at Morocco, in presence of the Sultan, was the draft of a treaty which the Sultan desired to have signed.

Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain arose to speak on the motion of "no confidence." Mr. Alpheus C. Morton, Liberal, of Peterborough, objected to Mr. Chamberlain being allowed to speak on the ground that he had only spoken the words of a minister.

The Speaker overruled the objection, whereupon Mr. Chamberlain proceeded with his remarks. He bitterly commented on the tactics employed to prevent him from speaking, and said that it was an early sample of the petty and malignant treatment to be meted out to the Liberal Unionist. Mr. Gladstone had been clearly answered; the Irish members were treated in a similar manner, but the remarks by the Unionists were regarded as irrelevant and impudent.

Mr. Chamberlain launched out against the incoming Government with respect to policy and the composition of the incoming Government were unknown. Foreign troubles were looming up in Italy and Egypt, and if ever a foreign policy was needed, that would come for the respect of the world, it was now. He trusted that Lord Rosebery would be called to the Foreign Office. The people trusted Lord Rosebery because his views were utterly opposed to the views of Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Morley.

Difficulties in the Way of the Administration—Irish Issues Most Embarrassing.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The members of the Cabinet met at noon, and formally agreed to resign. At 5 o'clock, this afternoon, Lord Salisbury left on a special train for Portsmouth, whence he will embark for the Isle of Wight. His destination is Osborne House, where he will tender to the Queen his resignation of the Conservative Ministry.

The greatest interest exhibited in the formation of the new cabinet, it is believed, is Sir Charles Russell, who is to be Attorney-General, and it is now admitted on nearly all sides, although the Telegraph is of a contrary opinion, that Lord Rosebery will take charge of Foreign Affairs.
