

THE SUNBEAM

Vol. II.

MAY 7, 1881.

No. 9.

GOOD-NIGHT.

NURSI E is taking little Jack up to bed. See how wide open his eyes are; he does not look a bit sleepy yet, does he? After Nurse puts him in his little crib, he likes her to tell him a story before he goes to sleep. So she tells him nice little stories out of Mother Goose's Book, about Jack and Jill, Little Bo-peep, Red-Riding-hood, and many others. He knows some of the rhymes off by heart himself. Sometimes when Nurse is in the middle of a story she looks at him and finds him fast asleep. Little

GOOD-NIGHT.