With the efficiency of these as factors, and with the effectual use of them as means, education has nearly everything to do.

DOES EDUCATION PAY?

Some one asks, "Does education pay?", That is a question put by the citizen who pays the taxes? What does pay? What is worth while? What is life it self and the world worth to anybody? Nothing, except as they provide for and make for richness of experience. (What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own oul?" You may stick everything which he can desire around a man, and what would they be worth to him unless they helped to enrich his life, his experience. If you put flowers around a bilind man with no sense of smell, of what use or benefit would the flowers be to him? However, the presence of a bilind man does not abolish the beauty of fragrance of the flowers in your garden.

HOW TO GET RID OF ERUDGERY.

What are years of waiting and hardship and disappointment, and incessant toil to an inspired artist? What it cares the writer whose heart is in his work, for money or fame, compared with the joy of creation? What are long courses of seeming drudgery to the poor college student working his way through college, if his heart is aflame with desire for knowledge, and his soul athirst for wisdom? What does it matter how long a man work if his work, even humble, is a credit to him? In the production of the best work, the co-operation of heart and head is necessary. Its quantity as well as quality will be measured by the amount of love that is put into it.

'He loved labor for its own sake,' said Macaulay of Frederick the Great, if His exertions were such as were hard. If y to be expected from a human body or a a human soul.'—O. S. Marden in Success.

EXPOSED.

Three things Ruskin considered necessar to that happiness in work which is the right as well as the privege oi every human being: They (mand women) must be fit for it, they must not do too much of it, and sey must have a sense of success in ht—not a doubtful sense, such as needs some testimony of other people for its confirmation, but a sure sense, or, rather, knowledge, that so much work has been done well, and fruitfully done whatever the world may say or think about it.

No man is original, prolific or strong, unless his heart gives full consent to what he is doing, and he feels a glow of content and satisfaction in every day's well-done work.

If you are in love with your work, and dead in earnest in your efforts to do it as well as it can be done; if you are so enthusiastic about it that you fairly begrudge the time taken from it for your meals and recreation, you will never be bored by it; the drudgery which others feel, you will never how which others feel, you will never he bored ones. THE JUDGE HAD THE ADVANTAGE.

Judge Dickey is known as the hum-orist of the bench. His great delight is to watch for incongruous remarks of witnesses or lawyers and bring them out strongly in all their absurdity. He is never more pleased than when he can turn a joke on some one. It happened one day that a lawyer in an undefended divorce case was asking one of this contractions. of his witnesses improper questions. Finally Justice Dickey, disguising his voice, said: "I object," and then in his regular tone, said: "Objection sustained." The lawyer turned from the witness with a puzzled look on his

This seems to 'take hold' of the dirt better than anything else. Cleanse thus until the garment is thoroughly cleaned, which you will find hard work.

"Cornmeal very slightly dampened, and salt added, makes a very good cleaning mixture. Don't make it wet—just a few drops of water from the ends of your fingers worked into a saucer half'full of meal.

"Don't use meal on dark goods.

A SELF-DENYING OFFERING. Some young girls at a summer resort were giving a vaudeville performance for a local charity. A young man who thought himself facetious tossed upon the stage after one of the "turns," a boquet whose chief ingredent was a head of cabbage. The girl who received this offering of appreciation read the card that accompanied it, and advanced to the footlights.

"It gives me great pleasure," she said, "to know that Mr. Edward Morgan has enjoyed my performance. I gan has enjoyed my performance. I hoped that the audience might like it, but I never expected for a moment that Mr. Morgan would so far lose his head as to throw it upon the stage."
