The Contest For the Cumberland Cup. The following is the result of the competition etween the companies of the Royal Grenadie

No. 91 Assembly.

It is not generally known that the younger members of Typographical Union No. 91 hold a fortnightly assembly in Victoria Hall, Queen street east, the object being to raise a fund for the purpose of inviting the LT.U. to hold its session in this city in 1894. They have already had two very pleasant and successful reutions—the third will take place this Saturday evening, the 17th inst., which it is confidently expected will be a grand success. The committee of management fisclude the following: R. G. Stewart, George G. Devlin, W. S. Hambly, A. Pudsey, James Coulter, A. E. Hacker, Frederick Benson, Aifred Gautt, W. R. James, W. J. O'Loughlin. Special efforts are being made for New Year's Eve. Admission by ticket, which may be obtained from any of the committee.

Mathematical and Physical Society.
The last meeting of this society of the University of Toronto for the Michaelmas term was held in room 16 University College yesterday afternoon. The program consisted of an essay experiments and solution of problems. In a paper entitled "The Benefits of Mathematical Science to Humanity," Mr. G. V. McLean, '93, gave an account of the many debts owed by markind to mathematics. Messrs. J. E. Moore and J. M. Warren of '95 in a series of experiments illustrated the laws of reflection and refraction in optics. Mr. J. B. Reynolds gave a very neat solution of a problem brought before the society. The next meeting will be held in January, when Mr. A. T. DeLury, B.A., will read a paper on an interesting mathematical subject. Mathematical and Physical Society

The Children's Gift Enterpris Everybody steps to have a look at the children's Christmas toy store in King-street, where all gifts on the shelves are to go free of charge to the neglected little ones of the city on Christ mas Eve. The idea is a unique one and its originators are meeting with many encouraging expressions from citizens. Presents are being sent in promptly and it should be borne in mind that the committee will gladly receive the names, ages and addresses or any little children to whom a gift of this kind would be desirable. Mayor Fleming is acting as treasurer for this special fund and he ought to be enabled to present the society with at least $200 to help on with its good work. Ladies willing to assist in the distribution of the gifts to the homes of the children are asked to send in their names. Everybody steps to have a look at the chil
